M'Carthy Calls Subcommittee Huddle Today To Set Course

Senator Refuses To Cancel Talks, Try For Accord

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today he will call his Senate Investigations subcommittee together tomorrow and invite its members to decide whether they want to pass judgment on his bitter fight with the Army.

The meeting will be held behind closed doors, McCarthy announced, and there will be no witnesses called.

The Wisconsin senator rejected suggestions by two leading Republican colleagues that he cancel speaking engagements this week and let the controversy be brought to a quick showdown.

"There will be no hearing Wednesday, Thursday or Friday," McCarthy said. "I intend to continue speaking whenever there is an important message I believe ought to be brought to the public attention."

Army Charges Pressure

Up for subcommittee review is an Army charge that Roy Cohn, chief counsel of the group, high-pressured the Army in an attempt to get special privileges for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former member of the subcommittee staff, and McCarthy's countercharge, with ramifications, that the Army was using Schine as "a club" to discourage the subcommittee from pressing its probe of alleged Reds in the Army.

"Blackmail," McCarthy called it, and he declared he has "absolutely no intention "of suspending Cohn during the inquiry.

Tomorrow's meeting is a sort of "where - do - we - go - from - here" session, at which members of the subcommittee apparently will decide whether to conduct a full scale inquiry on their own or leave the job to another Senate body.

"Priority" For Row Urged

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP Senate leader, commented that while he can't tell other senators what to do he thought the row between McCarthy and the Army's civilian leadership deserves "priority over all matters."

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) took the same position, saying "a senator must never let public speaking engagements and things of a semi-private nature interfere" with his public duties. Dirksen is a member of the subcommittee.

McCarthy disclosed that Sen. Potter (R-Mich), another member, had formally asked that the subcommittee consider the whole question tomorrow. McCarthy said he would yield the chair to Sen. Mundt (R-SD) but would take an active part in this and any future hearings, reserving the right to question all witnesses.

Japanese Says Sailors Burned By Atomic Blast

TOKYO, Tuesday, March 16 (AP)—A Japanese sea captain said today that an atomic blast in the Bikini area March 1 showered "snow-white ashes" on his fishing boat for two hours, blistering the skin of all 23 men aboard.

"Three days later, we discovered our exposed skin turning reddish black and blistering," said Capt. Isao Tsutsui of the 100-ton Daigo Fukuryu Maru, in an interview with the newspaper Yomiuri.

"It was our first realization we are suffering from atomic radiation burns."

"Wondered" Into Test Area

One crewman was reported still in serious condition at a Tokyo hospital.

Tsutsui said his boat "accidentally wandered into the Bikini atomic test area, ignorant of the impending atomic tests."

About 3 a.m. March 1, Bikini time, (10 a. m. EST Feb. 28), Tsutsui said there was a brilliant orange-red flash on the horizon about 80 miles away.

"Seven minutes later, we heard a deafening explosion and then saw in the next instant a huge mushroom form shooting up in the distant sky," he said.

Ashes Shower Boat

"About 90 minutes after the blast, snow-white ashes began falling all around the ship. The ashes continued showering the ship for two hours."

Unaware of any danger of radioactivity, none of the crew made any effort to avoid the ashes. But when blisters appeared later "we became frightened and headed straight for home," Tsutsui recalled.

Gen. Ridgway Voices Concern Over 'New Look' Military Plan

Army May Be Made Too Weak To Meet Russian Menace

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway expressed "particular concern" to Congress today that the "new look" military plan might make the Army too weak to face up to Russia's evergrowing military might.

But Ridgway, the Army chief of staff, begged off from saying publicly whether he had recommended sharp cuts in the Army budget under the program. He conceded a reply to the question might be embarrassing.

The general appeared with other top military and civilian chiefs at a Senate Armed Services subcommittee hearing on the $37,600,000,000 military budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

First Official Protest

Ridgway voiced what seemed to be the first official protest from the Pentagon to the Eisenhower administration's "dynamic" long-range military program, based on more air power and fewer ground troops.

In a prepared statement, Ridgway said:

"Because of the increasing complexity of land warfare and the resultant greater battlefield demands upon the fighting man, the individual soldier, far from receding in importance, is emerging ever more clearly as the ultimate key to victory."

The advent of new weapons and greater emphasis on air power, Ridgway said, had only "given new meaning and wider scope to the dimensions of land warfare, without changing war's nature and basic objectives." The ultimate objective in war, he said, "is control of land and of people living on land."

Stevens Not Satisfied

Several of the Pentagon leaders presented prepared statements to the subcommittee but the only one read aloud was by Secretary of Defense Wilson.

Earlier Secretary of the Army Stevens said he was "not perfectly satisfied" with the reduced Army appropriations. He added: "I have no doubt of the Army being able to solve its problems."

McCarthy Will Be On Murrow Show

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—CBS commentator Edward R. Murrow agreed late today to Sen. Joseph McCarthy's suggestion that the senator appear on Murrow's show April 6.

McCarthy had notified Murrow he would be willing to appear either March 23 or April 6 on the CBS television show "See It Now," to reply to charges Murrow made against the Wisconsin Republican. McCarthy said he would prefer April 6.

In his acceptance McCarthy charged Murrow had in the past "consciously served the Communist cause."

Murrow's reply to McCarthy said that "I deny this utterly" and added:

"The record when it is finished will show who has served the Communist cause, you or I."

Defense Labels Schwable 'Hero' As Inquiry Ends

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Defense counsel for Col. Frank H. Schwable told a Marine court of inquiry today the flier who made a false confession of germ warfare under Communist pressure is entitled not only to exoneration but also a medal for bravery.

The 45-year-old Marine flier's legal advisers, one a Marine and the other a disabled ex-Marine, stoutly defended him as a valiant man who had held out to the limit of his endurance.

Broken In Body, Mind

Col. Paul D. Sherman and John Pratt told the special court of inquiry that Schwable signed the "confession" only after five months of Red Chinese brain washing had left him broken in body and mind. Schwable repudiated the "confession" immediately upon his release from 14 months in a war prison in Korea.

Sherman and Pratt told the court, composed of one admiral and three Marine generals, it was clear from all the evidence at hand that no man could withstand prolonged brain washing.

Society's only defense, they said, is to expose it as a diabolical propaganda weapon. So exposed, they said, it will lose its effect in the cold war for men's bodies, minds and souls.

Decision Month Away

When they had finished their summation, Maj. Gen. Harry D. Lonscott, court president, declared public sessions at an end. The court went into private session to review the mass of evidence and testimony.

The court will recommend secretly to Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., Marine Corps commandant, whether Schwable should be court-martialed or otherwise disciplined. Upon Shepherd's decision, not expected for perhaps a month, rests the future of Schwable and his co-pilot in Korea, Maj. Roy H. Bley.

Bley, captured with Schwable when their reconnaisance plane crashed in North Korea, has been named "an interested party." Bley has testified he resisted brain washing, threats of death and beating before signing a germ warfare confession after being told of Schwable's capitulation.

Motorist Given Stiff Sentence

BERLIN, Md., March 15 (AP)—Alton Moore, 32-year-old Negro identified as a motorist who pulled a knife on State's Attorney John L. Sanford after forcing four cars to the side of the road, drew an 18-month sentence and $300 in fines on traffic charges today.

Magistrate Granville Cropper fined Moore $200 and sentenced him to 12 months in the House of Correction for drunken driving and gave him a $100 fine and six-month sentence for operating a car without a license.

He suspended charges of reckless driving, speeding and driving in the wrong lane. Moore had pleaded guilty to all five.

Rebel Armies Smash French Base Defense

Paratroop Battalion Bolsters Stronghold; Planes Hit Vietminh

HANOI, Indochina, March 15 (AP)—French headquarters announced tonight that thousands of wildly screaming Communist-led Vietminh troops smashed through the northern defenses of Dien Bien Phu fortress at one point and were advancing toward the heart of the base.

The French said they killed 1,500 of the attackers before they gave up the northern defense hill position of the Dust Bowl fortress in northwest Indochina.

The biggest and most decisive battle of the Indochinese War is now being fought with thousands of Vietminh pressing steadily closer to the heart of the bastion intended to stop the southward march of rebel armies.

The French threw fresh tanks, troops and planes into the battle. They bolstered their stronghold, 175 miles west of Hanoi, with a battalion of paratroopers. They also sent planes almost 200 miles from the carrier Arromanches to bomb and strafe Vietminh artillery positions.

Reds Wage Frontal Battle

For the first time in the seven-year-old Indochinese fighting, the Vietminh rebels dropped their guerrilla and infiltration tactics to wage a frontal, full-scale Korea-type battle.

The Vietminh prepared infantry charges with heavy artillery fire. Then, the Red Chinese-advised and Red Chinese-trained rebel soldiers, blowing bugles and screaming wildly charged French barbed-wire defenses.

There is nothing to indicate any Red Chinese are actually participating in the fight, but it is clear the rebels are coached in the attacks by advisers behind their lines.

French Counterattack

The Vietminh, renewing their assaults after an artillery barrage today, first concentrated on a French defense position north of the fortress.

Attacking at 3 a.m., they fought their way into the southern part of the position by 5 a.m. The French immediately counterattacked, dispatching tanks from the fortress. Heavy fighting followed at this position and, the French say, "heavy losses" have been inflicted upon the Vietminh.

U. S. 'Retaliation' Defense Policy Worries Canada

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Canadian Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson served notice today that Canada and other Western Allies must be consulted fully before the United States makes any decision to "retaliate instantly" against an aggressor.

Asserting the dominion's close ties with the United States entitle it especially to "an appropriate share" in any decision which might involve a far-reaching atomic war, Pearson said:

"Indeed, such agreement, after consultation and discussion, is to put it bluntly, necessary if this policy of preventing aggression by immediate and overwhelming devastation is to work collectively."

Pearson spoke out in an address before a National Press Club luncheon on the eve of a high-level trade and economic conference with Secretary of State Dulles and top Eisenhower Cabinet officials.

The Canadian minister laid down his government's defense view in commenting on Dulles' Jan. 12 speech which first announced the new American defense policy of massive retaliation.

Oh, Well, Only $50 Million

79-year-old Jacob Adolph Blumn, looking at a map in Baltimore, claims he knows exactly where a treasure ship containing $50,000,000 worth of pirate gold, silver and jewels lies under 75 feet of water in the Pacific ocean. But he won't tell. He says he saw the pirate hoard dug up from three excavations on Cocos island, 300 miles off coast of South America, in 1897. "Sure I know where the ship sank," he says, "and I could go there today. But I won't. Why? Because that ship and that treasure represent man's greed for gold and jewels. Thousands of people were killed by the pirates in accumulating that great hoard, and more lives were seen lost in attempts to find the ship. I want no more killings, no more deaths. I will never tell . . ."

Air Force, Army Begin Rehearsal Of Arctic Defense

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The first test of defenses against capture of the huge and strategically vital Thule Air Base and other Arctic installations which Russia might seek to seize in a war is under way.

The Defense Department announced today that a joint Air Force-Army "Exercise Chill Wind," involving use of 850 paratroopers of the XVIII Airborne Corps and a score of the giant C124 trooper carrying planes would be conducted "this month" at Thule, on the northwest corner of Greenland.

Operation Under Way

Actually, it is understood, the operation already has started and will include in addition to defensive tests for Thule, several other Arctic bases. Among these are Sondrestrom, halfway down the Greenland west coast, and installations elsewhere.

The Thule test, only 900 miles from the North Pole, is the most northern locale for any American airborne maneuver ever held. Conditions at this time of year in northern Greenland are rigorous. The long Arctic night is beginning to end, but winter weather prevails, with sudden gales blowing at velocities of more than 100 miles an hour, temperatures far below zero and "white-outs" caused by windwhipped snow interfering with both troop and plane operations.

Simulated Attacks

The department said:

"The exercise will provide training under extreme arctic conditions. The airborne force will simulate attacks on several installations to give air base personnel practice in defense tactics.

"Part of the task force will attack an 'aggressor force' that will be presumed to have established a weather and radio outpost in the Thule Air Base defense area.

"Personnel assigned to Thule Air Base will assume the role of the 'aggressor force' and practice defensive tactics against the airborne infantrymen.

"Plans include an air drop of troops at Thule Air Base. However, local conditions will determine whether the troops will jump on the drop zone or be air-landed and moved into overland position."

Industrial Output Continues Decline

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board said today industrial production continued to decline in February, reaching a level 10.2 per cent beneath the peak of last July.

The reserve board's index of industrial production, based on average production from 1947 through 1949 as 100 declined 2 points to 123 in February, the board said.

This was 14 points, or 10.2 per cent less than the all-time industrial production high of 137 reached last May and repeated in July. It was 11 points or about 8 per cent under production in February a year ago.

Comment On Ike Speech Adheres To Party Lines

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Republicans generally praised President Eisenhower's defense of his tax policies tonight as forceful and convincing. Capitol Hill Democrats, however, described themselves as mainly unconvinced.

Comment on the President's prepared radio-TV address, in which he came out against Democratic income tax cut proposals, followed party lines to a greater degree than usual on Eisenhower pronouncements.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the Senate Finance Committee, who like the President opposes raising income tax exemptions at this time, said: "I think it was a very excellent talk."

House Republican Whip Arends of Illinois said: "It was a forceful speech, presenting the cold facts. The American people will support the President in his effort to make his country strong in all respects."

On the other side of the fence House Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas noted Eisenhower's mention of a seven billion dollar tax cut since his administration took office, and said that includes the five billion dollar cut which went into effect Jan. 1.

"I hope he is not taking credit for that," Rayburn said. "That reduction was ordered by a Democratic Congress before Mr. Eisenhower became president."

Eisenhower Says Politics Behind Move

President Declares Proposals Unsound, Unfair To Majority

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower blasted the Democrats' cut-the-income-tax proposals tonight as unsound, politically motivated and unfair to the great majority of taxpayers.

Declaring such cuts would be "a serious blow to your government," the President told a nationwide radio and television audience:

"In your interest I must and will oppose such an unsound tax proposal."

Speaking informally — with the aid of a prompting device — often smiling, at other times earnest, Eisenhower appealed for support of his own tax program, which includes what he called a "modest" reduction in the tax on income from corporation stock.

Bill Comes Up Wednesday

He centered his fire on Democratic moves, beginning with a bill that comes up in the House Wednesday, to raise income tax exemptions. House Democrats want an increase from $600 to $700. There is a movement among Senate Democrats to make even more of a taxpayer's income tax-free.

The President got technical help from his unpaid, part-time consultant, television producer Robert Montgomery, in this 15-minute address, in which he took occasion also to reproach the "professionally faint-hearted" for spreading depression talk.

Actually, Eisenhower declared, "The nation as a whole continues to be prosperous" despite unemployment in some places, and conditions "at this time do not call for an emergency program that would justify larger federal deficits and further inflation through large additional tax reductions."

Excise Cut Not Criticized

Surprising even some of his own staff members, the President made no criticism of last week's action by the House in cutting excise taxes by some 900 million dollars. He had opposed this cut and administration leaders have voiced hope the Senate would try to reduce it.

Eisenhower said he's as strong for cutting taxes "at the right time" as anybody, and he said his administration has slashed or is about to slash almost seven billion dollars from the national tax bill.

The Democrats disputed this. House Democratic Leader Rayburn, slated to make a formal reply on radio and TV tomorrow night, said five of the seven billions in tax reductions were voted by the Democrats before Eisenhower took office.

Plainly, the President was irked at those people he termed "professionally faint-hearted" — those who "have been arguing lately that we are on the very brink of economic disaster."

Ike Reaffirms Belief

There's politics involved here, too, Eisenhower said, and he reaffirmed what he told Congress a month ago — that the country can go from wartime to peacetime conditions "without serious economic trouble."

"Nothing has happened since to change my mind," said the President.

Eisenhower said his administration has done everything that can be done safely to reduce the cost of government. To make any large additional savings, he said, would mean "seriously weakening our national defense." And he added:

"The only other way to make more tax cuts now is to have bigger and bigger deficits and to

Byrnes Defends Treasury Chief

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Rep. Byrnes (R-Wis) denounced as "shoddy" today a Democratic congressman's suggestion that personal gain may be involved in Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey's advocating a corporation dividend tax cut.

Byrnes was replying to Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa), who asked in a House speech how much Humphrey would profit from an administration proposal to reduce the income tax on dividend payments starting this year.

"It is shoddy and small even to infer that a man of Secretary Humphrey's capability would make a recommendation which would have as its purpose his personal financial enhancement," Byrnes declared.

He and Eberharter are members of the Ways and Means Committee which reported out the tax bill coming before the House next Wednesday.

Harriman Predicts McCarthy "Fadeout"

BOISE, Idaho, March 15 (AP)—Averell Harriman said today that Sen. McCarthy is "at long last on the defensive" and predicted that the Wisconsin Republican would "fade out."

"He's been accusing the Democrats of being traitors and now he's going after President Eisenhower and the administration," Harriman told a news conference. "Pretty soon he'll be the only loyal man in the country. Before that happens, I think he'll fade out."

Elderly Bride Has Change Of Heart As Groom Seized

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—An elderly bride who has accused her husband of ending a one-day honeymoon by making off with $303,100 in cash and jewels had a change of heart when the couple was reunited today.

Mrs. Dyoll Prather Herman, 67, of Palm Beach, Fla., sought to withdraw her complaint against Percy William Herman, 49.

U. S. Commissioner Edward W. McDonald ordered the groom held in $10,000 bond, however, until the matter is checked with the U. S. Attorney's Office in Richmond, Va. where the complaint was filed.

Herman's attorney, Daniel Jacobson, arranged a reunion of the couple today. FBI agents also were on hand and Herman voluntarily surrendered to them for arraignment.

Atty. Jacobson said Herman had "good reasons" for what had happened since he left his bride in a motor court on March 5.

The attorney said the husband gave this account of events since the couple were married in Palm Beach:

Their expensive new convertible automobile was equipped with windows which automatically close at the first touch of rain. On the first day's drive this mechanism went out of order and the windows kept opening and closing.

Throughout the day, in which they drove for 20 hours, the husband took stimulants to keep him awake and calm his nerves. By the time they reached Fredericksburg he was in a highly nervous state.

The bride was left at the motor court while Herman sought to have the windows fixed. He went to three garages but all were closed.

Suddenly he felt he was being followed by another automobile. Thinking of the $243,500 in cash and $59,600 in jewelry still in the car, he just kept going.

He left the automobile in Paterson, N. J.,, and went on to New York, where he took a hotel room and slept for 48 hours. When he awoke he couldn't remember what had happened to his wife until he read news stories that she had filed a complaint with police.

Jacobson said Herman had left the money and jewelry intact in safe deposit boxes.

Youth Found Hanging From Tree Identified

SALISBURY, Md., March 15 (AP)—Ciy police have established the identity of an 18-year-old youth found hanging from the limb of a tree in a wooded area here Sunday.

Through military contacts, police were able to trace the movements of Thomas Omar Willis up to late Saturday night. The body was identified by the boy's stepfather, William Harrison of Easton. Meanwhile, efforts are still being made to contact the dead man's mother.

Police Chief William Chatham said the boy had apparently hanged himself with his own belt, which was found looped around his neck and the limb of the tree.

Puerto Rican Who Defied Probe Jailed

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—Puerto Rican nationalist party leader Juan Francisco Ortiz Medina today was sentenced to six months in prison for refusing to answer 12 questions before a federal grand jury.

Ortiz Medina, top official of the party in this country, is the second Nationalist leader to be sentenced for refusing to answer questions in the investigation of the shooting of five congressmen in Washington March 1 by Puerto Rican fanatics.

Last week Julio Pinto Gandia, leader of the New York branch of the party, was sentenced to six months.

New Navy Planes Designed To Take Off, Land Vertically

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The Navy made available today pictures of two freakish-looking new fighter planes designed to take off or land vertically.

They are the Convair XFY1, built by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., San Diego, and the XFV1, built by Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Burbank, Calif.

The craft are called "VTO" fighters, for the vertical takeoff characteristic. Photographs showed both:

1. Resting on their tails, in the position in which they would take off or land.

2. Resting horizontally, in the position they would assume in level flight.

Little information detail was given out about the strange craft. There was no indication either has yet flown.

Both are powered by turboprop engines—jet engines driving counterrotating propellers.

The Convair model has broad, bat-like delta wings, shaped like the Greek letter D. The cockpit dome gives it a humpbacked appearance in the horizontal position. With its rear end strengthened to accommodate small caster-wheel-type landing gear, it gives the impression of being tail-heavy.

The Lockheed model is shown in a conventional attitude which it assumes with auxiliary landing gear, as well as in the tail-down position. This plane reportedly can take off on the auxiliary gear, in the normal fashion. It would drop this gear on takeoff, and would land on its tail casters.

Sam Rayburn To Answer Ike

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—House Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas will give the Democrats' answer tomorrow night to President Eisenhower's tax message to the American people tonight.

Rayburn said the Democratic National Committee has arranged for 15 minutes of free television time at 9 p.m. (EST) Tuesday and has requested him to make the party's presentation.

The Dumont network announced it would carry Rayburn's talk.

In New York ABC and NBC said they would carry Rayburn's speech by recording over their radio networks at 10:15 p. m. (EST) tomorrow.

The two networks said no plans for TV coverage had been made yet.

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—An elderly bride who has accused her husband of ending a one-day honeymoon by making off with $303,100 in cash and jewels had a change of heart when the couple was reunited today.

Mrs. Dyoll Prather Herman, 67, of Palm Beach, Fla., sought to withdraw her complaint against Percy William Herman, 49.

U. S. Commissioner Edward W. McDonald ordered the groom held in $10,000 bond, however, until the matter is checked with the U. S. Attorney's Office in Richmond, Va. where the complaint was filed.

Herman's attorney, Daniel Jacobson, arranged a reunion of the couple today. FBI agents also were on hand and Herman voluntarily surrendered to them for arraignment.

Atty. Jacobson said Herman had "good reasons" for what had happened since he left his bride in a motor court on March 5.

The attorney said the husband gave this account of events since the couple were married in Palm Beach:

Their expensive new convertible automobile was equipped with windows which automatically close at the first touch of rain. On the first day's drive this mechanism went out of order and the windows kept opening and closing.

Throughout the day, in which they drove for 20 hours, the husband took stimulants to keep him awake and calm his nerves. By the time they reached Fredericksburg he was in a highly nervous state.

The bride was left at the motor court while Herman sought to have the windows fixed. He went to three garages but all were closed.

Suddenly he felt he was being followed by another automobile. Thinking of the $243,500 in cash and $59,600 in jewelry still in the car, he just kept going.

He left the automobile in Paterson, N. J.,, and went on to New York, where he took a hotel room and slept for 48 hours. When he awoke he couldn't remember what had happened to his wife until he read news stories that she had filed a complaint with police.

Jacobson said Herman had left the money and jewelry intact in safe deposit boxes.

McCarthy Will Be On Murrow Show

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—CBS commentator Edward R. Murrow agreed late today to Sen. Joseph McCarthy's suggestion that the senator appear on Murrow's show April 6.

McCarthy had notified Murrow he would be willing to appear either March 23 or April 6 on the CBS television show "See It Now," to reply to charges Murrow made against the Wisconsin Republican. McCarthy said he would prefer April 6.

In his acceptance McCarthy charged Murrow had in the past "consciously served the Communist cause."

Murrow's reply to McCarthy said that "I deny this utterly" and added:

"The record when it is finished will show who has served the Communist cause, you or I."

Defense Labels Schwable 'Hero' As Inquiry Ends

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Defense counsel for Col. Frank H. Schwable told a Marine court of inquiry today the flier who made a false confession of germ warfare under Communist pressure is entitled not only to exoneration but also a medal for bravery.

The 45-year-old Marine flier's legal advisers, one a Marine and the other a disabled ex-Marine, stoutly defended him as a valiant man who had held out to the limit of his endurance.

Broken In Body, Mind

Col. Paul D. Sherman and John Pratt told the special court of inquiry that Schwable signed the "confession" only after five months of Red Chinese brain washing had left him broken in body and mind. Schwable repudiated the "confession" immediately upon his release from 14 months in a war prison in Korea.

Sherman and Pratt told the court, composed of one admiral and three Marine generals, it was clear from all the evidence at hand that no man could withstand prolonged brain washing.

Society's only defense, they said, is to expose it as a diabolical propaganda weapon. So exposed, they said, it will lose its effect in the cold war for men's bodies, minds and souls.

Decision Month Away

When they had finished their summation, Maj. Gen. Harry D. Lonscott, court president, declared public sessions at an end. The court went into private session to review the mass of evidence and testimony.

The court will recommend secretly to Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., Marine Corps commandant, whether Schwable should be court-martialed or otherwise disciplined. Upon Shepherd's decision, not expected for perhaps a month, rests the future of Schwable and his co-pilot in Korea, Maj. Roy H. Bley.

Bley, captured with Schwable when their reconnaisance plane crashed in North Korea, has been named "an interested party." Bley has testified he resisted brain washing, threats of death and beating before signing a germ warfare confession after being told of Schwable's capitulation.

Youth Found Hanging From Tree Identified

SALISBURY, Md., March 15 (AP)—Ciy police have established the identity of an 18-year-old youth found hanging from the limb of a tree in a wooded area here Sunday.

Through military contacts, police were able to trace the movements of Thomas Omar Willis up to late Saturday night. The body was identified by the boy's stepfather, William Harrison of Easton. Meanwhile, efforts are still being made to contact the dead man's mother.

Police Chief William Chatham said the boy had apparently hanged himself with his own belt, which was found looped around his neck and the limb of the tree.

Rebel Armies Smash French Base Defense

Paratroop Battalion Bolsters Stronghold; Planes Hit Vietminh

HANOI, Indochina, March 15 (AP)—French headquarters announced tonight that thousands of wildly screaming Communist-led Vietminh troops smashed through the northern defenses of Dien Bien Phu fortress at one point and were advancing toward the heart of the base.

The French said they killed 1,500 of the attackers before they gave up the northern defense hill position of the Dust Bowl fortress in northwest Indochina.

The biggest and most decisive battle of the Indochinese War is now being fought with thousands of Vietminh pressing steadily closer to the heart of the bastion intended to stop the southward march of rebel armies.

The French threw fresh tanks, troops and planes into the battle. They bolstered their stronghold, 175 miles west of Hanoi, with a battalion of paratroopers. They also sent planes almost 200 miles from the carrier Arromanches to bomb and strafe Vietminh artillery positions.

Reds Wage Frontal Battle

For the first time in the seven-year-old Indochinese fighting, the Vietminh rebels dropped their guerrilla and infiltration tactics to wage a frontal, full-scale Korea-type battle.

The Vietminh prepared infantry charges with heavy artillery fire. Then, the Red Chinese-advised and Red Chinese-trained rebel soldiers, blowing bugles and screaming wildly charged French barbed-wire defenses.

There is nothing to indicate any Red Chinese are actually participating in the fight, but it is clear the rebels are coached in the attacks by advisers behind their lines.

French Counterattack

The Vietminh, renewing their assaults after an artillery barrage today, first concentrated on a French defense position north of the fortress.

Attacking at 3 a.m., they fought their way into the southern part of the position by 5 a.m. The French immediately counterattacked, dispatching tanks from the fortress. Heavy fighting followed at this position and, the French say, "heavy losses" have been inflicted upon the Vietminh.

U. S. 'Retaliation' Defense Policy Worries Canada

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Canadian Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson served notice today that Canada and other Western Allies must be consulted fully before the United States makes any decision to "retaliate instantly" against an aggressor.

Asserting the dominion's close ties with the United States entitle it especially to "an appropriate share" in any decision which might involve a far-reaching atomic war, Pearson said:

"Indeed, such agreement, after consultation and discussion, is to put it bluntly, necessary if this policy of preventing aggression by immediate and overwhelming devastation is to work collectively."

Pearson spoke out in an address before a National Press Club luncheon on the eve of a high-level trade and economic conference with Secretary of State Dulles and top Eisenhower Cabinet officials.

The Canadian minister laid down his government's defense view in commenting on Dulles' Jan. 12 speech which first announced the new American defense policy of massive retaliation.

Puerto Rican Who Defied Probe Jailed

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—Puerto Rican nationalist party leader Juan Francisco Ortiz Medina today was sentenced to six months in prison for refusing to answer 12 questions before a federal grand jury.

Ortiz Medina, top official of the party in this country, is the second Nationalist leader to be sentenced for refusing to answer questions in the investigation of the shooting of five congressmen in Washington March 1 by Puerto Rican fanatics.

Last week Julio Pinto Gandia, leader of the New York branch of the party, was sentenced to six months.

Oh, Well, Only $50 Million

79-year-old Jacob Adolph Blumn, looking at a map in Baltimore, claims he knows exactly where a treasure ship containing $50,000,000 worth of pirate gold, silver and jewels lies under 75 feet of water in the Pacific ocean. But he won't tell. He says he saw the pirate hoard dug up from three excavations on Cocos island, 300 miles off coast of South America, in 1897. "Sure I know where the ship sank," he says, "and I could go there today. But I won't. Why? Because that ship and that treasure represent man's greed for gold and jewels. Thousands of people were killed by the pirates in accumulating that great hoard, and more lives were seen lost in attempts to find the ship. I want no more killings, no more deaths. I will never tell . . ."

Air Force, Army Begin Rehearsal Of Arctic Defense

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The first test of defenses against capture of the huge and strategically vital Thule Air Base and other Arctic installations which Russia might seek to seize in a war is under way.

The Defense Department announced today that a joint Air Force-Army "Exercise Chill Wind," involving use of 850 paratroopers of the XVIII Airborne Corps and a score of the giant C124 trooper carrying planes would be conducted "this month" at Thule, on the northwest corner of Greenland.

Operation Under Way

Actually, it is understood, the operation already has started and will include in addition to defensive tests for Thule, several other Arctic bases. Among these are Sondrestrom, halfway down the Greenland west coast, and installations elsewhere.

The Thule test, only 900 miles from the North Pole, is the most northern locale for any American airborne maneuver ever held. Conditions at this time of year in northern Greenland are rigorous. The long Arctic night is beginning to end, but winter weather prevails, with sudden gales blowing at velocities of more than 100 miles an hour, temperatures far below zero and "white-outs" caused by windwhipped snow interfering with both troop and plane operations.

Simulated Attacks

The department said:

"The exercise will provide training under extreme arctic conditions. The airborne force will simulate attacks on several installations to give air base personnel practice in defense tactics.

"Part of the task force will attack an 'aggressor force' that will be presumed to have established a weather and radio outpost in the Thule Air Base defense area.

"Personnel assigned to Thule Air Base will assume the role of the 'aggressor force' and practice defensive tactics against the airborne infantrymen.

"Plans include an air drop of troops at Thule Air Base. However, local conditions will determine whether the troops will jump on the drop zone or be air-landed and moved into overland position."

Industrial Output Continues Decline

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board said today industrial production continued to decline in February, reaching a level 10.2 per cent beneath the peak of last July.

The reserve board's index of industrial production, based on average production from 1947 through 1949 as 100 declined 2 points to 123 in February, the board said.

This was 14 points, or 10.2 per cent less than the all-time industrial production high of 137 reached last May and repeated in July. It was 11 points or about 8 per cent under production in February a year ago.

Comment On Ike Speech Adheres To Party Lines

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Republicans generally praised President Eisenhower's defense of his tax policies tonight as forceful and convincing. Capitol Hill Democrats, however, described themselves as mainly unconvinced.

Comment on the President's prepared radio-TV address, in which he came out against Democratic income tax cut proposals, followed party lines to a greater degree than usual on Eisenhower pronouncements.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the Senate Finance Committee, who like the President opposes raising income tax exemptions at this time, said: "I think it was a very excellent talk."

House Republican Whip Arends of Illinois said: "It was a forceful speech, presenting the cold facts. The American people will support the President in his effort to make his country strong in all respects."

On the other side of the fence House Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas noted Eisenhower's mention of a seven billion dollar tax cut since his administration took office, and said that includes the five billion dollar cut which went into effect Jan. 1.

"I hope he is not taking credit for that," Rayburn said. "That reduction was ordered by a Democratic Congress before Mr. Eisenhower became president."

Eisenhower Says Politics Behind Move

President Declares Proposals Unsound, Unfair To Majority

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower blasted the Democrats' cut-the-income-tax proposals tonight as unsound, politically motivated and unfair to the great majority of taxpayers.

Declaring such cuts would be "a serious blow to your government," the President told a nationwide radio and television audience:

"In your interest I must and will oppose such an unsound tax proposal."

Speaking informally — with the aid of a prompting device — often smiling, at other times earnest, Eisenhower appealed for support of his own tax program, which includes what he called a "modest" reduction in the tax on income from corporation stock.

Bill Comes Up Wednesday

He centered his fire on Democratic moves, beginning with a bill that comes up in the House Wednesday, to raise income tax exemptions. House Democrats want an increase from $600 to $700. There is a movement among Senate Democrats to make even more of a taxpayer's income tax-free.

The President got technical help from his unpaid, part-time consultant, television producer Robert Montgomery, in this 15-minute address, in which he took occasion also to reproach the "professionally faint-hearted" for spreading depression talk.

Actually, Eisenhower declared, "The nation as a whole continues to be prosperous" despite unemployment in some places, and conditions "at this time do not call for an emergency program that would justify larger federal deficits and further inflation through large additional tax reductions."

Excise Cut Not Criticized

Surprising even some of his own staff members, the President made no criticism of last week's action by the House in cutting excise taxes by some 900 million dollars. He had opposed this cut and administration leaders have voiced hope the Senate would try to reduce it.

Eisenhower said he's as strong for cutting taxes "at the right time" as anybody, and he said his administration has slashed or is about to slash almost seven billion dollars from the national tax bill.

The Democrats disputed this. House Democratic Leader Rayburn, slated to make a formal reply on radio and TV tomorrow night, said five of the seven billions in tax reductions were voted by the Democrats before Eisenhower took office.

Plainly, the President was irked at those people he termed "professionally faint-hearted" — those who "have been arguing lately that we are on the very brink of economic disaster."

Ike Reaffirms Belief

There's politics involved here, too, Eisenhower said, and he reaffirmed what he told Congress a month ago — that the country can go from wartime to peacetime conditions "without serious economic trouble."

"Nothing has happened since to change my mind," said the President.

Eisenhower said his administration has done everything that can be done safely to reduce the cost of government. To make any large additional savings, he said, would mean "seriously weakening our national defense." And he added:

"The only other way to make more tax cuts now is to have bigger and bigger deficits and to

New Navy Planes Designed To Take Off, Land Vertically

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The Navy made available today pictures of two freakish-looking new fighter planes designed to take off or land vertically.

They are the Convair XFY1, built by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., San Diego, and the XFV1, built by Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Burbank, Calif.

The craft are called "VTO" fighters, for the vertical takeoff characteristic. Photographs showed both:

1. Resting on their tails, in the position in which they would take off or land.

2. Resting horizontally, in the position they would assume in level flight.

Little information detail was given out about the strange craft. There was no indication either has yet flown.

Both are powered by turboprop engines—jet engines driving counterrotating propellers.

The Convair model has broad, bat-like delta wings, shaped like the Greek letter D. The cockpit dome gives it a humpbacked appearance in the horizontal position. With its rear end strengthened to accommodate small caster-wheel-type landing gear, it gives the impression of being tail-heavy.

The Lockheed model is shown in a conventional attitude which it assumes with auxiliary landing gear, as well as in the tail-down position. This plane reportedly can take off on the auxiliary gear, in the normal fashion. It would drop this gear on takeoff, and would land on its tail casters.

Sam Rayburn To Answer Ike

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—House Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas will give the Democrats' answer tomorrow night to President Eisenhower's tax message to the American people tonight.

Rayburn said the Democratic National Committee has arranged for 15 minutes of free television time at 9 p.m. (EST) Tuesday and has requested him to make the party's presentation.

The Dumont network announced it would carry Rayburn's talk.

In New York ABC and NBC said they would carry Rayburn's speech by recording over their radio networks at 10:15 p. m. (EST) tomorrow.

The two networks said no plans for TV coverage had been made yet.

Eisenhower-Backed Submerged Lands Act Upheld By High Court

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the Eisenhower-backed Submerged Lands Act which ceded oil-rich offshore lands to coastal states.

A brief, unsigned opinion said the Constitution gives Congress unlimited power over the public lands.

And, the opinion added, it is not for the courts to say how that trust shall be administered.

Today's decision came just before the court recessed until April 5 without giving any hint when it might make its ruling on the hotly controversial question of racial segregation in public schools.

Chief Justice Warren, former governor of California, disqualified himself in the submerged lands case. Justices Black and Douglas read sharply dissenting opinions.

Thus the court rejected by a vote of 6-2 requests by Alabama and Rhode Island for permission to file suit against four other states — Texas, California, Louisiana and Florida. The latter four states are expected to get the lion's share of benefits from the 1953 law.

Justice Reed agreed with the majority but wrote a separate opinion amplifying his views.

Black said the majority's decision left him in doubt whether the high court would sustain the right of Congress to sell the Mississippi River or any of the other great navigable rivers of this country.

Douglas took note of earlier Supreme Court decisions, before the Submerged Land Act, which held the United States had "paramount right" to the lands.

"Today powerful political forces are marshalled to wipe out our prior decisions for the benefit of a favored few," Douglas wrote. "But those decisions were sound in constitutional theory and they should stand."

The 1953 Submerged Land Act was one of President Eisenhower's first legislative proposals to become law. It was an issue in the 1952 presidential election.

Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore), who led what amounted to a filibuster against the legislation, told the Senate today's decision upheld his point that the submerged lands belonged to the federal government and not to the coastal states.

"In my opinion this was not a giveaway that was in the best interests of the people as a whole," Morse said, adding he'd be glad to make repeal of the law a 1954 campaign issue.

Representatives of the coastal states, however, were jubilant.

Sen. Holland (D-Fla), a leading sponsor of the law, said in a statement "It is heartening to note that the court decided the main issue on its merits and not on some dilatory basis."

McKeldin Says: Interior Dept. Will Not Back Pa. Mine Water Plan

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP) — Gov. McKeldin of Maryland said today he had been assured the federal Interior Department would not back a long-standing proposal to dump Pennsylvania mine water into the Susquehanna River through a tunnel.

He said this to reporters after a meeting with interior officials.

Assistant Secretary of Interior Wormser told McKeldin and others at the open meeting the Interior Department's present leadership has not taken an official position on the proposed project.

He indicated, however, he did not think the proposal will be backed by the present administration. He told the delegation an outstanding engineer in the department had made an off-hand estimate that such a 137-mile tunnel would cost around 400 million dollars.

"We have been trying to carry out a congressional mandate voted in 1945 to study the feasibility of draining the anthracite mine," Wormser said. "We have taken no position on this. We have been studying the practicality of the proposal."

Wormser added that about one million dollars has been spent on the engineering studies and it was brought out that the problem has been under study by the Bureau of Mines for 13 years.

McKeldin was accompanied by Sens. Beall and John M. Butler and Rep. Edward T. Miller, all Maryland Republicans, and by a group of Maryland state officials and scientists.

All who spoke contended that if published reports are true, it is proposed to dump acid mine water into the Susquehanna below the dam at Conowingo, Md., the marine and plant life in Chesapeake Bay would be in danger.

McKeldin, Beall, Butler and Miller all described the bay as the state's greatest natural resource.

The governor said he was "alarmed over the proposal" and added that the dumping would "kill all our oysters."

Butler said the proposal involved spending "a half billion dollars to save the anthracite industry and destroy Maryland."

Beall cited damage done to Western Maryland streams by pollution from mines.

1961	20,000		10,000	30,000
1962	20,000		40,000	60,000
1963	20,000	$15,000	40,000	75,000
1964	20,000	15,000	40,000	75,000
1965	20,000	15,000	40,000	75,000
1966		15,000	40,000	55,000
1967		15,000	40,000	55,000
1968		15,000	40,000	55,000
1969		15,000	40,000	55,000
1970		15,000		15,000
1971		15,000		15,000
1972		15,000		15,000

All bids for said bonds shall be for the three issues as an entirety.

Bidders are requested to specify with their bids the rate or rates of interest to be paid on the bonds on which rate or rates their bids are based and submitted. No rate so named shall exceed the annual rate of four per centum (4%) per annum and each rate shall be in multiples of one-eighth (⅛) of One per cent (1%) per annum. Bidders may not specify more than one rate of interest to be borne by any single series of said bonds and bidders may not bid less than par value and accrued interest. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid provides the lowest interest cost to the City. Where the interest cost bid by two or more bidders is the same, the bonds will be apportioned among said bidders, but if this should prove unacceptable the City may, in its discretion, determine to which of said bidders all of said bonds shall be awarded. The lowest interest cost will be determined by adding the dollar amount of interest payable on the bonds of each series in any legally acceptable proposal, from date of issue to date of maturity and deducting from the total thereof any premium offered to be paid for such bonds. Each bidder is requested to indicate in his bid the total interest cost computed as above, together with the effective yield on such bonds as will be produced by such bid, but compliance with this request is not deemed a condition precedent to the submission of a bid nor shall any inaccuracy in such computation affect the validity of such bid.

The right is reserved to the City to reject any or all bids.

Each bid must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, Cumberland, Maryland, and so marked on the outside as to indicate that it is a bid for the bonds hereby offered. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check drawn to the order of the Commissioner of Finance and Revenue of the City of Cumberland in the amount of Thirty-Five Thousand Dollars ($35,000) to secure the City against any loss which might result from the failure of the particular bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. No interest will be allowed on the amount of the deposit. Checks deposited by unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them when the bonds are awarded to the successful bidder. The deposit of the successful bidder will be credited on account of the total amount payable for said bonds.

Accrued interest shall be adjusted to the date of delivery of the bonds and the payment therefor.

The bonds will be the unconditional obligation of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland issued upon its full faith and credit which will be irrevocably pledged to the payment of maturing principal and interest of all of said bonds. The enabling acts above described and the Ordinance authorizing said bonds, provide that the principal and interest of said bonds shall be payable from ad valorem taxes which the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland is authorized and directed to levy, until all of said bonds shall have matured and been paid, on all property subject to assessment for taxation within the corporate limits of the City in rate and amount sufficient to provide for said payment. With respect to said water improvement bonds of 1949, additional provision is made for the payment of the maturing principal and interest of said issue primarily from the net revenues derived by the City from the operation of is water supply system and only from the proceeds of ad valorem taxes in the event said net revenues shall prove insufficient in any year. Accordingly, the total ad valorem tax to be levied in any year to pay maturing principal and interest of the bonds hereby offered may be reduced to the extent of the net revenues so available.

Under existing laws, these bonds and the interest payable theeron are exempt from all State, County and municipal taxes in the State of Maryland, and the income derived therefrom is likewise exempt from Federal income tax.

The bonds will be delivered without charge, to the purchaser thereof, within a reasonable time after the sale in Cumberland or in Baltimore, Maryland. Delivery elsewhere will be made at the expense of the purchaser.

The legality of the issue will be approved by Messrs. Niles, Barton, Yost & Dankmeyer of Baltimore, Maryland, and the approving opinion of these gentlemen will be delivered upon request to the purchaser of the bonds, without additional charge.

At the time of delivery, the bonds will be accompanied by a transcript of supporting documents, together with the usual closing documents, including a certificate of the City to the effect that no ligitation is pending or threatened as of the date of such delivery affecting or impairing the validity of said bonds.

Prospective bidders desiring financial data concerning the City of Cumberland may obtain the same upon request in writing to the undersigned.

10 Hungarians Break Through "Iron Curtain"

VIENNA, Austria, March 15 (AP)— Ten Hungarian refugees, half starved and frostbitten, have escaped to Austria after a journey half way across Hungary highlighted by a gunfight with Communist police, U.S. officials revealed today.

The six men, three women and a child of five, took a week for their journey from Budapest. Often cold and bogged in mud, the band was discovered three times in its flight, but each time managed to escape.

Officials of the U. S. escape program reported these details:

The 10 have been under American care since they reached Vienna last week. Their names were withheld to protect relatives in Hungary.

The band moved at night and hid in farm haystacks most of the days.

The three women and the child developed frostbitten feet and had to be assisted or carried by the men. The party had nothing to eat for the last two days.

The gun fight occurred March 2, when police stumbled on the party in the dark near the town of Ostfiyasszonyfa.

The group had stopped in a wood. As the leader went forward to find the best route, a bullet whistled over his head. He saw a policeman running toward him. He drew his own pistol and brought the figure down with five shots.

Knowing there would be at least one more policeman in the vicinity, the group leader ran away from his party as a decoy and soon was engaged in gunfire by the second policeman. He fired twice and felled him.

From then on, the band pushed forward, desperately in fear of being tracked down. Once they were discovered by a hunter — obviously a Communist because only trusted officials may own guns. They told him they were making for Austria and he went away, saying: "Let's pretend you never told me that."

The group pushed on through an area of anti-personnel mines, a plowed minefield and more trip wires and finally reached Austria after cutting through a five-foot barbed wire fence.

Apology, Advice Is Left By Thief

NEW ORLEANS, March 15 (AP)— A disappointed thief who found only 35 cents when he broke into a school here over the weekend, left this note:

"I am terribly sorry for the damage. You should have left the doors unlocked. Especially when you have nothing to offer."

Obliging Bandits

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP) — A resturant manager told police today that two bandits robbed him of $1,185, then walked him down Broadway, paid his subway fare and shoved him aboard a train at Times Square before they fled.

The victim, Ambrose Casey, 27, got off at the next station and reported the offbeat "kidnap."

borrow more and more money. Either we or our children will have to bear the burden of this debt. This is one kind of chicken that always come home to roost."

Eisenhower said tax cuts already made or proposed by his administration — he included recent excise tax cuts voted by the House over administration objections — total around seven billion dollars. This, he said, is a "carefully balanced tax program" designed to make new jobs and larger payrolls.

"But," he went on, "this is an election year. Some think it is good politics to promise more and more government spending, and at the same time more and more tax cuts for all.

"We know, from bitter experience what such a policy would finally lead to. It would make our dollars buy less. It would raise the price of rent, of clothing and of groceries. It would pass on still larger debts to our children."

Packard Earnings Off

DETROIT, March 15 (AP)-Packard Motor Car Co. today reported 1953 net earnings of $5,440,966, equal to 38 cents a share.

This compared with 1952 net of $5,618,263 or 39 cents a share. The 1953 net resulted from over all sales of $335,819,000 compared with $233,737,020 in 1952.

NYC Will Meet Young's Assault

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad will meet the assault of Robert R. Young head-on by putting all 15 members of its present Board of Directors up for re-election, William White, Central's president, said today.

The disclosure ruled out the possibility of a compromise in the battle for control of the two-billion-dollar rail empire—and last week each side was accusing the other of trying to do just that.

Young has focused much of his fire on the composition of the Central's board, accusing it of being "banker-dominated" because of its four prominent banker directors.

White divulged the news about the management slate in a question-and-answer session following his address today to the New York Society of Security Analysts.

Ordinarily, the exact composition of the opposing slates would not be financially disclosed until proxy statements are made public and the railroad normally mails these out 45 days in advance of the annual meeting which this year is on May 26.

Young has announced 8 of his 15 candidates thus far.

White's speech today was before the same society addressed by Young on Friday. The Central president read a 10-page address to the security analysts, discussing in detail the problems of the railroad and the progress being made in solving them.

Del. Thompson Quits Legislative Council

CAMBRIDGE, Md., March 15 (AP) — Del. Thompson (D-Dorchester) resigned today from the Legislative Council, according to an agreement he said he made when he was appointed majority floor leader of the House of Delegates.

Thompson stepped aside so his fellow Democratic delegate from Dorchester, Fred Lucas, could remain. Lucas was dropped because room had to be made for Thompson who was eligible automatically for the Council as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Thompson's withdrawal from the Council leaves open the chairmanship of the finance committee of the interim body since he would have been first in line for it. It was reported that Del. Robinson (D-Balto 4th) was being backed by some legislators for the position.

Stenographer Gives Testimony In Knight Trial

BALTIMORE, March 15 (AP)—An attractive Paris stenographer testified today about the inner workings of the Paris branch of Air Union, Inc., in 1949, when the American firm is accused of illegally shipping spare parts for transport airplanes into Poland.

Miss Jeanne Marbach, 27 and plumpish, said Philippe Louis Marie Charles de Bourbon tried to do some undercover business with a London parts firm while he was running Air Union's Paris office the same year.

Finally, she said, De Bourbon closed the office and moved her desk and files into the offices of Societe Vitrame, a firm in Paris which acted as purchasing agent for the Polish government.

He did this, she testified, without the knowledge of Henry Lloyd Knight, 48-year-old Washington attorney and head of Air Union.

Knight was angry about it when he came to Paris three months later, in March of 1950, and found out about it, Miss Marbach said. Knight sent her to Vitrame to recover the Air Union files. He fired De Bourbon.

Knight and his company are on trial in federal court on charges of violating the U.S. neutrality laws by shipping $48,000 worth of airplane parts through the Iron Curtain by way of a dummy firm in Paris, Sofadex.

Conviction Poses Reward Question

PITTSBURGH, March 15 (AP) — The conviction of John Wesley Wable for a phantom slaying of the Pennsylvania Turnpike still leaves one question unanswered:

Who will get the $11,000 in reward money offered for evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of the killer?

The Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. and the AFL International Teamsters Union offered $5,000 each. Continental Transportation Lines, Inc., put up an additional $1,000.

But so many persons had a part in Wable's apprehension that the organizations just don't know who will get how much or when. Everyone from the Cleveland pawn shop manager who spotted a watch of one of the victims to the New Mexico state policemen who nabbed Wable are in line for the money.

Milton E. Harris, president of Continental Transportation, said: "It looks to me as if this whole thing is going to have to be litigated. I think that legally we would have to wait until all the appeals by Wable through the courts are disposed of."

Connecticut was the first state to enact legislation on aviation.

Princess Martha's Condition Serious

OSLO, Norway, March 15 (AP)— The state hospital said today that the condition of Crown Princess Martha was "very serious" after a relapse. A doctors' bulletin said she was losing consciousness.

The Swedish-born princess, 53, was rushed to the hospital Friday suffering severe hemorrhages caused by jaundice. A medical report tonight said bleeding had stopped but the princess was still very weak despite several blood transfusions.

Liver complications were causing her to lose consciousness, the bulletin said.

Eisenhower-Backed Submerged Lands Act Upheld By High Court

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the Eisenhower-backed Submerged Lands Act which ceded oil-rich offshore lands to coastal states.

A brief, unsigned opinion said the Constitution gives Congress unlimited power over the public lands.

And, the opinion added, it is not for the courts to say how that trust shall be administered.

Today's decision came just before the court recessed until April 5 without giving any hint when it might make its ruling on the hotly controversial question of racial segregation in public schools.

Chief Justice Warren, former governor of California, disqualified himself in the submerged lands case. Justices Black and Douglas read sharply dissenting opinions.

Thus the court rejected by a vote of 6-2 requests by Alabama and Rhode Island for permission to file suit against four other states — Texas, California, Louisiana and Florida. The latter four states are expected to get the lion's share of benefits from the 1953 law.

Justice Reed agreed with the majority but wrote a separate opinion amplifying his views.

Black said the majority's decision left him in doubt whether the high court would sustain the right of Congress to sell the Mississippi River or any of the other great navigable rivers of this country.

Douglas took note of earlier Supreme Court decisions, before the Submerged Land Act, which held the United States had "paramount right" to the lands.

"Today powerful political forces are marshalled to wipe out our prior decisions for the benefit of a favored few," Douglas wrote. "But those decisions were sound in constitutional theory and they should stand."

The 1953 Submerged Land Act was one of President Eisenhower's first legislative proposals to become law. It was an issue in the 1952 presidential election.

Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore), who led what amounted to a filibuster against the legislation, told the Senate today's decision upheld his point that the submerged lands belonged to the federal government and not to the coastal states.

"In my opinion this was not a giveaway that was in the best interests of the people as a whole," Morse said, adding he'd be glad to make repeal of the law a 1954 campaign issue.

Representatives of the coastal states, however, were jubilant.

Sen. Holland (D-Fla), a leading sponsor of the law, said in a statement "It is heartening to note that the court decided the main issue on its merits and not on some dilatory basis."

McKeldin Says:
Interior Dept. Will Not Back Pa. Mine Water Plan

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP) — Gov. McKeldin of Maryland said today he had been assured the federal Interior Department would not back a long-standing proposal to dump Pennsylvania mine water into the Susquehanna River through a tunnel.

He said this to reporters after a meeting with interior officials.

Assistant Secretary of Interior Wormser told McKeldin and others at the open meeting the Interior Department's present leadership has not taken an official position on the proposed project.

He indicated, however, he did not think the proposal will be backed by the present administration. He told the delegation an outstanding engineer in the department had made an off-hand estimate that such a 137-mile tunnel would cost around 400 million dollars.

"We have been trying to carry out a congressional mandate voted in 1945 to study the feasibility of draining the anthracite mine," Wormser said. "We have taken no position on this. We have been studying the practicality of the proposal."

Wormser added that about one million dollars has been spent on the engineering studies and it was brought out that the problem has been under study by the Bureau of Mines for 13 years.

McKeldin was accompanied by Sens. Beall and John M. Butler and Rep. Edward T. Miller, all Maryland Republicans, and by a group of Maryland state officials and scientists.

All who spoke contended that if published reports are true, it is proposed to dump acid mine water into the Susquehanna below the dam at Conowingo, Md., the marine and plant life in Chesapeake Bay would be in danger.

McKeldin, Beall, Butler and Miller all described the bay as the state's greatest natural resource.

The governor said he was "alarmed over the proposal" and added that the dumping would "kill all our oysters."

Butler said the proposal involved spending "a half billion dollars to save the anthracite industry and destroy Maryland."

Beall cited damage done to Western Maryland streams by pollution from mines.

MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF
CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND
THREE ISSUES OF GENERAL OBLIGATION
BONDS
ALL DATED MARCH 1, 1954

Sealed bids will be received by the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, Maryland, at the City Hall in Cumberland, Maryland, until 10:00 o'clock A. M. Eastern Standard Time on for the purchase of Six Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($650,000) par value general obligation serial maturity coupon bonds of said City, comprising three separate issues described as follows:

(1) One Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($150,000) "Cumberland Playground Bonds of 1947", issued pursuant to the authority of Chapter 375 of the Laws of Maryland of 1947 and a favorable referendum held pursuant thereto, in the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) each, numbered consecutively from No. One (1) to No. One Hundred Fifty (150), both numbers inclusive, and maturing in the order of their consecutive numbers in serial installments in accordance with the schedule hereinafter set forth;

(2) One Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($150,000) "Water Improvement Bonds of 1949", issued pursuant to the authority of Chapter 496 of the Laws of Maryland 1953 in the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) each, numbered consecutively from No. One (1) to No. One Hundred Fifty (150) both numbers inclusive, and maturing in the order of their consecutive numbers in serial installments in accordance with the schedule hereinafter set forth;

(3) Three Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($350,000) "Cumberland Urban Development Bonds of 1953", issued pursuant to Chapter 72 of the Laws of Maryland of 1953 in the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) each, numbered consecutively from No. One (1) to No. Three Hundred Fifty (350), both numbers inclusive, and maturing in annual serial installments in the order of their consecutive numbers in accordance with the schedule hereinafter set forth.

All three issues of said bonds are authorized pursuant to Ordinance No. 1982 adopted by the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland on March 15, 1954. They are all dated March 1, 1954 and interest will be payable thereon March 1 and September 1 in accordance with semi-annual interest coupons attached thereto. Both the principal and interest of said bonds will be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the time of payment at the office of the Treasurer of the City of Cumberland, City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland, upon presentation and surrender of the maturing bonds or coupons as the case may be. The bonds will not be subject to registration as to either principal or interest nor will they be subject to prior redemption.

Said three issues of bonds will mature and be payable as follows:

Year of Maturity	1. Water Bonds	2. Recreation Bonds	3. Urban Development Bonds	Total Annual Maturity
1958	$10,000			$10,000
1959	20,000		$10,000	30,000
1960	20,000		10,000	30,000
1961	20,000		10,000	30,000
1962	20,000		40,000	60,000
1963	20,000	$15,000	40,000	75,000
1964	20,000	15,000	40,000	75,000
1965	20,000	15,000	40,000	75,000
1966		15,000	40,000	55,000
1967		15,000	40,000	55,000
1968		15,000	40,000	55,000
1969		15,000	40,000	55,000
1970		15,000		15,000
1971		15,000		15,000
1972		15,000		15,000

All bids for said bonds shall be for the three issues as an entirety.

Bidders are requested to specify with their bids the rate or rates of interest to be paid on the bonds on which rate or rates their bids are based and submitted. No rate so named shall exceed the annual rate of four per centum (4%) per annum and each rate shall be in multiples of one-eighth (⅛) of One per cent (1%) per annum. Bidders may not specify more than one rate of interest to be borne by any single series of said bonds and bidders may not bid less than par value and accrued interest. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid provides the lowest interest cost to the City. Where the interest cost bid by two or more bidders is the same, the bonds will be apportioned among said bidders, but if this should prove unacceptable the City may, in its discretion, determine to which of said bidders all of said bonds shall be awarded. The lowest interest cost will be determined by adding the dollar amount of interest payable on the bonds of each series in any legally acceptable proposal, from date of issue to date of maturity and deducting from the total thereof any premium offered to be paid for such bonds. Each bidder is requested to indicate in his bid the total interest cost computed as above, together with the effective yield on such bonds as will be produced by such bid, but compliance with this request is not deemed a condition precedent to the submission of a bid nor shall any inaccuracy in such computation affect the validity of such bid.

The right is reserved to the City to reject any or all bids.

Each bid must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, Cumberland, Maryland, and so marked on the outside as to indicate that it is a bid for the bonds hereby offered. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check drawn to the order of the Commissioner of Finance and Revenue of the City of Cumberland in the amount of Thirty-Five Thousand Dollars ($35,000) to secure the City against any loss which might result from the failure of the particular bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. No interest will be allowed on the amount of the deposit. Checks deposited by unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them when the bonds are awarded to the successful bidder. The deposit of the successful bidder will be credited on account of the total amount payable for said bonds.

Accrued interest shall be adjusted to the date of delivery of the bonds and the payment therefor.

The bonds will be the unconditional obligation of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland issued upon its full faith and credit which will be irrevocably pledged to the payment of maturing principal and interest of all of said bonds. The enabling acts above described and the Ordinance authorizing said bonds, provide that the principal and interest of said bonds shall be payable from ad valorem taxes which the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland is authorized and directed to levy, until all of said bonds shall have matured and been paid, on all property subject to assessment for taxation within the corporate limits of the City in rate and amount sufficient to provide for said payment. With respect to said water improvement bonds of 1949, additional provision is made for the payment of the maturing principal and interest of said issue primarily from the net revenues derived by the City from the operation of its water supply system and only from the proceeds of ad valorem taxes in the event said net revenues shall prove insufficient in any year. Accordingly, the total ad valorem tax to be levied in any year to pay maturing principal and interest of the bonds hereby offered may be reduced to the extent of the net revenues so available.

Under existing laws, these bonds and the interest payable theeron are exempt from all State, County and municipal taxes in the State of Maryland, and the income derived therefrom is likewise exempt from Federal income tax.

The bonds will be delivered without charge, to the purchaser thereof, within a reasonable time after the sale in Cumberland or in Baltimore, Maryland. Delivery elsewhere will be made at the expense of the purchaser.

The legality of the issue will be approved by Messrs. Niles, Barton, Yost & Dankmeyer of Baltimore, Maryland, and the approving opinion of these gentlemen will be delivered upon request to the purchaser of the bonds, without additional charge.

At the time of delivery, the bonds will be accompanied by a transcript of supporting documents, together with the usual closing documents, including a certificate of the City to the effect that no ligitation is pending or threatened as of the date of such delivery affecting or impairing the validity of said bonds.

Prospective bidders desiring financial data concerning the City of Cumberland may obtain the same upon request in writing to the undersigned.

10 Hungarians Break Through "Iron Curtain"

VIENNA, Austria, March 15 (AP)— Ten Hungarian refugees, half starved and frostbitten, have escaped to Austria after a journey half way across Hungary highlighted by a gunfight with Communist police, U.S. officials revealed today.

The six men, three women and a child of five, took a week for their journey from Budapest. Often cold and bogged in mud, the band was discovered three times in its flight, but each time managed to escape.

Officials of the U. S. escape program reported these details:

The 10 have been under American care since they reached Vienna last week. Their names were withheld to protect relatives in Hungary.

The band moved at night and hid in farm haystacks most of the days.

The three women and the child developed frostbitten feet and had to be assisted or carried by the men. The party had nothing to eat for the last two days.

The gun fight occurred March 2, when police stumbled on the party in the dark near the town of Ostfiyasszonyfa.

The group had stopped in a wood. As the leader went forward to find the best route, a bullet whistled over his head. He saw a policeman running toward him. He drew his own pistol and brought the figure down with five shots.

Knowing there would be at least one more policeman in the vicinity, the group leader ran away from his party as a decoy and soon was engaged in gunfire by the second policeman. He fired twice and felled him.

From then on, the band pushed forward, desperately in fear of being tracked down. Once they were discovered by a hunter — obviously a Communist because only trusted officials may own guns. They told him they were making for Austria and he went away, saying: "Let's pretend you never told me that."

The group pushed on through an area of anti-personnel mines, a plowed minefield and more trip wires and finally reached Austria after cutting through a five-foot barbed wire fence.

Apology, Advice Is Left By Thief

NEW ORLEANS, March 15 (AP)— A disappointed thief who found only 35 cents when he broke into a school here over the weekend, left this note:

"I am terribly sorry for the damage. You should have left the doors unlocked. Especially when you have nothing to offer."

Obliging Bandits

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP) — A resturant manager told police today that two bandits robbed him of $1,185, then walked him down Broadway, paid his subway fare and shoved him aboard a train at Times Square before they fled.

The victim, Ambrose Casey, 27, got off at the next station and reported the offbeat "kidnap."

McKeldin Restoration Of Budget Cut Rapped

BALTIMORE, March 15 (AP) — The finance chairmen of the General Assembly said today they wondered why they should bother going over the budget if the governor is going to restore cuts after they finish.

At issue between the Democratic leaders and the Republican governor is $17,000 to provide for a director of Maryland's chronic disease program.

The General Assembly felt the job isn't necessary, at least at this time, and eliminated the appropriation requested by Governor McKeldin. The governor announced yesterday, 10 days after General Assembly adjournment, that he still thinks the position is called for and will shift other health department funds to pay for it.

"If the department has money it can spare from other allocations, it should be saved and applied to tax reduction," rejoined Del. Thompson (D-Dorchester), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Sen. Goldstein (D-Calvert) recalled that Dr. Robert H. Riley, state director of health, had pleaded at the budget hearings that all of the money requested was needed for vital services. Goldstein, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said he will ask the Legislature Council to watch that all money appropriated is spent according to intent of the General Assembly.

"We're wasting our time going to Annapolis for budget sessions if the governor is going to go against that intent the minute we adjourn," Goldstein said.

Both Goldstein and Thompson said the $17,000 was disallowed because they felt a study should first be made of the entire Health Department. A joint resolution calling for the study was adopted.

"If the Legislature decides that an organization needs looking into, it is no time for expansion," commented Thompson.

"I'm all for health services," said Goldstein, "but I want them administered efficiently. I don't think they are at present."

Governor McKeldin said the Chronic disease cut made by the General Assembly was only the first he intended to discuss publicly. The General Assembly made reductions of almost a million dollars in his recommendations.

"While none of my budget proposals were made arbitrarily," the governor said, "I can say that most of the cuts were not of sufficient depth to cause serious disturbances to our operations."

Elderly Boarder Held After Widow Is Shot To Death

BALTIMORE, March 15 (AP)—The 74-year-old man walked into police station today and said "Lock me up, I'm crazy" an hour after a widow was shot to death a short distance away.

Under questioning, Lt. Leslie Kummer said the elderly man told him he "had just shot a woman." The man wrote a name on a piece of paper and lapsed into silence.

Police took him to nearby Johns Hopkins Hospital where he was identified as Thomas Chicovaro, 74. The hospital said it had been treating him as an out patient for a heart condition and held him for observation while police booked him for investigation.

A maid, Zenni Lee Corman, at the home of the slain woman, Mrs. Myrtle Appel, 50, said there was a boarder there by the name of the man taken to the hospital. She said she saw him leave the house shortly before she found her employer dying from a bullet in the head.

The maid told police she heard Mrs. Appel and a man arguing downstairs while she was on the second floor cleaning. She heard a shot and rushed down. The boarder was leaving and Mrs. Appel was unconscious on the kitchen floor, the maid related.

The maid told police the elderly man had boarded with Mrs. Appel for 14 years.

D'Alesandro's Trial Moved To Salisbury

BALTIMORE, March 15 (AP) — Franklin Roosevelt D'Alesandro's trial for perjury was transferred today to Wicomico County by Judge S. Ralph Warnken who said there is "no doubt that the state of public opinion in Baltimore is that the defendant is guilty."

Judge Warnken said the feeling "is more than an opinion, it is resentment."

D'Alesandro was the only one acquitted of 16 tried in connection with violating the morals of two girls. He was subsequently indicted on a charge he committed perjury at his trial.

The perjury trial had been scheduled to start here next Monday. It will be up to the circuit court in Salisbury to set the trial date now.

Sentenced To Year In Auto Death Of Boy

BALTIMORE, March 15 (AP)—At his trial, Thurman T. Woodland testified he had a wife and five children.

Judge Michael J. Manley called for a report by the probation department before imposing sentence. The judge read the report today.

It disclosed Woodland had been living with his uncle's wife and had the children by her. It also listed previous convictions for automobile theft, traffic violations and a bad conduct discharge from the U.S. Coast Guard.

Judge Manley then sentenced the 29-year-old Woodland man to one year in jail for manslaughter in the death of 15-year-old Thomas Skinner.

The boy was struck and killed while riding his bicycle. Woodland and a companion were arrested nearly a mile away while pulling the bicycle from under a car.

Maryland Opposes Review Of Grammer's Conviction

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP) — Maryland fought today a Supreme Court review of George Edward Grammer's conviction for the murder of his wife.

The attorney general filed a brief denying claims by the defense that he had been deprived of his constitutional rights to a fair trial in Baltimore.

The Supreme Court is the third and last in which the defense has tried to upset Grammer's first degree murder conviction and sentence to be hanged in 1952.

The Supreme Bench of Baltimore denied him a new trial. The Maryland Court of Appeals upheld the conviction and sentence.

The defense filed a petition for Supreme Court review on Feb. 6. It was based on contentions that Grammer had been unable to obtain a fair trial because of publicity and introduction of his confession.

The State argued that the question of publicity had been raised too late, after Grammer's trial. It also maintained that the evidence at the trial had supported the confession.

The defense claimed the confession statements "were involuntary."

Grammer's wife was found dead in her wrecked car on Aug. 19, 1952. The medical examiner ruled it was murder and not accidental as first believed by police.

Grammer was charged with delivering the blows on her head which the medical examiner said caused her death.

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP) — A monthly rental charge of $75 on its color television sets was announced today by Emerson Radio & Phonograph Corp. Benjamin Abrams, president, said there would be a $200 charge for the first month, including delivery and installation, and the subsequent $75 a month would include serving at no additional cost.

Thomsen Nominated U. S. District Judge

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP) — Baltimore attorney Roszel C. Thomsen, president of the Baltimore school board, was nominated by President Eisenhower today to be U.S. District Judge for Maryland.

Thomsen, 53, would succeed Judge W. Calvin Chesnut, who has retired.

Nomination of the Republican is subject to Senate confirmation.

Colorado is practically unknown country when gold was discovered there in 1858.

The number of visitors to Berlin in 1953 increased 60 per cent over the previous year.

Bright Asks Ike Back McCarthy

BALTIMORE, March 15 (AP) — A Republican politician who tried to open Maryland's ballots two years ago to write-ins for Dwight D. Eisenhower for President today urged him to "get 100 per cent behind the leadership of Senator Joseph McCarthy."

Tim Bright, Baltimore used car dealer, wired the President to say "your present course is bound to split the Republican party. Party or no party, we've still got to be good Americans."

Bright has filed for the Republican nomination for governor of Maryland this year.

In 1952, he brought suit seeking to make write-in votes for Eisenhower valid. A lower court ruled it was constitutional, but was overruled by the Maryland Court of Appeals.

Bright had a monument built to Senator McCarthy which wound up in the city dump, after a group calling itself "The Vigilantes" placed it in War Memorial Plaza in front of City Hall. Bright recently announced a campaign to collect funds to have McCarthy's face sculptured on Mt. Rushmore.

Kitchen Engineer

The housewife of 1954 finds knowledge of a different variety from that possessed by a housewife of a former era necessary for smooth operation of the home. She must, in fact, be something of an engineer.

So many and varied are mechanical conveniences, improvements and gadgets that a woman who is not mechanically minded can really get things jammed up. If she pushes the wrong button, or shifts into reverse when full speed ahead is indicated, something is bound to happen.

The old saw about the bride who didn't know how to boil water is definitely dated. Today's bride knows that water is best if boiled in a pressure cooker, and that it takes perhaps a minute.

The old-fashioned cook who knew how many "pinches" of this and that to add to whatever she was making for best results, would be amazed if turned loose in a modern kitchen. Freezers, refrigerators, washers, pressure cookers, automatic stoves, electric food mixers, garbage disposal units and, in fact, the lowly faucet would send her into a state of at least slight, and probably major, confusion.

Today's women are bright by whatever tests they are rated. But when an attempt is made to evaluate them as kitchen engineers, no mere male is competent to give them even preliminary tests. Where is the man who could enter a modern kitchen and monkey with the machinery without causing heinous damage?

But there is no denying the fact that the jungle of mechanical equipment that is the modern kitchen was designed by men. Perhaps they intentionally tried to fill the culinary department with Rube Goldberg contraptions that the average man would be unable to master. If so, they succeeded admirably. The kitchen today is strictly a sphere of operations for the Kitchen Engineer.

Green Is For Trees

People express their individualities in ways too numerous to count. Some let auto designers do their individualizing for them and tool around in cars the color of tomato soup. Others stand on their heads in public, sit on pillars, or dye their hair with neon effects. All of them are potential trouble makers because conformists are apt to stop and take a second look and that usually means a traffic jam.

It is not difficult to understand the concern of the Douglas Aircraft officials over the stopping power of one of their female employes in the Long Beach, Calif., airframe plant. Gals were known as production bottlenecks during the war when they showed up for work in tight sweaters. But this particular gal was wearing a bright red blouse—which is her prerogative—and bright, grass green hair.

Apparently the line came to a grinding halt, and so did production in other departments as the word got around and people gathered. All told, Douglas officials said, about 300 people stood around and gaped at this verdant topknot.

Well, quite naturally they sent her home where her husband, apparently a conformist, ordered her to wash the stuff out and quit being silly. Here is where sympathies become divided and any hardcase conclusion would be presumptuous. Most persons will feel equally for management, which had schedules to meet, and for the young matron, who probably figured that the line would have broken down if a stunning redhead had strolled into the plant. So why not give 'em the green treatment?

The other object lesson, perhaps, is for makers of hair dye who depend on large volume to stay in business: On trees green looks fine—on ladies, well, there are too many traffic jams anyway.

Stalin Is Very Dead

Great men, as well as notorious, more often than not, loom larger to posterity than to their contemporaries. In Soviet Russia, the fact that Lenin was the No. 1 bolshevik—with all that connotes—is attested by the perseverance of his memory in the face of Stalin's efforts to play it down.

Not so with Stalin. It is little more than a year since he died, and already he is being thoroughly deemphasized, though not debunked, in his own country. The fulsome adulation for him which was standard equipment in every Communist speech and article in the Soviet Union has quietly vanished.

The new official chronicle of the first 50 years of the Communist party mentions Lenin in almost every paragraph, Stalin only half a dozen times. The false legend that Stalin was Lenin's right-hand man has been abandoned. New pictures of Stalin rarely appear, and many of the old likenesses that stared at Russians from every wall have disappeared.

The fact seems to be that before he died nearly everybody in Russia, as well as elsewhere in the world, was sick of Stalin. Whether Stalin was sick before he died will no doubt always be a subject of controversy. Big Brother's face was omnipresent; his name was on all lips; his favorites were sitting pretty; his enemies were marked for destruction; his shifting political insights were anxiously followed; and all independent accomplishment had to be sanctified by testifying loudly that it could never have been without the inspiration and guidance of the great, the puissant Stalin.

Japanese Treaty

Mutual defense agreement entered into by the United States and Japan would have been unanimously regarded as unthinkable a decade ago. Japan, the slogan then, was never again to be permitted to arm and become a world military power.

Today a rearmed Japan is regarded as a necessary bulwark against the Russian threat in Asia. Moscow and Peiping pretend to be outraged, and South Korea and the Chinese Nationalists are not happy about this development, although taking a more moderate view.

The Chinese Nationalists fought a long and bloody war against the Japanese invaders, a war which was followed by Communists conquest of their mainland. Korea, of course, was occupied by Japan for half a century.

The agreement ties Japan to the West in their fight against communism, and is in fact nearly identical to national defense pacts which this country has signed with several other nations. Funds and food will be provided by the U. S. to bolster Japan's economy. Planes and ships will be provided for its rearmament program.

The agreement brings closer the day when the bulk of American forces will be withdrawn from the Orient. How much closer few observers in Washington attempt to guess.

During the past two years, two new diseases have been described by the medical profession. One, hemorrhagic fever, originates in Korea and is of concern to us because many of our soldiers developed the disorder. The other, kwashiorkor, comes from East Africa. Don't ask me how to pronounce it! The condition is of nutritional origin and results from weaning babies too soon. I will discuss this disease more thoroughly tomorrow.

Hemorrhagic fever is well named because its victims encounter a rise in temperature accompanied by hemorrhage. The malady was unknown to Americans until some of our front line troops became sick with a strange illness, particularly men who were forced to "dig in" with vermin and rodents. The first few cases were puzzling but as the medical corps saw more of it, they realized that the troops were being exposed to a new disease that followed a definite pattern.

During the first days of the bout, symptoms resemble flu. There is fever long with redness of the face and neck and pain behind the eyes. The membranes of the throat and eyes often are congested and many victims complain of nausea and vomiting. The temperature may go as high as 106 degrees F. At the end of 72 hours, some improve and fever begins to subside. But this phase is temporary and shortly thereafter, the manifestations start anew and may be more serious than in the first episode. On the fourth or fifth day, pain may shift to the lower back and the homorrhage tendency is initiated.

In many, bleeding is from the kidneys initially but hemorrhages into the heart muscle, lungs, brain, and the pituitary and adrenal glands occur also. Damage to these organs sets the pattern for the ensuing symptoms. Involvement of the adrenals, for example, may be responsible for lethargy, whereas brain involvement leads to heartache, stiffness of the neck, and convulsions. The lesions from skin hemorrhages range from tiny red dots to large black and blue areas.

The course of the disease varies considerably. Some sufferers are well within a few days and others are ill for more than eight weeks. The overall mortality rate has not been reported but is estimated as between five and 15 per cent. While the cause is unknown, some physicians are of the opinion that a chemical substance such as a toxin or poison is responsible for the body changes. Others believe it to be infectious and the rickettsial organisms are considered the most likely culprits because they usually are transmitted by infected ticks that have been feeding on diseased rodents. So far as we know the ailment in our soldiers did not spread beyond the confines of the battle area.

TOMORROW: "Red" disease in Africa.

TEST "NERVE"

M. H. L. W. writes: Do you have any suggestions for overcoming formal test nervousness? My hands and feet shake to the point of inability to function properly. These examinations are my only Waterloo as I do not lose control in other situations.

REPLY

Most students develop the jitters at examination time, which means that excitement of this type is not unusual. Yours is an exaggerated response, indicating a nervous system that is more sensitive than usual.

SUN FOR SCIATICA

V. W. writes: Will a few weeks in the sun, down south, relieve sciatic pain due to arthritis of the spine?

REPLY

It may but there is a greater chance that it won't. Sciatica usually is traceable to pressure on the sciatic nerve in the lower back and this abnormality takes more than a little sunshine to relieve.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington Now Drinks More Whisky Than Milk; Sam Rayburn May Move To Send Entire Republican Tax Bill Back To Committee

WASHINGTON—Democrats have been ribbing their GOP colleagues on Capitol Hill for installing roll-call bells in the Republican Club, across the street from the House Office Building, so they can slip over to the bar for a snifter without missing any roll-call votes.

On top of this, Wyoming's Democratic Senator Lester Hunt has dug up statistics, which he is gleefully quoting to Republicans, showing that Washington, D. C., consumed 96,000 gallons more liquor the first year of Republican rule than the last year of the Democratic regime.

In 1952, the city guzzled 4,054,787 gallons of liquor. But in 1953, celebrating Republicans helped boost this figure to 4,151,312 gallons—not counting beer and wine. This was higher, incidentally, than the milk consumption in the nation's capital.

Mr. Sam On Taxes

Regardless of President Eisenhower's appeal to the public on taxes, the fate of the tax bill largely lies in the hands of one kindly but powerful Democrat. He is ex-Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas.

"Mr. Sam" as he is called by younger colleagues has served 41 years in the House of Representatives and prizes in his library a long list of laws which he put through Congress protecting the public generally and the little man in particular. They include the Truth-in-Securities Act requiring corporations to tell the truth about their bond and stock issues; the Securities and Exchange Act, setting up a body to police Wall Street; the Holding Corporation Act, cutting up some of the big holding corporations; rural electrification; the Federal Communications Commission and various others.

Unlike his young Texas disciple, Senator Lyndon Johnson, "Mr. Sam" has never deviated from his policy of fighting for the "folks." And that is one reason the Republican tax bill faces rough sledding. For "Mr. Sam" is just about ready to move to send the entire tax bill back to the Ways and Means Committee, in which case he has so much prestige in Congress that almost every Democrat and some Republicans will back him up.

Tax "Steals"

One reason for Sam Rayburn's opposition to the tax bill is that it gives too many favors to the big taxpayer and follows the "trickle-down" system used in Andy Mellon's day of granting benefits at the top on the theory that they will trickle down to the bottom. Specifically the new tax bill contains five big loopholes—some congressmen call them "steals"—through which Sam says the corporations could just about drive a truck.

Here is a list of the loopholes:

1. Dividend Credits—Those who receive their income from dividends as against wages and earned income get an allowance of $50 the first year and $100 thereafter. On top of this they get an exemption of 10 per cent on their tax bill. Democratic opponents of the tax bill point out that 75 per cent of those getting income from dividends are people earning over $10,000 a year.

2. Accelerated Depreciation — This permits corporations and others to write off the cost of new investments at a much faster rate, and according to the Democrats will mean a loss to the government for the next 17 years. Other taxpayers will have to make up that loss.

3. Reduced Taxes on Foreign Income — Corporations with investment abroad will have their taxes reduced about one-third or from 52 per cent to 38 per cent. Some Democrats don't object to the principle of encouraging foreign loans, but they say they should not be encouraged at the expense of other taxpayers. Others object on the ground that U. S. companies will move factories to cheap foreign labor markets at the expense of American labor, just as some New England factories are now moving south.

4. Charitable Trusts—This is a provision whereby a high-bracket taxpayer can give stocks and bonds to a university or charity for two years or more then get them back later. This gives him an important tax reduction. Thus, a 90 per cent bracket taxpayer, loaning securities to a college which would earn him $10,000, will save himself about $9,000 in taxes and would get a tax reduction of $10,000.

5. Pension Inequities—This loophole reinstates the unfair provisions of the tax laws during the 1930's when corporations could get tax reductions to pay pension to tap executives only. In 1942, these injustices were wiped out and small-salaried people could also get pensions. The new law goes back 12 years and reinstates earlier abuses by which only top executives benefited from deductions for pensions.

These are some of the things that rankle Sam Rayburn and will make the tax fight one of the hottest in years.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

I'm A Tourist

It came to me, when I had to go to Florida for a speech, that I might see the world as a tourist does, riding a car, stopping to see the sights, eating wherever I could, wearing an exciting open-collared green shirt with black squares.

City folks rarely realize how many thousands of men and women have the time and the money to wander about the country seeing things. It must be the result of vacations with pay or the pensions that come at the early age of 55. At any rate, they all seem to have jingle money, not too much but enough to pull away from home and just wander.

Being a tourist is great fun because the world is full of novelties, if only one forgets how old he is. For instance, I had never been in a glass-bottomed boat, viewing the floor of a lake of crystal clear water. As Silver Springs, I saw great schools of catfish playing in the vegetation which was so different from anything I had ever seen before.

Then I went to Ross Allen's Reptile Institute to see a snake get milked. I think it was a diamond-back rattlesnake and an angry devil he was. Too many of us think that we know everything because we know the little world in which we work. I, for instance, have an acquaintance with many so-called great men and if, at times, I sound pessimistic or even cynical, it is because the great prove to be so small.

Ross Allen knows snakes and alligators and such creatures and he can milk a snake, which no United States senator or general in the Army can do. And it is an exciting experience because while the snake wants to kill Allen, all Allen wants is the venom, which he sells for a profit to drug houses.

So, in due course, I wandered down to Cypress Gardens, which has been developed by an ex-press agent and real estate operator, Richard Downing Pope, into one of the most beautiful gardens on earth. Thousands come to see the aquatic sports there, but they held no lure for me. The flowers and trees and climbing vines, the beautiful vistas, the great ferns and the background of cypresses — these held me for hours and I envied the man who could spend his life among them. This park must never be lost, even if jingle money grows scarce.

So we wandered on to the Bok Tower, a gem of architecture, so reminiscent, not in design, but in concept, of the Taj Mahal. I do not know what impelled the truly great publisher and editor, Edward Bok, to erect this tower and lay out the grounds. The tower with its fine carillon, consisting of 71 bells, provides a delightful interlude in a troubled world. All the time I was there, I could not help wonder why the Bok Memorial is called the "Mountain Lake Sanctuary and Singing Tower." What about Bok? Is he forgotten? It makes one humble to stand before beauty; it makes one more humble to realize how quickly the author of beauty is forgotten.

On a cold evening, after a rain, about 3,500 of us tourists went to see the Passion Play staged by Josef Meier. We sat in a vast amphitheater where the stage and buildings are permanent structures. Josef Meier plays the role of Christ. It is a magnificent performance, beautifully staged. Yet something in the text bothered me. Pontius Pilate was almost a hero. Judas Iscariot is more repentent than the Gospels say that he was. Caiaphas, the High Priest, is the villain of the play. The text is definitely medieval and therefore startling in these times when we have a more historical view of the life, tribulations and death of Jesus than the medieval narrowness permitted. I spoke to Josef Meier about this and he told me, I think he said, that a 13th Century text was used. The Passion Play leaves an impression which cannot ever be forgotten.

So, I continued to tour on the back roads of Florida, from the north of the state to Miami Beach where everything is made to glitter by electric lights and neon signs. The contrast is startling and the tourist returns to his home assured that in the United States, in an automobile, one can see everything.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP

Another Herbert Hoover

WASHINGTON

There are three leading possibilities for the important post of under secretary of state. One of these the present deputy under secretary, Robert Murphy, and another is Foreign Operations Administrator Harold Stassen, both of whom want the job. The third is none other than Herbert Hoover Jr., who doesn't want the job at all.

There is no secret about the fact that the present under secretary, W. Bedell Smith, intends to leave the State Department before too long. His real is none too good, he has had tempting offers from private business, and after a lifetime of valuable public service he naturally wants to build up a financial competency while he can.

The search for his successor is not yet urgent, since Smith is not expected to leave for some little time. But already the pulling and hauling for this vital job, one of the half dozen key policy-making jobs in the government, has begun.

The younger Hoover is certainly doing no pulling and hauling on his own behalf—indeed it is quite possible that he does not know his name is being discussed. Yet it is being dicussed quite seriously. The fact is that Hoover has impressed many people with the skill with which he has handled his present delicate State Department assignment. This assignment, for which he was chosen by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, is to achieve an oil settlement in Iran.

Admired By Eden

Those impressed include such important men in the administration as Dulles himself, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, Attorney General Herbert Brownell, and Roger Kyes, the outgoing deputy secretary of defense, with all of whom Hoover has worked closely. Another Hoover admirer is British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

At the Bermuda conference, Eden told the American delegation that if anyone on earth could negotiate a settlement in Iran, Hoover could. In short, Hoover has shown brilliant qualifications for handling the foreign end of his job. He is also well qualified to handle the almost equally important domestic end.

A good part of the under secretary's job, after all, is to protect the secretary's rear, on Capitol Hill. Hoover has shown himself adept (as his father never was) at handling members of Congress, and it is already obvious that Dulles is going to have his troubles on the Hill. Yet even Sen. McCarthy could hardly convincingly accuse a Herbert Hoover of appeasing Russia or coddling Communists.

For such reasons, there is at least a good sporting bet that Hoover will be approached on the number two foreign policy job. But it would probably require the intervention of the President himself to get him to take it.

Hoover has, in fact, already been offered an ambassadorship informally, and he rejected the offer out of hand. Like his father a brilliant engineer, Hoover is also a highly successful venture capitalist, with large holdings abroad, which he would have to sell if he became under secretary of state.

Stassen Wants It

What is probably more important, he saw enough of Washington political and official life as a young man in the White Housee, and now, he has told friends, he wants no part of it. By way of contrast, Stassen wants Smith's job so badly he can taste it, and he is already heeling hard for it.

Stassen's foreign operations administration is a small empire anyway these days, and it is getting smaller all the time. If his political career is not to end on a note of dying fall, Stassen must move on, and the State Department job is the only visible spot reasonably near the center of the political stage. Stassen's personal relations with Dulles are cordial enough. But Dulles might well feel a trifle uncomfortable, with the passionately ambitious Stassen as his heir apparent.

Stassen gave evidence that his ambitions are by no means dead recently, when he put forward a grandiose scheme for dumping American agricultural surpluses abroad. The scheme was sat on firmly by the State Department, on the grounds that, though it might have pleased the farm belt, it might also have wrecked the Western Alliance.

Unlike Stassen, Murphy is not heeling for the job, but he would undoubtedly accept it if offered. He is a man of great and proved ability. He has a record of strong anti-communism long antedating McCarthy's and is invulnerable on this score. Moreover, Murphy is a career foreign service officer, and Dulles is anxious to restore the shattered morale of the foreign service, which is, after all, as essential to the State Department as the officer corps is to the Army. For all these reasons, Murphy is a good bet for the vital job. But the able engineer with the familiar name remains an interesting long shot.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Just last Wednesday at his press conference President Eisenhower was saying that he had appealed to everybody he could reach with the sound of his voice to give less attention to subjects that are unworthy of occupying our time from morning to night.

This observation was followed by another comment from the President backing up that part of a speech which Senator Flanders of Vermont, Republican, had made in the Senate the previous day also deploring the attention which the McCarthy controversies were being given while much more serious situations in the world were being overlooked.

One would have thought that in an executive department subject to the discipline of the President, Mr. Eisenhower's advice might be heeded. But the very next day unbeknownst to the Republican members of the Senate subcommittee on investigations, the Department of the Army slipped to the Democratic members of the same committee a report containing sensational charges. These concerned the activities of members of that committee's staff in allegedly seeking favored treatment for a former member of their staff now serving in the Army.

Leaked To Press

Naturally the document was leaked to the press. The anti-McCarthy partisans welcomed it as a devastating report that would thereafter squelch the Wisconsin senator. But within a few hours Senator McCarthy and the staff of the Senate subcommittee came up with a report containing countercharges of just as sensational a character hinting at an alleged blackmail attempt on the part of the Army's legal officer so as to get the committee to take the heat off the Army on the Communist issue. Much of the testimony on this point was written by Francis Carr, now a committee staff member, but formerly a supervisor in charge of an important desk in the New York office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Did anybody in the Eisenhower administration think that all this was going to keep the McCarthy controversy off the front pages and that attention wasn't going to continue to be diverted from other serious matters? Certainly the Senate now will have to investigate and take testimony under oath from everybody involved — Secretary Stevens, John G. Adams who is his legal counsel, Senator McCarthy, Francis Carr, Roy Cohn, and anyone else whose name is mentioned in these two conflicting reports. Also it may require the public disclosure of any other diaries which the Army may be keeping on what other senators and representatives have been asking for at the Pentagon for their constituents.

But in the midst of it all most everybody including the President seems to have overlooked a very important section of the speech by Senator Flanders. Although they reported fully the attack which Mr. Flanders made on the Wisconsin senator, the wire services did not report fully the sensational attack which Mr. Flanders also made on some of the Eisenhower administration's foreign policies. The four paragraphs of the Tuesday address of Mr. Flanders — which Mr. Eisenhower was not asked about at his Wednesday press conference — are as follows:

Cites Communism's Advance

"When he (Senator McCarthy) and we look outward, what do we see? We see defeat in Korea, and the iron curtain moved down to the truce line by force of arms, in defiance of the principles and purposes of the United Nations. We find the same aggression pursued in Indochina, with our country assigned to play the part of a supporter of colonialism, and persuaded to enter into negotiations which are foredoomed to parallel, to a greater or less extent, the foreordained conclusion of the Korean truce.

"In Europe we see Italy ready to fall into Communist hands. We find France irresolute, palsied in thought and action, with her Communists well organized and sure of their ground. Saddest of all we see Great Britain nibbling at the drugged bait of trade profits, which benumbed her judgments when Japan moved into Manchuria and Mussolini moved into Ethiopia. Then followed, in logical sequence, the fall of the Rhineland, Austria, Czechoslovakia, and Poland in the second World War.

"Let us look to the south. In Latin America, there are sturdy strongpoints of freedom. But there are likewise, alas, spreading infections of communism. Whole countries, not yet captured, are undergoing relentless infiltration.

"There is little need to spotlight the other trouble spots in Asia and in Africa. If this massive advance is not stemmed, our future place in the world is clearly foreordained. The iron curtain, now protecting Communist countries, will be drawn about the United States and Canada, the last remnants of the free world. This will not need to be accomplished by defeating us militarily. It will result from the capture of the rest of the world by infiltration and subversion. We will be left with no place to trade and no place to go except as we are permitted to trade and to go by the Communist masters of the world."

Nobody has better stated the importance of the objectives of the various congressional committees of the last 20 years in their burning desire to expose the "relentless infiltration" of the Alger Hisses, the Harry Dexter Whites and the Klaus Fuchses inside the American government.

Kitchen Engineer

The housewife of 1954 finds knowledge of a different variety from that possessed by a housewife of a former era necessary for smooth operation of the home. She must, in fact, be something of an engineer.

So many and varied are mechanical conveniences, improvements and gadgets that a woman who is not mechanically minded can really get things jammed up. If she pushes the wrong button, or shifts into reverse when full speed ahead is indicated, something is bound to happen.

The old saw about the bride who didn't know how to boil water is definitely dated. Today's bride knows that water is best if boiled in a pressure cooker, and that it takes perhaps a minute.

The old-fashioned cook who knew how many "pinches" of this and that to add to whatever she was making for best results, would be amazed if turned loose in a modern kitchen. Freezers, refrigerators, washers, pressure cookers, automatic stoves, electric food mixers, garbage disposal units and, in fact, the lowly faucet would send her into a state of at least slight, and probably major, confusion.

Today's women are bright by whatever tests they are rated. But when an attempt is made to evaluate them as kitchen engineers, no mere male is competent to give them even preliminary tests. Where is the man who could enter a modern kitchen and monkey with the machinery without causing heinous damage?

But there is no denying the fact that the jungle of mechanical equipment that is the modern kitchen was designed by men. Perhaps they intentionally tried to fill the culinary department with Rube Goldberg contraptions that the average man would be unable to master. If so, they succeeded admirably. The kitchen today is strictly a sphere of operations for the Kitchen Engineer.

Green Is For Trees

People express their individualities in ways too numerous to count. Some let auto designers do their individualizing for them and tool around in cars the color of tomato soup. Others stand on their heads in public, sit on pillars, or dye their hair with neon effects. All of them are potential trouble makers because conformists are apt to stop and take a second look and that usually means a traffic jam.

It is not difficult to understand the concern of the Douglas Aircraft officials over the stopping power of one of their female employes in the Long Beach, Calif., airframe plant. Gals were known as production bottlenecks during the war when they showed up for work in tight sweaters. But this particular gal was wearing a bright red blouse—which is her prerogative—and bright, grass green hair.

Apparently the line came to a grinding halt, and so did production in other departments as the word got around and people gathered. All told, Douglas officials said, about 300 people stood around and gaped at this verdant topknot.

Well, quite naturally they sent her home where her husband, apparently a conformist, ordered her to wash the stuff out and quit being silly. Here is where sympathies become divided and any hardcase conclusion would be presumptuous. Most persons will feel equally for management, which had schedules to meet, and for the young matron, who probably figured that the line would have broken down if a stunning redhead had strolled into the plant. So why not give 'em the green treatment?

The other object lesson, perhaps, is for makers of hair dye who depend on large volume to stay in business: On trees green looks fine—on ladies, well, there are too many traffic jams anyway.

Stalin Is Very Dead

Great men, as well as notorious, more often than not, loom larger to posterity than to their contemporaries. In Soviet Russia, the fact that Lenin was the No. 1 bolshevik—with all that connotes—is attested by the perseverance of his memory in the face of Stalin's efforts to play it down.

Not so with Stalin. It is little more than a year since he died, and already he is being thoroughly deemphasized, though not debunked, in his own country. The fulsome adulation for him which was standard equipment in every Communist speech and article in the Soviet Union has quietly vanished.

The new official chronicle of the first 50 years of the Communist party mentions Lenin in almost every paragraph, Stalin only half a dozen times. The false legend that Stalin was Lenin's right-hand man has been abandoned. New pictures of Stalin rarely appear, and many of the old likenesses that stared at Russians from every wall have disappeared.

The fact seems to be that before he died nearly everybody in Russia, as well as elsewhere in the world, was sick of Stalin. Whether Stalin was sick before he died will no doubt always be a subject of controversy. Big Brother's face was omnipresent; his name was on all lips; his favorites were sitting pretty; his enemies were marked for destruction; his shifting political insights were anxiously followed; and all independent accomplishment had to be sanctified by testifying loudly that it could never have been without the inspiration and guidance of the great, the puissant Stalin.

Japanese Treaty

Mutual defense agreement entered into by the United States and Japan would have been unanimously regarded as unthinkable a decade ago. Japan, the slogan then, was never again to be permitted to arm and become a world military power.

Today a rearmed Japan is regarded as a necessary bulwark against the Russian threat in Asia. Moscow and Peiping pretend to be outraged, and South Korea and the Chinese Nationalists are not happy about this development, although taking a more moderate view.

The Chinese Nationalists fought a long and bloody war against the Japanese invaders, a war which was followed by Communists conquest of their mainland. Korea, of course, was occupied by Japan for half a century.

The agreement ties Japan to the West in their fight against communism, and is in fact nearly identical to national defense pacts which this country has signed with several other nations. Funds and food will be provided by the U. S. to bolster Japan's economy. Planes and ships will be provided for its rearmament program.

The agreement brings closer the day when the bulk of American forces will be withdrawn from the Orient. How much closer few observers in Washington attempt to guess.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Hemorrhagic Fever

During the past two years, two new diseases have been described by the medical profession. One, hemorrhagic fever, originates in Korea and is of concern to us because many of our soldiers developed the disorder. The other, kwashiorkor, comes from East Africa. Don't ask me how to pronounce it! The condition is of nutritional origin and results from weaning babies too soon. I will discuss this disease more thoroughly tomorrow.

Hemorrhagic fever is well named because its victims encounter a rise in temperature accompanied by hemorrhage. The malady was unknown to Americans until some of our front line troops became sick with a strange illness, particularly men who were forced to "dig in" with vermin and rodents. The first few cases were puzzling but as the medical corps saw more of it, they realized that the troops were being exposed to a new disease that followed a definite pattern.

During the first days of the bout, symptoms resemble flu. There is fever along with redness of the face and neck and pain behind the eyes. The membranes of the throat and eyes often are congested and many victims complain of nausea and vomiting. The temperature may go as high as 106 degrees F. At the end of 72 hours, some improve and fever begins to subside. But this phase is temporary and shortly thereafter, the manifestations start anew and may be more serious than in the first episode. On the fourth or fifth day, pain may shift to the lower back and the homorrhage tendency is initiated.

In many, bleeding is from the kidneys initially but hemorrhages into the heart muscle, lungs, brain, and the pituitary and adrenal glands occur also. Damage to these organs sets the pattern for the ensuing symptoms. Involvement of the adrenals, for example, may be responsible for lethargy, whereas brain involvement leads to heartache, stiffness of the neck, and convulsions. The lesions from skin hemorrhages range from tiny red dots to large black and blue areas.

The course of the disease varies considerably. Some sufferers are well within a few days and others are ill for more than eight weeks. The overall mortality rate has not been reported but is estimated as between five and 15 per cent. While the cause is unknown, some physicians are of the opinion that a chemical substance such as a toxin or poison is responsible for the body changes. Others believe it to be infectious and the rickettsial organisms are considered the most likely culprits because they usually are transmitted by infected ticks that have been feeding on diseased rodents. So far as we know the ailment in our soldiers did not spread beyond the confines of the battle area.

TOMORROW: "Red" disease in Africa.

Regardless of President Eisenhower's appeal to the public on taxes, the fate of the tax bill largely lies in the hands of one kindly but powerful Democrat. He is ex-Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas.

"Mr. Sam" as he is called by younger colleagues has served 41 years in the House of Representatives and prizes in his library a long list of laws which he put through Congress protecting the public generally and the little man in particular. They include the Truth-in-Securities Act requiring corporations to tell the truth about their bond and stock issues; the Securities and Exchange Act, setting up a body to police Wall Street; the Holding Corporation Act, cutting up some of the big holding corporations; rural electrification; the Federal Communications Commission and various others.

Unlike his young Texas disciple, Senator Lyndon Johnson, "Mr. Sam" has never deviated from his policy of fighting for the "folks." And that is one reason the Republican tax bill faces rough sledding. For "Mr. Sam" is just about ready to move to send the entire tax bill back to the Ways and Means Committee, in which case he has so much prestige in Congress that almost every Democrat and some Republicans will back him up.

Tax "Steals"

One reason for Sam Rayburn's opposition to the tax bill is that it gives too many favors to the big taxpayer and follows the "trickle-down" system used in Andy Mellon's day of granting benefits at the top on the theory that they will trickle down to the bottom. Specifically the new tax bill contains five big loopholes—some congressmen call them "steals"—through which Sam says the corporations could just about drive a truck.

Here is a list of the loopholes:

1. Dividend Credits—Those who receive their income from dividends as against wages and earned income get an allowance of $50 the first year and $100 thereafter. On top of this they get an exemption of 10 per cent on their tax bill. Democratic opponents of the tax bill point out that 75 per cent of those getting income from dividends are people earning over $10,000 a year.

2. Accelerated Depreciation — This permits corporations and others to write off the cost of new investments at a much faster rate, and according to the Democrats will mean a loss to the government for the next 17 years. Other taxpayers will have to make up that loss.

3. Reduced Taxes on Foreign Income — Corporations with investment abroad will have their taxes reduced about one-third or from 52 per cent to 38 per cent. Some Democrats don't object to the principle of encouraging foreign loans, but they say they should not be encouraged at the expense of other taxpayers. Others object on the ground that U. S. companies will move factories to cheap foreign labor markets at the expense of American labor, just as some New England factories are now moving south.

4. Charitable Trusts—This is a provision whereby a high-bracket taxpayer can give stocks and bonds to a university or charity for two years or more then get them back later. This gives him an important tax reduction. Thus, a 90 per cent bracket taxpayer, loaning securities to a college which would earn him $10,000, will save himself about $9,000 in taxes and would get a tax reduction of $10,000.

5. Pension Inequities—This loophole reinstates the unfair provisions of the tax laws during the 1930's when corporations could get tax reductions to pay pension to tap executives only. In 1942, these injustices were wiped out and small-salaried people could also get pensions. The new law goes back 12 years and reinstates earlier abuses by which only top executives benefited from deductions for pensions.

These are some of the things that rankle Sam Rayburn and will make the tax fight one of the hottest in years.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

I'm A Tourist

It came to me, when I had to go to Florida for a speech, that I might see the world as a tourist does, riding a car, stopping to see the sights, eating wherever I could, wearing an exciting open-collared green shirt with black squares.

City folks rarely realize how many thousands of men and women have the time and the money to wander about the country seeing things. It must be the result of vacations with pay or the pensions that come at the early age of 55. At any rate, they all seem to have jingle money, not too much but enough to pull away from home and just wander.

Being a tourist is great fun because the world is full of novelties, if only one forgets how old he is. For instance, I had never been in a glass-bottomed boat, viewing the floor of a lake of crystal clear water. As Silver Springs, I saw great schools of catfish playing in the vegetation which was so different from anything I had ever seen before.

Then I went to Ross Allen's Reptile Institute to see a snake get milked. I think it was a diamond-back rattlesnake and an angry devil he was. Too many of us think that we know everything because we know the little world in which we work. I, for instance, have an acquaintance with many so-called great men and if, at times, I sound pessimistic or even cynical, it is because the great prove to be so small.

Ross Allen knows snakes and alligators and such creatures and he can milk a snake, which no United States senator or general in the Army can do. And it is an exciting experience because while the snake wants to kill Allen, all Allen wants is the venom, which he sells for a profit to drug houses.

So, in due course, I wandered down to Cypress Gardens, which has been developed by an ex-press agent and real estate operator, Richard Downing Pope, into one of the most beautiful gardens on earth. Thousands come to see the aquatic sports there, but they held no lure for me. The flowers and trees and climbing vines, the beautiful vistas, the great ferns and the background of cypresses — these held me for hours and I envied the man who could spend his life among them. This park must never be lost, even if jingle money grows scarce.

So we wandered on to the Bok Tower, a gem of architecture, so reminiscent, not in design, but in concept, of the Taj Mahal. I do not know what impelled the truly great publisher and editor, Edward Bok, to erect this tower and lay out the grounds. The tower with its fine carillon, consisting of 71 bells, provides a delightful interlude in a troubled world. All the time I was there, I could not help wonder why the Bok Memorial is called the "Mountain Lake Sanctuary and Singing Tower." What about Bok? Is he forgotten? It makes one humble to stand before beauty; it makes one more humble to realize how quickly the author of beauty is forgotten.

On a cold evening, after a rain, about 3,500 of us tourists went to see the Passion Play staged by Josef Meier. We sat in a vast amphitheater where the stage and buildings are permanent structures. Josef Meier plays the role of Christ. It is a magnificent performance, beautifully staged. Yet something in the text bothered me. Pontius Pilate was almost a hero. Judas Iscariot is more repentent than the Gospels say that he was. Caiaphas, the High Priest, is the villain of the play. The text is definitely medieval and therefore startling in these times when we have a more historical view of the life, tribulations and death of Jesus than the medieval narrowness permitted. I spoke to Josef Meier about this and he told me, I think he said, that a 13th Century text was used. The Passion Play leaves an impression which cannot ever be forgotten.

So, I continued to tour on the back roads of Florida, from the north of the state to Miami Beach where everything is made to glitter by electric lights and neon signs. The contrast is startling and the tourist returns to his home assured that in the United States, in an automobile, one can see everything.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP

Another Herbert Hoover

WASHINGTON

There are three leading possibilities for the important post of under secretary of state. One of these the present deputy under secretary, Robert Murphy, and another is Foreign Operations Administrator Harold Stassen, both of whom want the job. The third is none other than Herbert Hoover Jr., who doesn't want the job at all.

There is no secret about the fact that the present under secretary, W. Bedell Smith, intends to leave the State Department before too long. His health is none too good, he has had tempting offers from private business, and after a lifetime of valuable public service he naturally wants to build up a financial competency while he can.

The search for his successor is not yet urgent, since Smith is not expected to leave for some little time. But already the pulling and hauling for this vital job, one of the half dozen key policy-making jobs in the government, has begun.

The younger Hoover is certainly doing no pulling and hauling on his own behalf—indeed it is quite possible that he does not know his name is being discussed. Yet it is being dicussed quite seriously. The fact is that Hoover has impressed many people with the skill with which he has handled his present delicate State Department assignment. This assignment, for which he was chosen by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, is to achieve an oil settlement in Iran.

Admired By Eden

Those impressed include such important men in the administration as Dulles himself, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, Attorney General Herbert Brownell, and Roger Kyes, the outgoing deputy secretary of defense, with all of whom Hoover has worked closely. Another Hoover admirer is British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

At the Bermuda conference, Eden told the American delegation that if anyone on earth could negotiate a settlement in Iran, Hoover could. In short, Hoover has shown brilliant qualifications for handling the foreign end of his job. He is also well qualified to handle the almost equally important domestic end.

A good part of the under secretary's job, after all, is to protect the secretary's rear, on Capitol Hill. Hoover has shown himself adept (as his father never was) at handling members of Congress, and it is already obvious that Dulles is going to have his troubles on the Hill. Yet even Sen. McCarthy could hardly convincingly accuse a Herbert Hoover of appeasing Russia or coddling Communists.

For such reasons, there is at least a good sporting bet that Hoover will be approached on the number two foreign policy job. But it would probably require the intervention of the President himself to get him to take it.

Hoover has, in fact, already been offered an ambassadorship informally, and he rejected the offer out of hand. Like his father a brilliant engineer, Hoover is also a highly successful venture capitalist, with large holdings abroad, which he would have to sell if he became under secretary of state.

Stassen Wants It

What is probably more important, he saw enough of Washington political and official life as a young man in the White House, and now, he has told friends, he wants no part of it. By way of contrast, Stassen wants Smith's job so badly he can taste it, and he is already heeling hard for it.

Stassen's foreign operations administration is a small empire anyway these days, and it is getting smaller all the time. If his political career is not to end on a note of dying fall, Stassen must move on, and the State Department job is the only visible spot reasonably near the center of the political stage. Stassen's personal relations with Dulles are cordial enough. But Dulles might well feel a trifle uncomfortable, with the passionately ambitious Stassen as his heir apparent.

Stassen gave evidence that his ambitions are by no means dead recently, when he put forward a grandiose scheme for dumping American agricultural surpluses abroad. The scheme was sat on firmly by the State Department, on the grounds that, though it might have pleased the farm belt, it might also have wrecked the Western Alliance.

Unlike Stassen, Murphy is not heeling for the job, but he would undoubtedly accept it if offered. He is a man of great and proved ability. He has a record of strong anti-communism long antedating McCarthy's and is invulnerable on this score. Moreover, Murphy is a career foreign service officer, and Dulles is anxious to restore the shattered morale of the foreign service, which is, after all, as essential to the State Department as the officer corps is to the Army. For all these reasons, Murphy is a good bet for the vital job. But the able engineer with the familiar name remains an interesting long shot.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Just last Wednesday at his press conference President Eisenhower was saying that he had appealed to everybody he could reach with the sound of his voice to give less attention to subjects that are unworthy of occupying our time from morning to night.

This observation was followed by another comment from the President backing up that part of a speech which Senator Flanders of Vermont, Republican, had made in the Senate the previous day also deploring the attention which the McCarthy controversies were being given while much more serious situations in the world were being overlooked.

One would have thought that in an executive department subject to the discipline of the President, Mr. Eisenhower's advice might be heeded. But the very next day unbeknownst to the Republican members of the Senate subcommittee on investigations, the Department of the Army slipped to the Democratic members of the same committee a report containing sensational charges. These concerned the activities of members of that committee's staff in allegedly seeking favored treatment for a former member of their staff now serving in the Army.

Leaked To Press

Naturally the document was leaked to the press. The anti-McCarthy partisans welcomed it as a devastating report that would thereafter squelch the Wisconsin senator. But within a few hours Senator McCarthy and the staff of the Senate subcommittee came up with a report containing counter-charges of just as sensational a character hinting at an alleged blackmail attempt on the part of the Army's legal officer so as to get the committee to take the heat off the Army on the Communist issue. Much of the testimony on this point was written by Francis Carr, now a committee staff member, but formerly a supervisor in charge of an important desk in the New York office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Did anybody in the Eisenhower administration think that all this was going to keep the McCarthy controversy off the front pages and that attention wasn't going to continue to be diverted from other serious matters? Certainly the Senate now will have to investigate and take testimony under oath from everybody involved — Secretary Stevens, John G. Adams who is his legal counsel, Senator McCarthy, Francis Carr, Roy Cohn, and anyone else whose name is mentioned in these two conflicting reports. Also it may require the public disclosure of any other diaries which the Army may be keeping on what other senators and representatives have been asking for at the Pentagon for their constituents.

But in the midst of it all most everybody including the President seems to have overlooked a very important section of the speech by Senator Flanders. Although they reported fully the attack which Mr. Flanders made on the Wisconsin senator, the wire services did not report fully the sensational attack which Mr. Flanders also made on some of the Eisenhower administration's foreign policies. The four paragraphs of the Tuesday address of Mr. Flanders — which Mr. Eisenhower was not asked about at his Wednesday press conference — are as follows:

Cites Communism's Advance

"When he (Senator McCarthy) and we look outward, what do we see? We see defeat in Korea, and the iron curtain moved down to the truce line by force of arms, in defiance of the principles and purposes of the United Nations. We find the same aggression pursued in Indochina, with our country assigned to play the part of a supporter of colonialism, and persuaded to enter into negotiations which are foredoomed to parallel, to a greater or less extent, the foreordained conclusion of the Korean truce.

"In Europe we see Italy ready to fall into Communist hands. We find France irresolute, palsied in thought and action, with her Communists well organized and sure of their ground. Saddest of all we see Great Britain nibbling at the drugged bait of trade profits, which benumbed her judgments when Japan moved into Manchuria and Mussolini moved into Ethiopia. Then followed, in logical sequence, the fall of the Rhineland, Austria, Czechoslovakia, and Poland in the second World War.

"Let us look to the south. In Latin America, there are sturdy strongpoints of freedom. But there are likewise, alas, spreading infections of communism. Whole countries, not yet captured, are undergoing relentless infiltration.

"There is little need to spotlight the other trouble spots in Asia and in Africa. If this massive advance is not stemmed, our future place in the world is clearly foreordained. The iron curtain, now protecting Communist countries, will be drawn about the United States and Canada, the last remnants of the free world. This will not need to be accomplished by defeating us militarily. It will result from the capture of the rest of the world by infiltration and subversion. We will be left with no place to trade and no place to go except as we are permitted to trade and to go by the Communist masters of the world."

Nobody has better stated the importance of the objectives of the various congressional committees of the last 20 years in their burning desire to expose the "relentless infiltration" of the Alger Hisses, the Harry Dexter Whites and the Klaus Fuchses inside the American government.

Hospital Parking Lot Plan Is Aired By Mayor, Council

The location of the new parking lot for Memorial Hospital fronting on Ridgewood Avenue was the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Mayor and City Council yesterday.

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long said the people of his neighborhood, the Ridgewood Avenue section, had asked him to ascertain if it is planned to build the parking lot closer to the street than is allowed in the zoning restrictions for that area.

It was pointed out that the Johnson Heights Addition code forbids building a home within 40 feet of the curb.

The city, Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, declared, has zoning restrictions that forbids construction of buildings within 20 feet of the curb.

Finan said the lot cannot be construed as a building, but the ruling is a matter of interpretation.

Long said that when the Memorial Hospital Nurses Home was built, it was necessary for legal action to be taken to keep the building from being constructed inside the 40-foot space.

He also pointed out the entrance to the lot is being raised above the level of a drain pipe, and that there probably will be a possibility of water being shunted over on other properties.

Mayor Roy W. Eves replied to Long's question by informing him City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum is conferring with the contractor who is in the process of grading the lot.

The mayor promised that the matter will be settled before the project is completed.

Long said there has been some talk among the residents of obtaining legal assistance against the parking lot move.

Papal Medal Given Cumberland Native

A native of Cumberland, Mrs. Sargent White, who resides in Peace Valley, Va., has been awarded the Benemerenti Medal by Pope Pius. She is the former Elizabeth Laing.

The Benemerenti Medal was instituted in 1832 by Pope Gregory XVI. He called them merit medals and they were originally designed to reward civil and military daring and courage.

Mrs. White, whose home is near Falls Church, Va., is married and has two children. She is a former president of the Richmond Diocese Council of Catholic Women.

It is the first time the Benemerenti Medal has been awarded to a woman of the Richmond Diocese.

Melvin Fined $100 In Illegal Sale Of Intoxicants

Found guilty of selling intoxicants without a license, Joseph M. Melvin, 519 Virginia Avenue, was fined $100 yesterday in Police Court after he changed a plea of not guilty to nolo contendere.

Melvin, represented by Attorney Thomas Berry, did not testify before Magistrate Donald W. Mason. Specifically, he was charged with violating Chapter 10, Section 1 of the City Code.

Prosecuting witnesses were Raymond Thomas Gallaher, 28, of Columbia Street; Kirby Miller, 30, of Elm Street, and Hollie H. Wolford, 43, of Cresaptown, who police arrested last Wednesday following a disturbance at Miller's home.

At yesterday morning's trial, both Gallagher and Miller identified Melvin as the man who sold them the liquor.

Berry changed his client's plea when police began to testify. City Solicitor Thomas B. Finan prosecuted the case.

Hitchcock's Absence At Council Meeting Cited By Councilman

The absence of the superintendent of the Evitts Creek Water Company at meetings of the Mayor and Council created a sharp repartee yesterday in the council session.

The question regarding George M. Hitchcock was raised by Police and Fire Commissoner John J. Long who said:

"I wonder why Mr. Hitchcock cannot be at these meetings?"

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards replied:

"He is extremely busy out at the dam at this time."

Copy Of Audit Of Register's Office Received

A. Charles Stewart, register of wills for Allegany county, has received a copy of an audit of his office accounts from J. Millard Tawes, state comptroller.

The report covers the period from July 1, 1951, to June 30, 1953, and states that the accounts disclosed that funds derived from the collection of taxes by the office were distributed in accordance with the laws pertaining thereto.

A total of $1,000 was retained by the register of wills for the purchase of equipment for the office as authorized.

During the course of the examination, the receipts and disbursements of the register, together with collateral records and other supporting evidence, were examined or comprehensively tested. Cash on deposit in the general and alien fund accounts was verified by certifications obtained from the depository and reconciled with records of the register.

The balance in the alien fund totaled $236.35, presenting funds distributable to a national of Lithuania which had been held since 1942.

The register had been unable to make distribution of these funds and on November 2, 1953 an order was passed by the Orphans Court which made the funds payable to the county commissioners for the use of the public schools.

The estate dockets and real estate inventory records were scrutinized for delinquency in the filing of accounts and the payment of inheritance taxes. The accuracy of the register's records in this respect was tested by requesting certain executors and administrators to confirm the status of the estates involved. No exceptions were reported to the state auditors.

Recording was maintained on a current basis and the fees charged by the register appeared to be in conformity with those provided by law.

The statement of collection and distribution of taxes for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1953 lists a net of $75,459.69.

Expenses for the office for the same period totaled $12,997.35 with $11,760 of this being for salaries of two deputy registers of wills and two clerks. Office expenses such as telephone, dockets, stationery, printing, insurance and repairs to equipment amounted to $1,237.35.

Motorist Is Fined $100 In Ambulance Crash

Paul Timothy Byrne, 76 Main Street, Lonaconing, paid $100.75 yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court on a state motor charge resulting from a car-ambulance collision Saturday night on Route 40 at LaVale. He pleaded guilty.

Byrne had a second charge dismissed by Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

State Police Lt. W. E. O'Hara said Byrne crashed against a new and empty ambulance being taken to Washington. No one was injured.

"Family Night" Set

Cumberland Lodge 271, Moose, will observe "Family Night" today from 9 p. m. to midnight for members and guests. Music will be by the Helen Pettie Trio, with an intermission show by the Mountain City Entertainers of St. Michael's Minstrel Club, Frostburg.

City To Provide Extra Hours For Voter Registration

Extra hours to aid the 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday workers to register for the city election will be made available.

A schedule will be drawn by Finance Commissioner William V. Keegan and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery that will provide for Saturday morning registration at the City Hall.

The topic was brought up yesterday at council meeting by Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long who remarked that these workers have no opportunity to get to the City Hall before the registration office closes at 5 p. m. during the weekdays.

Mayor Roy W. Eves asked Ullery if the office could be opened the two Saturdays before the registration deadline.

Keegan said he and Ullery will outline a schedule for approval of the Mayor and Council.

The council passed an order hiring Mrs. Audrey P. Robey as a temporary clerk to help in the registration office during the pre-election rush at a salary of $150 a month.

Mrs. Roby's appointment becomes effective today when the regular clerk, Mrs. Ruth Manges, begins a two-week hospitalization leave of absence.

Local Residents Hurt In Area Accident

A local contractor, William George, and his wife, Emily, were injured Saturday morning when the auto in which they were riding collided with a truck at an intersection in Rockville.

George suffered a laceration of the face, several cracked ribs and a knee injury, while his wife sustained bruises and contusions. They were treated and X-rayed at Bethesda Suburban Hospital. Their ten-year-old daughter, Pamella, riding in the back seat, was uninjured.

Adult Group To Study Eating Habits Here

"Eating Habits" will be discussed at a meeting of the new evening adult study group at Gephart School today at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The first session of the new group was held a recent night at the school with Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel for the Allegany County Board of Education, leading the discussion on "Tolerance."

$650,000 Bond Sale Planned By Cumberland

Will Finance Street, Water, Rec Projects

The Mayor and Council yesterday passed an ordinance that calls for the sale of $650,000 in bonds.

Included in the 22-page ordinance, is provision for the sale at the lowest rate of interest $350,000 in urban development bonds, $150,000 in water improvement bonds and $150,000 in recreation bonds.

The $350,000 issue will go to the Bedford-Frederick Street project, Franklin and Thomas streets improvement, and other small projects.

The $150,000 in water bonds will be used for rehabilitation of the old filters at the Evitts Creek Water Company filtration plant.

The City Recreation Board has only plans to spend half of the $150,000 issue authorized by referendum six years ago. It will go to capital or permanent improvements of city-owned playgrounds, it was revealed today.

The whole amount approved by the citizens is being received in one lump in order to save double expenses that would be occurred if the $150,000 was advertised in two amounts of $75,000 each.

The Mayor and Council agreed that all of the three readings of the lengthy ordinance be made today so that there would be no delay in immediate advertisement of the bonds.

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson said there has been some delay in putting these issues out because last fall the bond market for municipal issues was "very poor." It improved at the first of the year and no delay was urged yesterday as it appears the market is dropping slightly, he added.

Finance Commisioner William V. Keegan inquired as to how the recreation money is going to be spent. It was explained that the $75,000 requested by the board would be placed in a fund with the board treasurer. This would be spent then upon approval of the Mayor and Council. The other $75,000 would be re-invested.

Missing Girl Home

Mary Ann Phillips, 16, of 427 Virginia Avenue, who was reported missing Saturday night, returned at her home yesterday.

Nominating Committee Named By PTA

The Cresaptown Parent-Teacher Association named a nominating committee of Mrs. Frank Ferrone, chairman; Mrs. Annetta Gerson, Mrs. Thomas Beachy, Mrs. Edward Walker and Oberlin Chaney at a recent meeting.

The budget committee with Otis Chaney as general chairman and Miss Georgia Gianopoulus, program chairman, will sponsor a variety talent show April 30 at the Cresaptown School.

Mrs. Hilda Gellner's Second Grade room won the cash award for the most parents present, and Mrs. Novella Crowe's First Grade won the banner.

A donation of $5 was sent to the state PTA "Founders Day" birthday gift fund.

Mrs. Walter Richardson presided at the session, and Fred Psimer led the flag salute and prayer. Mrs. Dirk Vandeburg led group singing. Mrs. Charles Wendt sang "April Showers" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." Miss Mary Elizabeth Kammauf was accompanist.

The program featured a panel discussion "Better Understanding of a Child's Problem." A film, "Angry Boy," was shown. It was the basis for the panel demonstration. The panel members were Mrs. George Martin, Parents; Oberlin Chaney, Teachers, Miss Myra Nefflen, principal, and Homer Higgins, personnel worker. Higgins conducted a question and answer program following the panel discussion.

Refreshments were served by the Fifth Grade mothers with Mrs. Fred Poland and Mrs. John Niner in charge.

Experts Will Visit Orchards Of Area

Two University of Maryland specialists will visit Allegany County today to inspect several orchards.

A. F. Vierheller, horticulturist, will go to the orchards of Theodore Stegmaier, Floyd Buser, Marvin Hinkle, Charles Humbertson and the Consolidated Orchard Company.

Accompanying Vierheller will be Joseph M. Steger, assistant county farm agent.

Pruning of peaches and fertilization of orchard lands will be discussed.

Dr. L. O. Weaver, plant pathologist, will visit the Stegmaier orchard and farm. He will inspect fruit trees and berry bushes for any diseases which may be affecting them.

What do young executives think of stocks?

ONE-MINUTE INTERVIEWS

JOHN A. McHUGH, JR., Sales Engineer, Stamford, Conn.

"I invest my money regularly in stocks because I'm sure this type of investment will provide the best return, and at the same time provide the security I'm working for in the future."

GEORGE E. DAVIE, Sales Executive, Los Angeles, California.

"To me stock ownership offers several unique advantages. I can own a part of practically any company I can think of. I know every day what my shares are worth. And I can buy or sell merely by picking up the telephone."

G. L. HACKLEY, JR., Advertising Executive, Batavia, Ill.

"I like the good return I get from my stocks . . . on the average about 6%. I read somewhere that two-thirds of all dividends come from companies on the New York Stock Exchange."

For every 1,000 executives, over 440 of them invest in stocks. And that's a nice recommendation—for who should know better how profitable it can be to own shares of a successful business?

Of course they don't buy just any stock. They talk things over first with a good broker. They steer away from risky tips, and look for companies with impressive records.

Cadillac

It Speaks a Universal Language!

It's the great 1954 Cadillac—and it speaks not only with great eloquence, but in a language which is known and understood wherever there are roads to travel . . . and people to behold.

First of all, it speaks of its owner—the minute its beautiful hood comes into view.

"Here is a man," it says—almost as plainly as the words are written here—"who has earned the right to sit at this wheel—by his industry and deportment and enterprise. Be he merchant or lawyer or businessman—or doctor or farmer or financier—the odds are great that he's a credit to his calling and to his fellow men.

"Accept him accordingly—and you'll likely be right in your judgment."

And then, as it comes closer, it speaks its special message for 1954—the story of its own advancement.

Its beautiful silhouette—graceful, free-flowing and dynamic—announces a whole new era in automotive design . . . "expect me to be copied for years to come!"

And its smooth, silent, easy movement—a true symphony in motion as it glides past and on and away—says with clarity and eloquence that the world's standard for performance has been raised again.

And remember—the wonderful "voice" of a 1954 Cadillac, with its significant message, comes as a bonus to the man who sits at the wheel.

It comes in addition to all the priceless fundamentals which make a Cadillac a Cadillac: unrivalled endurance and dependability—incomparable comfort and handling ease—and unbelievable economy of upkeep and operation.

Better come in—and let a Cadillac speak for you!

Hospital Parking Lot Plan Is Aired By Mayor, Council

The location of the new parking lot for Memorial Hospital fronting on Ridgewood Avenue was the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Mayor and City Council yesterday.

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long said the people of his neighborhood, the Ridgewood Avenue section, had asked him to ascertain if it is planned to build the parking lot closer to the street than is allowed in the zoning restrictions for that area.

It was pointed out that the Johnson Heights Addition code forbids building a home within 40 feet of the curb.

The city, Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, declared, has zoning restrictions that forbids construction of buildings within 20 feet of the curb.

Finan said the lot cannot be construed as a building, but the ruling is a matter of interpretation.

Long said that when the Memorial Hospital Nurses Home was built, it was necessary for legal action to be taken to keep the building from being constructed inside the 40-foot space.

He also pointed out the entrance to the lot is being raised above the level of a drain pipe, and that there probably will be a possibility of water being shunted over on other properties.

Mayor Roy W. Eves replied to Long's question by informing him City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum is conferring with the contractor who is in the process of grading the lot.

The mayor promised that the matter will be settled before the project is completed.

Long said there has been some talk among the residents of obtaining legal assistance against the parking lot move.

Papal Medal Given Cumberland Native

A native of Cumberland, Mrs. Sargent White, who resides in Peace Valley, Va., has been awarded the Benemerenti Medal by Pope Pius. She is the former Elizabeth Laing.

The Benemerenti Medal was instituted in 1832 by Pope Gregory XVI. He called them merit medals and they were originally designed to reward civil and military daring and courage.

Mrs. White, whose home is near Falls Church, Va., is married and has two children. She is a former president of the Richmond Diocese Council of Catholic Women.

It is the first time the Benemerenti Medal has been awarded to a woman of the Richmond Diocese.

Melvin Fined $100 In Illegal Sale Of Intoxicants

Found guilty of selling intoxicants without a license, Joseph M. Melvin, 519 Virginia Avenue, was fined $100 yesterday in Police Court after he changed a plea of not guilty to nolo contendere.

Melvin, represented by Attorney Thomas Berry, did not testify before Magistrate Donald W. Mason. Specifically, he was charged with violating Chapter 10, Section 1 of the City Code.

Prosecuting witnesses were Raymond Thomas Gallaher, 28, of Columbia Street; Kirby Miller, 30, of Elm Street, and Hollie H. Wolford, 43, of Cresaptown, who police arrested last Wednesday following a disturbance at Miller's home.

At yesterday morning's trial, both Gallagher and Miller identified Melvin as the man who sold them the liquor.

Hitchcock's Absence At Council Meeting Cited By Councilman

The absence of the superintendent of the Evitts Creek Water Company at meetings of the Mayor and Council created a sharp repartee yesterday in the council session.

The question regarding George M. Hitchcock was raised by Police and Fire Commissoner John J. Long who said:

"I wonder why Mr. Hitchcock cannot be at these meetings?"

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards replied:

"He is extremely busy out at the dam at this time."

Copy Of Audit Of Register's Office Received

A. Charles Stewart, register of wills for Allegany county, has received a copy of an audit of his office accounts from J. Millard Tawes, state comptroller.

The report covers the period from July 1, 1951, to June 30, 1953, and states that the accounts disclosed that funds derived from the collection of taxes by the office were distributed in accordance with the laws pertaining thereto.

A total of $1,000 was retained by the register of wills for the purchase of equipment for the office as authorized.

During the course of the examination, the receipts and disbursements of the register, together with collateral records and other supporting evidence, were examined or comprehensively tested. Cash on deposit in the general and alien fund accounts was verified by certifications obtained from the depository and reconciled with records of the register.

The balance in the alien fund totaled $236.35, presenting funds distributable to a national of Lithuania which had been held since 1942.

The register had been unable to make distribution of these funds and on November 2, 1953 an order was passed by the Orphans Court which made the funds payable to the county commissioners for the use of the public schools.

The estate dockets and real estate inventory records were scrutinized for delinquency in the filing of accounts and the payment of inheritance taxes. The accuracy of the register's records in this respect was tested by requesting certain executors and administrators to confirm the status of the estates involved. No exceptions were reported to the state auditors.

Recording was maintained on a current basis and the fees charged by the register appeared to be in conformity with those provided by law.

The statement of collection and distribution of taxes for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1953 lists a net of $75,459.69.

Expenses for the office for the same period totaled $12,997.35 with $11,760 of this being for salaries of two deputy registers of wills and two clerks. Office expenses such as telephone, dockets, stationery, printing, insurance and repairs to equipment amounted to $1,237.35.

Motorist Is Fined $100 In Ambulance Crash

Paul Timothy Byrne, 76 Main Street, Lonaconing, paid $100.75 yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court on a state motor charge resulting from a car-ambulance collision Saturday night on Route 40 at LaVale. He pleaded guilty.

Byrne had a second charge dismissed by Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

"Family Night" Set

Cumberland Lodge 271, Moose, will observe "Family Night" today from 9 p. m. to midnight for members and guests. Music will be by the Helen Pettie Trio, with an intermission show by the Mountain City Entertainers of St. Michael's Minstrel Club, Frostburg.

City To Provide Extra Hours For Voter Registration

Extra hours to aid the 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday workers to register for the city election will be made available.

A schedule will be drawn by Finance Commissioner William V. Keegan and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery that will provide for Saturday morning registration at the City Hall.

The topic was brought up yesterday at council meeting by Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long who remarked that these workers have no opportunity to get to the City Hall before the registration office closes at 5 p. m. during the weekdays.

Mayor Roy W. Eves asked Ullery if the office could be opened the two Saturdays before the registration deadline.

Keegan said he and Ullery will outline a schedule for approval of the Mayor and Council.

The council passed an order hiring Mrs. Audrey P. Robey as a temporary clerk to help in the registration office during the pre-election rush at a salary of $150 a month.

Mrs. Roby's appointment becomes effective today when the regular clerk, Mrs. Ruth Manges, begins a two-week hospitalization leave of absence.

Local Residents Hurt In Area Accident

A local contractor, William George, and his wife, Emily, were injured Saturday morning when the auto in which they were riding collided with a truck at an intersection in Rockville.

George suffered a laceration of the face, several cracked ribs and a knee injury, while his wife sustained bruises and contusions. They were treated and X-rayed at Bethesda Suburban Hospital. Their ten-year-old daughter, Pamella, riding in the back seat, was uninjured.

Adult Group To Study Eating Habits Here

"Eating Habits" will be discussed at a meeting of the new evening adult study group at Gephart School today at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The first session of the new group was held a recent night at the school with Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel for the Allegany County Board of Education, leading the discussion on "Tolerance."

In Ireland, off-course horserace betting is legal and bookies are respected members of their communities.

JOHN A. McHUGH, JR., Sales Engineer, Stamford, Conn.

"I invest my money regularly in stocks because I'm sure this type of investment will provide the best return, and at the same time provide the security I'm working for in the future."

GEORGE E. DAVIE, Sales Executive, Los Angeles, California.

"To me stock ownership offers several unique advantages. I can own a part of practically any company I can think of. I know every day what my shares are worth. And I can buy or sell merely by picking up the telephone."

G. L. HACKLEY, JR., Advertising Executive, Batavia, Ill.

"I like the good return I get from my stocks . . . on the average about 6%. I read somewhere that two-thirds of all dividends come from companies on the New York Stock Exchange."

For every 1,000 executives, over 440 of them invest in stocks. And that's a nice recommendation—for who should know better how profitable it can be to own shares of a successful business?

Of course they don't buy just any stock. They talk things over first with a good broker. They steer away from risky tips, and look for companies with impressive records.

$650,000 Bond Sale Planned By Cumberland

Will Finance Street, Water, Rec Projects

The Mayor and Council yesterday passed an ordinance that calls for the sale of $650,000 in bonds.

Included in the 22-page ordinance, is provision for the sale at the lowest rate of interest $350,000 in urban development bonds, $150,000 in water improvement bonds and $150,000 in recreation bonds.

The $350,000 issue will go to the Bedford-Frederick Street project, Franklin and Thomas streets improvement, and other small projects.

The $150,000 in water bonds will be used for rehabilitation of the old filters at the Evitts Creek Water Company filtration plant.

The City Recreation Board has only plans to spend half of the $150,000 issue authorized by referendum six years ago. It will go to capital or permanent improvements of city-owned playgrounds, it was revealed today.

The whole amount approved by the citizens is being received in one lump in order to save double expenses that would be occurred if the $150,000 was advertised in two amounts of $75,000 each.

The Mayor and Council agreed that all of the three readings of the lengthy ordinance be made today so that there would be no delay in immediate advertisement of the bonds.

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson said there has been some delay in putting these issues out because last fall the bond market for municipal issues was "very poor." It improved at the first of the year and no delay was urged yesterday as it appears the market is dropping slightly, he added.

Finance Commisioner William V. Keegan inquired as to how the recreation money is going to be spent. It was explained that the $75,000 requested by the board would be placed in a fund with the board treasurer. This would be spent then upon approval of the Mayor and Council. The other $75,000 would be re-invested.

Missing Girl Home

Mary Ann Phillips, 16, of 427 Virginia Avenue, who was reported missing Saturday night, returned at her home yesterday.

Nominating Committee Named By PTA

The Cresaptown Parent-Teacher Association named a nominating committee of Mrs. Frank Ferrone, chairman; Mrs. Annetta Gerson, Mrs. Thomas Beachy, Mrs. Edward Walker and Oberlin Chaney at a recent meeting.

The budget committee with Otis Chaney as general chairman and Miss Georgia Gianopoulus, program chairman, will sponsor a variety talent show April 30 at the Cresaptown School.

Mrs. Hilda Gellner's Second Grade room won the cash award for the most parents present, and Mrs. Novella Crowe's First Grade won the banner.

A donation of $5 was sent to the state PTA "Founders Day" birthday gift fund.

Mrs. Walter Richardson presided at the session, and Fred Psimer led the flag salute and prayer. Mrs. Dirk Vandeburg led group singing. Mrs. Charles Wendt sang "April Showers" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." Miss Mary Elizabeth Kammauf was accompanist.

The program featured a panel discussion "Better Understanding of a Child's Problem." A film, "Angry Boy," was shown. It was the basis for the panel demonstration. The panel members were Mrs. George Martin, Parents; Oberlin Chaney, Teachers, Miss Myra Nefflen, principal, and Homer Higgins, personnel worker. Higgins conducted a question and answer program following the panel discussion.

Refreshments were served by the Fifth Grade mothers with Mrs. Fred Poland and Mrs. John Niner in charge.

Experts Will Visit Orchards Of Area

Two University of Maryland specialists will visit Allegany County today to inspect several orchards.

A. F. Vierheller, horticulturist, will go to the orchards of Theodore Stegmaier, Floyd Buser, Marvin Hinkle, Charles Humbertson and the Consolidated Orchard Company.

Accompanying Vierheller will be Joseph M. Steger, assistant county farm agent.

Pruning of peaches and fertilization of orchard lands will be discussed.

Dr. L. O. Weaver, plant pathologist, will visit the Stegmaier orchard and farm. He will inspect fruit trees and berry bushes for any diseases which may be affecting them.

Union Grove Club Studies Home Colors

Miss Joann Reitz, home demonstration agent, modeled aprons and gave a demonstration on "Color in the Home" at the meeting of the Union Grove Homemakers Club recently at the home of Mrs. Alvin Wilson, Bedford Road. Mrs. Lloyd Keller and Mrs. Roy Beall were cohostesses with Mrs. Wilson.

Modeling three garden aprons, Miss Reitz said they are samples of the aprons the homemakers are to make to sell at the Homemaker booth at the Community Flower Show May 6 and 7 at Emmanuel Episcopal parish house. It is sponsored by the Garden Group of the Woman's Civic Club.

In her demonstration on color in the home, she said accessories, draperies and slipcovers are to complement the color of the walls and floor. She stressed the importance of accentuating one color throughout the house. Roll call was answered with "problems in the home."

Mrs. Grant Hicks presided at the business session when members voted $3 to the 4-H Boys for the club house. Eight members plan to make the embassy tour April 24 by chartered bus. It was pointed out that reservations must be made by April 1. Announcement was made of the Family Life meeting being held at Central YMCA March 17, with Mrs. Jeanne S. Moehn, family life specialist of the University of Maryland, as the speaker.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. George Yeargan, who also read the treasurer's report. Mrs. Wilson played the organ and a community sing was held.

Mrs. John S. Cook and Miss Reitz were guests. Twenty-six members attended.

The April 14 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Wentling, with Mrs. Steve Bowling, Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Wentling cohostesses.

Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Spring Meet To Be Mar. 30

The annual spring meeting of the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will be held at 7:30 o'clock, March 30 in the class room of Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. Mrs. S. G. Weisman will preside.

Chairmen and officers will report on the years' activities.

Action is to be taken on the purchase of a new type of infant incubator, with the proceeds from the annual card party held in January 1954, which Mrs. Weisman said last evening was an "overwhelming success."

There also will be the report on the status of the Scholarship Fund for Graduate Nurses; plans will be formulated for honoring this years graduating class; and a dance for the graduate nurses.

Volunteers for service with the newly organized group of volunteers will be registered. The group has been giving volunteer service weekday mornings since early in January. Women are asked to give service from 9 until 1 o'clock, one day a month, two days a month or on the weekly basis. Mrs. Milton Bernstein, phone 3194, is in charge of the project.

Twiggtown Club Studies Home Colors

The Twiggtown Homemakers Club voted to make a contribution to the Red Cross, Saturday at the home of Mrs. Homer Robey, Hinkle Road.

Members also voted to purchase denim for making three aprons to be sold at the Community Flower Show, which is being sponsored by the Woman's Civic Club May 6 and 7.

The meeting was opened with the group reciting the Lord's Prayer and singing the song of the month, "O Solo Mio." Members answered roll call by naming a decorating problem in their home.

Mrs. Nelson Willison presided at the business session and urged members to attend the Family Life training meeting at Central YMCA March 17 from 10 until 3 o'clock. The topic will be "Understanding Teenagers."

A demonstration on Color in the Home was given by Miss Joanne Reitz. Explaining that color has many values graduating from the lightest, color with white added, to the deeper shades, color with black added, and that many successful color schemes are one color predominating using different values of the one color. She then built the color scheme of several rooms around two small china figurines and a picture of a flower garden done in water colors. She chose those particular objects because, she said, they had colors that most people would enjoy having repeated in their surroundings.

For drapes and slip covers she chose fabrics from the newer wrinkle resistant, water repellent textured weaves as well as denim and inexpensive percale print, tying together color combinations for living room, boys and girls bedrooms and the master bedroom that were decoratively pleasing. Miss Reitz suggested the use of natures colors, the greens of foliage and clean clear colors of garden flowers. Too many bright colors in one room, she said, create a feeling of unrest and they should be used in small amounts for accent.

The Reading chairmen recommended A. J. Cronin's book, "Beyond this Place." The Music chairmen gave the history of the closing hymn, "O Sacred Head now Wounded."

The club will meet April 10 at the home of Mrs. Austin D. Twigg Jr., Twiggtown Farms.

Operetta To Be Given At East Side

Girl Scouts Aid World Friendship

Intermediate and Senior Girl Scout Troops contributed $34.65 to the Juliette Low World Friendship fund at their Parent-Daughter dinner, Saturday night at St. Mary's Church hall. The Brownie Scouts will make their contribution at their Parent - Daughter dinner March 23 at Centre Street Church.

Alice Bartlett, member of Senior Troop 12, gave a brief resume of the purpose of the World Friendship fund and each troop presented the contributions. She pointed out that this fund provides for girls to attend International Encampments, such as Judith Porter, guest speaker, attended.

A Senior scout from Martinsburg, W. Va., Miss Porter told of her experiences while camping one week last summer with the Norwegian Girl Guides and showed pictures of camp, activities and scenes of the Norwegian countryside, also places she visited while in Paris, London and on a three day camping trip with the English Ranger Sea Scouts. She said she was most impressed with the Norwegian girls resourcefulness and acceptance of responsibilities which were brought out by camping experiences. She stressed the part her Girl Scout camping played in preparing her for this trip.

Julianne Kelly conducted the flag ceremony, which includes the American flag, the World Friendship of Girl Scouts flag and the Cumberland Council of Girl Scouts flag. The group singing was conducted by Mrs. Monroe McKenzie with Mrs. Robert Gormer at the piano. Mrs. A. M. Spioch presided and extended a welcome. The invocation was offered by Rev. Howard Amoss, Centre Street Church, and Rev. Lawrence Landrigan, St. Mary's Church, gave the benediction. Mrs. Joseph Williams introduced the speaker.

A flag ceremony with the presentation of the flags of the member countries of the World Association, was held. The flags made by the different troops included those Australia, Luxenberg, Egypt, Denmark, Italy, Switzerland, Netherlands, France, Brazil, Sweden, Pakistan, Canada, South Africa, Greece, Belgium, Norway, Philippine Islands, Soumi, Finland, Great Britain and the United States.

Mrs. Ellsworth Brewer was in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Patrick Hogan, Mrs. H. E. Robbins and Mrs. Dora Parsons, Program committee members.

A covered dish supper will be held by the Mothers Club of the Star Dance Studio at 6:30 tonight at the studio. Mrs. Agnes Leasure will be in charge. The serving committee consists of Mrs. Madeline Morrissey, Mrs. Lila Sommerblatt and Mrs. Lois Sheanely.

Clara June Helmick Selects March 27 For Wedding Date

To Be Bride Of John E. Dougherty

Miss Clara June Helmick, fiancee of John E. Dougherty, has selected March 27 as the date of their marriage.

The wedding ceremony is being solemnized in St. Patrick's Catholic Church at 1 p. m., with Rev. John U. Lyness officiating.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Cousin, Greenbelt, is to be her sister's matron of honor and only attendant, while George Martin, city, serves as Mr. Dougherty's best man.

Miss Helmick, Greene Street, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Helmick, Thomas, W. Va. She is a graduate of Thomas High School, class of 1949 and attended Catherman's Business School. She is employed by Bert Graham, insurance agency and Mary Matthews, public stenographer. Miss Helmick is a member of the Young Business Women's Club.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Dougherty, 709 Lincoln Street. He was employed by the Acme Company, Inc., prior to entering the service August 6, 1951. Of the two years in the Army, he spent 17 months in Korea, and was wounded in action while fighting the communists on T-Bone Hill. He is employed by the Quaker City Life Insurance Company.

Youth Rally Dinner To Be Held May 1

May 1 was set as the date for the Spring Rally of the Youth Temperance Council at the meeting of the Semper Fidelis Bible Class of Bethany Evangelical United Brethren Church. The meeting was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Hosselrode, Woodlawn, LaVale. Mrs. Earl Zembower was cohostess.

The rally is to be held at the church at 2 o'clock, with representatives from Baltimore attending. It will be followed by a Fellowship dinner at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Edgar Shumaker, Mrs. Wilmer Null and Mrs. Grace Wolford were named the committee in charge of the dinner.

Plans also were made to help sponsor the publication of the weekly bulletin.

Mrs. Null had charge of the devotionals, using "Prayer" as her theme. Poems and readings were given by Mrs. Donald Pentony, Mrs. Humbird Summerkamp, Mrs. Arnold Twigg, Mrs. Paul Gross, Miss Charlotte Wolford, Mrs. Zembower, Mrs. Frank Ellis, Mrs. Clyde Wolford, Mrs. Shumaker, and Mrs. Charles Welch.

Others attending were Mrs. Edgar Cole, Mrs. Walter Clark, Mrs. Wallace Wolford, Mrs. William Knotts, Mrs. William Goldsborough, Mrs. M. H. Burgess, Mrs. Richard Spangler, Mrs. Wayne Hosselrode, Miss Janice Twigg and Mrs. Roberta Kesecker. Gary Wolford and John Hosselrode were guests.

The next meeting will be April 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Shumaker, 129 Race Street, with Mrs. Null cohostess.

Union Grove Club Studies Home Colors

Miss Joann Reitz, home demonstration agent, modeled aprons and gave a demonstration on "Color in the Home" at the meeting of the Union Grove Homemakers Club recently at the home of Mrs. Alvin Wilson, Bedford Road. Mrs. Lloyd Keller and Mrs. Roy Beall were cohostesses with Mrs. Wilson.

Modeling three garden aprons, Miss Reitz said they are samples of the aprons the homemakers are to make to sell at the Homemaker booth at the Community Flower Show May 6 and 7 at Emmanuel Episcopal parish house. It is sponsored by the Garden Group of the Woman's Civic Club.

In her demonstration on color in the home, she said accessories, draperies and slipcovers are to complement the color of the walls and floor. She stressed the importance of accentuating one color throughout the house. Roll call was answered with "problems in the home."

Mrs. Grant Hicks presided at the business session when members voted $3 to the 4-H Boys for the club house. Eight members plan to make the embassy tour April 24 by chartered bus. It was pointed out that reservations must be made by April 1. Announcement was made of the Family Life meeting being held at Central YMCA March 17, with Mrs. Jeanne S. Moehn, family life specialist of the University of Maryland, as the speaker.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. George Yeargan, who also read the treasurer's report. Mrs. Wilson played the organ and a community sing was held.

Mrs. John S. Cook and Miss Reitz were guests. Twenty-six members attended.

Personals

Harmon J. Barton, Pinto, is a surgical patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Spring Meet To Be Mar. 30

The annual spring meeting of the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will be held at 7:30 o'clock, March 30 in the class room of Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. Mrs. S. G. Weisman will preside.

Chairmen and officers will report on the years' activities.

Action is to be taken on the purchase of a new type of infant incubator, with the proceeds from the annual card party held in January 1954, which Mrs. Weisman said last evening was an "overwhelming success."

There also will be the report on the status of the Scholarship Fund for Graduate Nurses; plans will be formulated for honoring this years graduating class; and a dance for the graduate nurses.

Volunteers for service with the newly organized group of volunteers will be registered. The group has been giving volunteer service weekday mornings since early in January. Women are asked to give service from 9 until 1 o'clock, one day a month, two days a month or on the weekly basis. Mrs. Milton Bernstein, phone 3194, is in charge of the project.

Twiggtown Club Studies Home Colors

The Twiggtown Homemakers Club voted to make a contribution to the Red Cross, Saturday at the home of Mrs. Homer Robey, Hinkle Road.

Members also voted to purchase denim for making three aprons to be sold at the Community Flower Show, which is being sponsored by the Woman's Civic Club May 6 and 7.

The meeting was opened with the group reciting the Lord's Prayer and singing the song of the month, "O Solo Mio." Members answered roll call by naming a decorating problem in their home.

Mrs. Nelson Willison presided at the business session and urged members to attend the Family Life training meeting at Central YMCA March 17 from 10 until 3 o'clock. The topic will be "Understanding Teenagers."

A demonstration on Color in the Home was given by Miss Joanne Reitz. Explaining that color has many values graduating from the lightest, color with white added, to the deeper shades, color with black added, and that many successful color schemes are one color predominating using different values of the one color. She then built the color scheme of several rooms around two small china figurines and a picture of a flower garden done in water colors. She chose those particular objects because, she said, they had colors that most people would enjoy having repeated in their surroundings.

For drapes and slip covers she chose fabrics from the newer wrinkle resistant, water repellent textured weaves as well as denim and inexpensive percale print, tying together color combinations for living room, boys and girls bedrooms and the master bedroom that were decoratively pleasing. Miss Reitz suggested the use of natures colors, the greens of foliage and clean clear colors of garden flowers. Too many bright colors in one room, she said, create a feeling of unrest and they should be used in small amounts for accent.

The Reading chairmen recommended A. J. Cronin's book, "Beyond this Place." The Music chairmen gave the history of the closing hymn, "O Sacred Head now Wounded."

The club will meet April 10 at the home of Mrs. Austin D. Twigg Jr., Twiggtown Farms.

Operetta To Be Given At East Side

Young LaVale Couple Reports Home Entered

E. Don Diehl Claims $180, Coats Missing

E. Don Diehl, a young Kelly Springfield Tire Company employe, reported to State Police that his home had been burglarized of about $180 in cash, two top coats and a suede jacket.

Diehl, who lives in Braddock Farms, LaVale, said the money was part of an insurance check his wife had cashed.

The Diehl's four-month old baby died February 16, last after being ill with pneumonia. The young couple had received the check, and planned to use the money to pay the hospital and funeral expenses, Diehl explained.

Because his wife had been nervous and upset over the loss of their only child, she left Saturday to visit a sister-in-law in New Jersey. Diehl stayed at home Saturday night and says he went to church about 10:30 Sunday. After church he went to the home of relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hankinson, Pine Avenue, and spent the day, returning home about 10:30 p. m.

He noticed that the front door was unlocked and that his coats were missing from his wardrobe. He says he checked to see if the money was still there, but it was gone.

Diehl said the money was kept in a small green strong box under his bed. The box and contents had disappeared.

Police are checking the burglary and have no clues, except tracks in patches of snow, which lead to the house. They surmise that a master key was used to gain entrance to the home.

Diehl said he is not sure if any of his wife's possessions are missing, because he does not know exactly what she took with her to New Jersey.

Warrant Taken Out Here For Man In Prison

W. J. Ashbaugh Doing Time For Robbery

Allegany County authorities obtained a bench warrant in Circuit Court yesterday as a detainer against Calvin J. Ashbaugh, who is presently serving a 40-year term in Maryland State Penitentiary for armed robbery in Baltimore.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya, who picked up the warrant, said Ashbaugh was indicted by the grand jury in January of 1949 for armed robbery and assault with a deadly weapon in the hold-up November 1, 1948 of Martin's Liguor Store, 15 Baltimore Street.

In explaining the move obtaining the warrant, Lilya said Ashbaugh was caught several days later in Baltimore along with a companion, William J. Rinker, and tried there for armed robbery, having been sentenced to the State penitentiary where he is now serving out his term.

Ashbaugh was accompanied by Rinker in the robbery here, Lilya went on. Both confessed to the Cumberland holdup to Baltimore authorities and a warrant was issued against them for detention pending the Allegany County grand jury indictment.

Local authorities were notified over the week-end that Rinker had died in prison, March 3, 1954. Since Rinker was named on the warrant with Ashbaugh, police here felt another warrant should be issued against Ashbaugh pending his release from prison on his current sentence.

The Martin store stickup was perpetrated about 5:15 p. m. when two men entered the store during a business lull and held a gun on the clerk, Phillip Decker, who lived on South Lee Street. The pair took $100 and several small bottles of liquor and fled. They were apprehended several days later in Baltimore following several holdups there.

Former Local Pastor Dies At Prince Frederick

Rev. Jesse P. Dawson, former pastor of Grace Methodist Church on Virginia Avenue, died yesterday in Prince Frederick, Calvert County.

Rev. Dawson was pastor of the South Cumberland church about 15 years ago. However, he returned here frequently and was well remembered by many friends. He has been pastor of the Prince Frederick Methodist Church.

A funeral service will be conducted at 10 a. m. Thursday at Boundary Methodist Church in Baltimore. Rev. Dawson is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter.

The peak year for labor strikes in the United States was 1946.

Only 5 Per Cent Of Illegal Drugs Entering U. S. Seized, Probers Say

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP) — A Senate subcommittee, citing "serious" narcotics addiction among teenagers, said today U.S. enforcement agencies were spotting and seizing only five per cent of illegal drugs entering this country.

The special subcommittee on juvenile delinquency, headed by Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), reported in a six months review of its work to date:

"The Federal Bureau of Narcotics has only three men in Europe and six men in England seeking to stop the flow of illicit drugs from the European market. It has no men in Asia or the Far East.

"To halt the flow of illicit narcotics into and within the United States, there are only 260 narcotics agents and port patrolmen charged with apprehending adult smugglers."

During 1952, the group reported to the Senate, "seizures and purchases" of narcotic drugs at U.S. ports and borders amounted to 9,941 ounces of narcotics and 41,385 ounces of marijuana — considerable more than was apprehended the previous years.

The report said the "world's largest narcotic plant" had been "reactivated" by the Chinese Reds in Mukden, Manchuria. The factory reportedly can produce 50 tons of heroin a year.

Other illicit production in Red China, the report continued, includes 12,000 tons of opium. It said United Nations figures show that legal opium production is 1,033 tons a year and that total world requirements for legitimate uses of opium amounts to only 500 tons a year.

The subcommittee, which has taken testimony from government agencies, welfare groups and state and local organizations, is attempting to discover the causes and suggest cures for what it called an increasing rate of teen-age crime in the United States.

Charting its work over the present year, the group indicated in its report it would concentrate on these matters:

1. The effect of radio, television, movies and comic books upon delinquent teen-agers; the question of runaway children who cross state lines.
2. Federal aid to interstate compacts for setting up "highly specialized" treatment facilities for juveniles by two or more states.
3. Teen-age delinquency among Indian children.
4. The extent of white slave traffic involving girls under the age of 18.
5. The question of teen-age use of barbituates.

Massey To Return Eisenhower Visit

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Gov. Gen. Vincent Massey of Canada will come to Washington May 3 for a two-day visit, returning the one President Eisenhower paid him in Ottawa last fall.

Announcing this today, the White House said Massey will travel from Ottawa by plane. He will return to the Canadian capital the morning of May 5.

The governor general will be the guest of President and Mrs. Eisenhower at the White House until May 4, when he will move to the Canadian Embassy, staying there until his departure.

The White House statement said further details of Massey's visit will be announced later.

Eisenhower addressed a joint session of the Canadian Parliament during his visit to Ottawa.

Joan Benny's Husband Named In Court Action

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—Mrs. Joan S. Baker, 21, a model, today moved in State Supreme Court for a separation from Seth H. Baker, the stock broker who she said recently married Joan Benny, adopted daughter of comedian Jack Benny.

Mrs. Baker said she married the broker in July 1, 1951 in Florence, N. C. She told reporters in the court building she based her action on the question of the legality of a Virgin Island divorce decree issued in January, 1953.

Unable To Speak English, Little Grandma Wanders Detroit Streets 30 Hours

DETROIT, March 15 (AP) — Mrs. Eva Bugardiene, 4 feet 2 and 73, has been crossed off the missing persons list at police headquarters.

And as her card was pulled from the "live" file at headquarters, her story came out.

The little old grandmother, a babushka pulled tightly around her head, set out at 5:30 a.m. Thursday for early Mass at a church seven blocks away. After Mass she headed for a nearby home where she was going to be a baby-sitter. But she never got there.

Lost in a maze of look-alike streets on Detroit's East Side, she wandered for 30 hours. She could speak only Lithuanian and could not find anyone who understood her many pleas for assistance.

All night she walked, hungry and scooping up snow to quench her thirst.

Next day she boarded a bus in desperation, saying only "Lithuanian" to the driver.

"Hey, you speak Lithuanian?" the driver asked each passenger who boarded the bus.

Finally, a woman who spoke her language got on. After a brief conversation the bus was stopped and the woman called police.

Officers escorted Mrs. Bungardiene home in a scout car. She soaked her feet in hot water and went to bed.

Today the little old lady explained that this experience was nothing compared with some she had before she came to this country two years ago to live with a daughter.

She and her husband were separated when their Lithuanian home was bombed, and she hasn't seen him since. Later, she roamed Germany for eight years, homeless and destitute.

Sellouts Expected For NCAA Tournament

LaSalle Plays Nittany Lions Friday Night

Bradley To Oppose Southern Cal; Final Will Be Televised

KANSAS CITY, March 15 (AP)—Tournament officials took another long and disbelieving look today at the four semifinalists in the NCAA basketball championships and remarked that it's a good thing the paying public in Kansas City is basketball happy.

They weren't worried about the class of competition—it's bound to be top notch. It is just that whereas they expected to wind up with LaSalle, Indiana or Kentucky, Oklahoma A & M or Kansas and probably Oregon State or Santa Clara, they got instead LaSalle, Penn State, Bradley and Southern California.

Change Expected In Poll

Not one of the four is among the nation's top 10 in the Associated Press poll taken prior to the opening rounds of NCAA competition although most or all of them probably will be in this week's poll to be announced tomorrow.

The officials, however, still expect sellouts both Friday and Saturday night in the 9,800 seat Municipal Auditorium which has been home more often than anywhere else to the 16-year-old tournament. Most of the seats already have been sold.

LaSalle, the only pre-tournament favorite to survive the upset-laden regionals last weekend, will meet surprising Penn State, conqueror of LSU and Notre Dame, in the first semifinal game at 9 p.m. (EST).

Bradley, winner over Oklahoma A&M, and Southern California, which needed a double overtime to edge Santa Clara, tangle in the second game.

To Telecast Final

The Saturday night final will be televised nationally (NBC), starting at 11:10 p.m. (EST).

The teams are expected to begin arriving here Wednesday night. The National Basketball Coaches' Assn. opens a three day convention Thursday, preceded by a testimonial dinner Wednesday night.

The coaches, among other things, will try to agree on whether the rules should be changed and how.

Sure to come in for a lot of discussion is the "one and one" foul rule which gives a player two chances to make one free throw during the first 37 minutes of the game. It was put in two years ago to cut down fouling but a lot of the coaches and fans doubt it has served the purpose.

Giants Wallop Orioles, 13-8

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 15 (AP)—The New York Giants won their fourth straight game by walloping the Baltimore Orioles, 13-8 today with home runs by rookie catcher Ray Katt, second baseman Davey Williams and outfielders Monte Irvin and Willie Mays.

Three of the homers were made at the expense of southpaw Dick Littlefield, who entered the game in the fourth, worked three innings and was charged with the defeat. The other blast, by Katt with one on in the second inning, came off starter Bob Turley.

Pittsburgh Long On Quantity But Quality Question Mark

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

FORT PIERCE, Fla.—If they paid off in quantity instead of quality, the Pittsburgh Pirates would be a shoo-in for the National league pennant.

They really have 'em in numbers in the Pirates' camp this spring, upwards of 66 at last count and some of the players are still making introductions at Shamrock Village, outside this town, a modernistic abode which includes motel-like living with such furbishes as a swimming pool, deep-sea fishing and fine food.

The oldsters in camp say that General Manager Branch Rickey, the old farm system inventor, is shooting the works this spring with new talent—that he has to for the team has been too deep too long and he has sold away all the popular choices.

Where in some camps this spring you can't tell the players without a program, the true story here is that you can't tell the players with a program.

The total of new players, both on the roster and being looked at, is something like 34, accenting youth and the best the Pirates have in their minor league system.

As one old veteran observer put it to this reporter, this year could be a "sensation" or a "flop." He is more apt to be favored with the former for the 1953 Pirates could win but 50 games out of the 154 and they finished you know where.

THEY ADVERSISE Fort Pierce as the section for Florida's "finest fishing." Which seems appropriate for Manager Fred Haney, beginning his second year with the great struggle, is doing just that—"fishing" for talent to field a major league team.

As observers point out, "We've got more good-looking young ball players in camp here this spring than we've had for many years." Haney's task is a major one, for he has to pick the varsity and the bench riders from more than five dozen hopefuls.

"We're definitely going with youth," says the very pleasant Haney. "From the looks of things we've progressed a lot. We have types here I haven't seen before.

"We're much better off. The size and the caliber of the boys in our organization is eye-catching. We're getting more of the Yankee type. I'd say that of the 33 we had here early less than three of them are under six feet tall."

Haney accents his problems with the following: "We're a peculiar major league team. Usually a club has only two or three spots which it is trying to fill as the practice starts. However, not here. If you were to ask me (which we did) to name you what boys are going to be in our opening lineup I could give you only two names, Sid Gordon at third and Frank Thomas in the outfield.

"And," continued Haney, "I couldn't say for sure that Thomas (who hit 30 home runs for the Pirates last year) will be in center field. He may be switched to left depending on what I find in this camp. The Greenberg Gardens back home are out. Speed will be an asset in left field now and that's what I'm looking for."

Gordon came over from the Braves where he batted .274 and hit 19 homers in 140 games.

Outside of those two spots the fight is on. Last year the Pirates played only five games against major league teams in practice (they trained alone in Cuba) but this year they have some 30 games listed and Haney will get a better line on future major leagues than he could last season.

"THE GREATEST schoolboy basketball player ever developed in the Philadelphia area" has become "the nation's greatest collegian."

This is the basketball story of Tom Gola, sparkplug of the LaSalle College Explorers, who along with Coach Kenneth Loeffler will be guest speakers at the LaSalle High School Sports Awards Banquet, Sunday, March 28 at SS. Peter and Paul parish hall.

Gola, the boy without a nickname, will complete his third season of play with the Explorers in the NCAA tournament this weekend at Kansas City. He has been voted the outstanding player in Madison Square Garden, Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium and San Francisco's Cow Palace and has won over 30 major basketball honors, including a berth on just about everybody's All-America team.

Tom is a junior in the School of Business Administration . . . good student . . . liked by the Christian Brothers who teach him . . . one of seven children . . . son of a Philadelphia policeman . . . has terrific speed and the spring of a high jumper . . . is a defensive stand-out . . . says his coach: "Tom's poise is perhaps his greatest asset. The boy can do everything and do it well. His reactions are quick and he's never rattled but, what's more important, he's always coachable."

SEVERAL weeks ago A. G. Slonaker of Romney High School proposed that West Virginia high schools be split into four divisions for rating purposes. He suggested that they be classified — AA, A, B and C.

His rating system would be based on enrollment but would limit the number of Class A schools to about 15.

Commenting on the Slonaker proposal here's what Tom Jones, of the Martinsburg Journal says:

"We think Slonaker's proposal was born of foresight on the part of Romney High officials, who saw a long drought in state athletic honors for the school when they would have to move up to the present Class A rating. This moveup is scheduled for next fall.

"Romney has been one of the dominating powers in Class B football for several years and under the current rating system would surely have their ego deflated next fall.

"In passing we simply say . . . it is the quality that counts, not the quantity, but the latter does not help in determining the former."

The proposal to reclassify the athletic rating system will come up for a general airing on April 10 when the West Virginia High School Athletic Association meets.

SANDLOT baseball leagues of the area are having a dickens of a time lining up a sufficient number of starters for the 1954 season.

Westvaco, Frostburg and the Cumberland Old Germans jumped out of the Bi-State League and they were joined by Romney and Moorefield, formerly of the South Branch Valley League, in forming the All-States Baseball Association. Now they're seeking at least one more team to get six starters.

Sole survivors of last year's Bi-State League are Grantsville and Mt. Savage. McCoole quit, Everett and Centerville, of last year's Bedford County League, were added and Charley Doyle came in with a Cumberland team. The Bi-State team is now hunting for a sixth club.

The six-team Pen-Mar League of 1953 was left with three of last year's teams when Salisbury, Meyersdale and Keyser Ridge withdrew. The holdovers are Barrelville, Zihlman and Wellersburg. Eckhart and Hyndman have been added and now the circuit is searching for a sixth team.

Nothing has been heard from the Mountain Top League and the South Branch Valley League which operated la year. Maybe they're having difficulties, too.

WHEN and where will Cumberland's 1954 race meeting be staged?

That seems to be a popular question nowadays.

One of the top officers of the Cumberland Fair Association informs the writer there will be nothing definite on this score until next month.

The first dates assigned Cumberland were August 4 to 14. When Charles Town's dates

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Five home runs by the Athletics overmatched six doubles by the Red Sox as Boston fell to its fourth straight defeat today, Philadelphia hammering out a 10-7 triumph before 2,260 fans.

Gus Zernial and Ray Murray hit for the circuit against starter Jim Ehrler, then Don Bollweg, Tom Giordano and Lou Limmer completed the round trip parade against Ike Delock.

For the Red Sox, Charlie Maxwell, Sammy White, Gus Niarhos, Billy Consolo, Jackie Jensen and Harry Agganis contributed doubles in the 12 hit offensive against two Athletic pitchers—Morrie Martin and Ed Burtschy. Ozzie Van Brabant held Boston hitless in the first three innings.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Jim Greengrass' sacrifice fly in the ninth inning with the bases loaded brought in the run that gave the Cincinnati Reds a 4-3 victory today over the New York Yankees.

Held to six hits by southpaws Fred Baczewski and Harry Perkowski, the Yankees scored all of their runs on homers. Rookie Hal Smith hit one in the fifth and Bob Cerv belted a pinch home run with one on in the eighth.

Allie Reynolds, veteran Yankee righthander, made his spring debut and, aside from being wild, looked capable. He threw hard in his four-inning stint and showed no evidence of the back ailment which hampered him last season.

Reynolds was touched for five hits but was scored on only in the fourth.

RED SOX'S BILLY CONSOLO

BY WALTER L. JOHNS

SARASOTA, Fla.—It was Billy Consolo's first appearance in Yankee stadium and the 19-year-old rookie of the Boston Red Sox was hoping he'd get in the game. He did and he'll never forget it.

Manager Lou Boudreau inserted Billy, a $50,000 bonus beauty from the Los Angeles Legion ranks, into the lineup that day last summer—as a pinch runner.

The next Red Sox batter cracked a hit and Billy took off for second. A speed demon who can run the 100 in 10 seconds flat, Billy really put on a show as he rounded the keystone sack and headed for third.

He didn't make it. He fell flat on his face and the relay from the outfield got him for an out. The Red Sox lost the game by one run. And Billy was the Billy Goat.

This is 1954, however, and Billy, with 47 professional games under his belt and a major leaguer now, is making Boston training camp fans forget that 1953 performance which not only included that flop but also a .215 batting average in 65 appearances at the plate.

IN TRAINING camp here he has handled a flock of chances perfectly and pulled off some fine double-play maneuvers but his bat won two games in a row for the Beantowners.

He has been playing second base but whether he starts the season there still is in doubt because the regular second sacker last year, Billy (he does everything) Goodman, is a pretty fair sort of player himself.

However, the West Coast phenom will be around since the Red Sox outbid every other major league club for his services when he was signed in February, 1953, and from the clubhouse attendant up to the manager the word is that this guy has it.

BILLY CONSOLO

Consolo started playing baseball at 11 and joined the American Legion ranks at 12. At Dorsey high school he was selected the player of the year twice, athlete of the year in 1952 and won a Helms Athletic Foundation award.

His American Legion team in 1951 captured the national championship. Billy also excelled in track, running the century, the 220 and the relays and also played guard on the basketball team.

In the off season Consolo attends Los Angeles City college and some day plans to go into ceramics. He's pretty good at that; in fact he won an award in high school for some pottery he made.

He reported two weeks early for training here and the old master himself, Boudreau, devoted much time to showing him how to play the keystone sack.

Sellouts Expected For NCAA Tournament

LaSalle Plays Nittany Lions Friday Night

Bradley To Oppose Southern Cal; Final Will Be Televised

KANSAS CITY, March 15 (AP)—Tournament officials took another long and disbelieving look today at the four semifinalists in the NCAA basketball championships and remarked that it's a good thing the paying public in Kansas City is basketball happy.

They weren't worried about the class of competition—it's bound to be top notch. It is just that whereas they expected to wind up with LaSalle, Indiana or Kentucky, Oklahoma A & M or Kansas and probably Oregon State or Santa Clara, they got instead LaSalle, Penn State, Bradley and Southern California.

Change Expected In Poll

Not one of the four is among the nation's top 10 in the Associated Press poll taken prior to the opening rounds of NCAA competition although most or all of them probably will be in this week's poll to be announced tomorrow.

The officials, however, still expect sellouts both Friday and Saturday night in the 9,800 seat Municipal Auditorium which has been home more often than anywhere else to the 16-year-old tournament. Most of the seats already have been sold.

LaSalle, the only pre-tournament favorite to survive the upset-laden regionals last weekend, will meet surprising Penn State, conqueror of LSU and Notre Dame, in the first semifinal game at 9 p.m. (EST).

Bradley, winner over Oklahoma A&M, and Southern California, which needed a double overtime to edge Santa Clara, tangle in the second game.

To Telecast Final

The Saturday night final will be televised nationally (NBC), starting at 11:10 p.m. (EST).

The teams are expected to begin arriving here Wednesday night. The National Basketball Coaches' Assn. opens a three day convention Thursday, preceded by a testimonial dinner Wednesday night.

The coaches, among other things, will try to agree on whether the rules should be changed and how.

Sure to come in for a lot of discussion is the "one and one" foul rule which gives a player two chances to make one free throw during the first 37 minutes of the game. It was put in two years ago to cut down fouling but a lot of the coaches and fans doubt it has served the purpose.

Giants Wallop Orioles, 13-8

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 15 (AP)—The New York Giants won their fourth straight game by walloping the Baltimore Orioles, 13-8 today with home runs by rookie catcher Ray Katt, second baseman Davey Williams and outfielders Monte Irvin and Willie Mays.

Three of the homers were made at the expense of southpaw Dick Littlefield, who entered the game in the fourth, worked three innings and was charged with the defeat. The other blast, by Katt with one on in the second inning, came off starter Bob Turley.

Chuck Diering, an ex-Giant, connected for the lone Oriole circuit, off lefthander John (Windy) McCall with one on in the sixth.

Pittsburgh Long On Quantity But Quality Question Mark

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

FORT PIERCE, Fla.—If they paid off in quantity instead of quality, the Pittsburgh Pirates would be a shoo-in for the National league pennant.

They really have 'em in numbers in the Pirates' camp this spring, upwards of 66 at last count and some of the players are still making introductions at Shamrock Village, outside this town, a modernistic abode which includes motel-like living with such furbishes as a swimming pool, deep-sea fishing and fine food.

The oldsters in camp say that General Manager Branch Rickey, the old farm system inventor, is shooting the works this spring with new talent—that he has to for the team has been too deep too long and he has sold away all the popular choices.

Where in some camps this spring you can't tell the players without a program, the true story here is that you can't tell the players with a program.

The total of new players, both on the roster and being looked at, is something like 34, accenting youth and the best the Pirates have in their minor league system.

Beightol's Chalks Up 56-51 Decision Over Cunningham's

McIntyre's, Dingle Cleaners And Hout's Win In "Y" Tourney

Beightol's Bouncers upset Cunningham's Grocery by rallying in the last 2½ minutes of play last night for a 56-51 triumph in the opening senior unlimited class contest in the ninth annual Central YMCA-Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce basketball tourney on the "Y" court.

With the score knotted at 45-all and 2:30 to play Bill Shipley sent the Bouncers to the fore by meshing two free throws. Jack Turner's goal made it 49-45 but Ronnie Cage's basket cut the margin to two points. Shipley sank a free throw and Bob Kirk's goal put the Grocers one point in the rear at 50-49. George McGregor's two foul goals made the count 52-49 with 21 seconds remaining and that settled the issue. Field goals by Bartles, Cage and Shipley concluded the scoring.

Cunningham's led at halftime, 25-24, but trailed in the first period, 14-12 and at the end of the third quarter, 37-34.

McGregor Gets 23 Points

George McGregor played a bang-up game for the winners and headed the offensive with nine field goals and 23 points. Shipley collected 12 points. Bob Kirk, from Frostburg Teachers College, was high man for Cunningham's with seven baskets and 17 points. Bobby Wilson, also of the Bobcats, marked up 13 points for the losers.

McIntyre's Little Five, skippered by Ray Stoutamyer, started off the tourney by eliminating Manager George Geatz's Jackson Grocery quint in a 115-pound Class contest by the score of 31-25.

Howard Blank was high scorer for McIntyre's with nine tallies while Bob Allen and Richard Blank collected seven points each. Frank Ritter and Mike Mosner sparked the losers with 10 and 8 markers.

McIntyre's led at the quarters, 6-5, 19-12 and 23-17.

Hout Quint Wins

The Hout Construction Company quint, featuring Allegany and Fort Hill High School players, swamped Harman's Grocery, 68-22, in the initial contest of the junior unlimited class.

The winners chalked up 24 field goals while holding the opposition to ten and held a 10-2 lead in foul goals.

Dave Steele, Allegany's center, dumped in 16 points, Bob Brant from Fort Hill collected 15 and Paul Reitmeier, another Fort Hillian, garnered 13 points, for the Hout quint. Bob Harman paced the losers with 10 tallies.

The quarter scores were 23-6, 33-8 and 50-15 in favor of Hout's, managed by Ronnie Dyer.

Optimists Eliminated

Manager John Eversole's Dingle Cleaners knocked the Optimist Five out of the 135-pound Class by racking up a 53-26 victory.

Eddie Andrews and Bob Harrison with 17 and 15 markers led the Dingle scorers while Donald Bell garnered ten. Ronnie Eyre was the "whole show" for the Optimists, accounting for 17 of his team's 26 points.

The Cleaners held a 23-13 lead at halftime.

"Jimmy" McGuire Is Visitor Here

James F. "Jimmy" McGuire, one-time Allegany county baseball leader and one of the organizers of the Middle Atlantic Baseball League, is a visitor here.

Jimmie McGuire

The colorful little diamond player and manager of bygone days who also played a prominent part in Democratic politics has been ailing for several months and came here to consult his physician.

"Jimmie" took a few minutes to discuss the baseball outlook.

He predicted the White Sox will win the American League pennant and figures the National League race will be a thriller but was unable to come up with a winner.

Since leaving Cumberland, McGuire has resided with his son-in-law and daughter in Washington, D. C.

Martinez Stops Harper In 2nd

Pittsburgh Long

There are two dozen pitchers on the roster and, after considering a few, you can take it from there yourself. One veteran hurler, Max Surkont, came over from Milwaukee in that trade. He was 11-5 for the Braves last year and has bet Branch Rickey a hat that he will get his weight down to 212. He was up around 230.

SURKONT might be termed one starter with Bob Friend (8-11), Paul LaPalme (8-16) and the returning serviceman, Vernon Law, possible others. Just to name names among the pitchers we might mention Don Douglas, on the New Orleans roster, who has looked good in practice; Nelson King, who won 15 against three losses for Denver; Ron Necciai, the bonus kid with the strikeout record who is on the Waco roster; George O'Donnell, who won 20 for Hollywood but who has the mumps and hasn't reported yet, and Len Yochim, a 14-game winner for New Orleans.

The catchers number seven with Vic Janowicz and Nick Koback "musts" because they are bonus players. Janowicz, the ex-Ohio State football star, caught only a few games last year but he has been worked steadily in camp games because Haney says "you can't become a catcher sitting on the bench."

Among other receivers are Toby Atwill from the Cubs and Walker Cooper, from Milwaukee. Big Coop, who has taken off some weight, will be a big help to the young pitchers.

THERE ARE over a dozen infielders with six guys trying to grab the initial sack. On the first base list are Dale Coogan, returning serviceman who managed a Navy team while there and is expected to be No. 1; Al Grunewald, from New Orleans; Preston Ward, serviceman returnee and ex-Dodger and Cub; Dale Long, from Hollywood; Robert Skinner, from the service, and Paul Smith, who split last year with New Orleans and the Pirates.

At second four are trying for the spot although Haney says he will shift all infielders to get the best combine. On this list are Curtis Roberts, from Denver; Dick Smith, New Orleans; Dick Cole, who played in 97 games for the Pirates last year and Jack Lohrke, from the Phillies. Roberts, first Negro player on the Pittsburgh roster, has impressed with his fancy fielding.

Roberts also is being tried at short, along with Gair Allie, on the New Orleans roster. Then there is Eddie Pellagrini, the veteran, who can play anywhere in the infield.

ALLIE, who broke a leg in Cuba last spring, is reported to be an improved player and, with Roberts, has made a fancy double-play combination in camp games.

There are 10 outfielders. Besides Thomas the experienced hands are Hal Rice, who hit .311 for the Pirates last year; Gene Hermanski, Cal Abrams, Carlos Bernier and Sam Jethroe. The last-named comes up from Toledo after serving with the Braves.

Hot-shot among the outfield newcomers here is Jerry Lynch, a draft choice in the Yankee chain. Jerry comes up from Norfolk where he was the talk of the town as he led the Piedmont league in six offensive departments.

Another outfielder is Dick Hall, a 6-foot 6-inch giant who hit .290 for New Orleans and set a home run record in the Mexican league this last winter.

PIRATE PROGNOSTICATION

12 Attend Final Baseball Clinic

A general discussion of rules, led by Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh of Fort Hill High School, highlighted the final of a series of baseball clinics sponsored by the Tri-State Umpires Association on Sunday at the Loyal Order of Moose Home.

Twelve attended the session, including one out-of-town coach, Glenn R. Hawkins of the West Virginia School for the Deaf.

NBA Playoffs Open Tonight

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—The National Basketball Assn. playoffs begin tomorrow night in New York and Rochester with a new system of determining the divisional champions. But otherwise it all looks quite familiar to fans who have been following the pro league for 4½ months.

The playoff system is a trifle confusing, but that's nothing new to the fans who have seen the teams play a 72-game schedule that eliminated only three from the playoffs.

Because of unequal numbers of teams in the two divisions, only the top three in each qualified for the playoffs. They'll start off with a home-and-home round-robin series. The two top teams in each round-robin will qualify for a best-of-three semifinals series.

It's nothing new, either, to see the New York Knickerbockers and Minneapolis Lakers on top at the end of the regular season. They've fought it out in the playoff final for the past two years, with Minneapolis winning each time. And the Knicks, who haven't missed the playoffs in the eight years of the league's existence, have been finalists four straight years.

Tomorrow's opening playoff games are Boston at New York and Fort Wayne at Rochester.

Grand Knights Grab Lead In K-C League

A tie for first place was broken in the K. of C. Bowling League last night when the Grand Knights won two out of three games from the Chancellors on the Club Recreation alleys.

The Guards scored a 2-1 decision over the Recorders in the other match.

High man for the evening was Raymond "Ike" La who posted a 495 for the Grand Knights. Other leaders were: Billy "Butch" LaNeve, Recorders, 460; Bob Schultz, Guards 474, and Benny LaNeve, Chancellors, 460.

The second half race standings:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Grand Knights	20	13	.606
Chancellors	19	14	.576
Recorders	17	16	.515
Guards	10	23	.303

conflicted with those of Cumberland, the local management proposed shifting its 10-day meeting to Marlboro, Aug. 4-14. Marlboro said this was O.K. but Chairman Eldred Rinehart of the Maryland Racing Commission said the transfer would have to get the approval of the attorney general.

In the meantime, Bel Air said its dates (Sept. 29-Oct. 9) conflicted with the World Series and proposed a swap with Cumberland. That was the last heard about the racing dates.

TO FROSTBURG baseball fans: Jerry Priddy came up from Kansas City to the New York Yankees in 1941 along with Phil Rizzuto.

Priddy played in 56 games in 1941 and batted .313 at New York. In 1942 he figured in 59 games with the Yankees, batted .280 and appeared in three World Series games that fall, batting .100 in ten times at bat.

On January 29, 1943 he and Pitcher Milo Candini were traded to Washington for Pitcher Bill Zuber. Priddy did not play at Kansas City in 1941 and 1942. He stayed with the Yankees.

BOBBY Niland has racked up 94 points in six of the sectional, regional and area games won by Piedmont High School since the Lions concluded their regular 21-game schedule.

Niland now has 409 points in 27 games.

DAVE STEELE headed the Allegany High scorers in the four district and state games by ringing up 79 points. Bob Kirtley was runner-up with 68 and Jim Hoffman had 64.

In the 25 games played by the Campers this season Hoffman was tops with 424 tallies. Steele was runner-up with 395 and Kirtley was third with 327.

Dave Marple sparked Bruce High in its five post-season games with 97 tallies to up his 1954 total to 509 for 26 ocntests. Mike Nofsinger had 83 in the last five tilts and wound up with a 26-game total of 408.

Detroit Bows To Milwaukee

O'Connell Gets Three Hits In 7-1 Triumph

BRADENTON, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Six-hit pitching by a trio of young righthanders gave the Milwaukee Braves a 7-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers today in an exhibition baseball game.

Bonus baby Joe Jay, the starter, was nicked for the Tigers' lone run when Billy Bruton misjudged Frank Bolling's long fly in the third inning and the ball fell for a triple. Bolling scored on Harvey Kuenn's infield bounder.

Jay, an 18-year-old lad who spent most of last summer on the Braves' bench, yielded three hits in his three-inning stint. Ben Johnson, who followed, gave up one hit in four innings, and Dave Jolly was touched for the two other Detroit safeties in the final two innings.

The Braves clubbed three Tiger hurlers for 11 hits, including a two-run homer by Jim Pendleton in the sixth inning. Danny O'Connell, playing third base in place of the injured Eddie Mathews, coined three successive singles before giving way to Pendleton in the late innings.

Tiger starter Billy Hoeft, who worked the first five innings, left with a 3-1 deficit and was tagged with the loss. The Braves went ahead in the third on pinchitter Bill Casey's double and singles by O'Connell and rookie Henry Aaron and added another run in the fifth on Bruton's bunt, O'Connell's third straight single and Andy Pafko's fly to right.

Beightol's Chalks Up 56-51 Decision Over Cunningham's

McIntyre's, Dingle Cleaners And Hout's Win In "Y" Tourney

Beightol's Bouncers upset Cunningham's Grocery by rallying in the last 2½ minutes of play last night for a 56-51 triumph in the opening senior unlimited class contest in the ninth annual Central YMCA-Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce basketball tourney on the "Y" court.

With the score knotted at 45-all and 2:30 to play Bill Shipley sent the Bouncers to the fore by meshing two free throws. Jack Turner's goal made it 49-45 but Ronnie Cage's basket cut the margin to two points. Shipley sank a free throw and Bob Kirk's goal put the Grocers one point in the rear at 50-49. George McGregor's two foul goals made the count 52-49 with 21 seconds remaining and that settled the issue. Field goals by Bartles, Cage and Shipley concluded the scoring.

Cunningham's led at halftime, 25-24, but trailed in the first period, 14-12 and at the end of the third quarter, 37-34.

McGregor Gets 23 Points

George McGregor played a bang-up game for the winners and headed the offensive with nine field goals and 23 points. Shipley collected 12 points. Bob Kirk, from Frostburg Teachers College, was high man for Cunningham's with seven baskets and 17 points. Bobby Wilson, also of the Bobcats, marked up 13 points for the losers.

McIntyre's Little Five, skippered by Ray Stoutamyer, started off the tourney by eliminating Manager George Geatz's Jackson Grocery quint in a 115-pound Class contest by the score of 31-25.

Howard Blank was high scorer for McIntyre's with nine tallies while Bob Allen and Richard Blank collected seven points each. Frank Ritter and Mike Mosner sparked the losers with 10 and 8 markers.

McIntyre's led at the quarters, 6-5, 19-12 and 23-17.

Hout Quint Wins

The Hout Construction Company quint, featuring Allegany and Fort Hill High School players, swamped Harman's Grocery, 68-22, in the initial contest of the junior unlimited class.

The winners chalked up 24 field goals while holding the opposition to ten and held a 10-2 lead in foul goals.

Dave Steele, Allegany's center, dumped in 16 points, Bob Brant from Fort Hill collected 15 and Paul Reitmeier, another Fort Hillian, garnered 13 points, for the Hout quint. Bob Harman paced the losers with 10 tallies.

The quarter scores were 23-6, 33-8 and 50-15 in favor of Hout's, managed by Ronnie Dyer.

Optimists Eliminated

Manager John Eversole's Dingle Cleaners knocked the Optimist Five out of the 135-pound Class by racking up a 53-26 victory.

Eddie Andrews and Bob Harrison with 17 and 15 markers led the Dingle scorers while Donald Bell garnered ten. Ronnie Eyre was the "whole show" for the Optimists, accounting for 17 of his team's 26 points.

The Cleaners held a 23-13 lead at halftime.

"Jimmy" McGuire Is Visitor Here

James F. "Jimmy" McGuire, one-time Allegany county baseball leader and one of the organizers of the Middle Atlantic Baseball League, is a visitor here.

Jimmie McGuire

The colorful little diamond player and manager of bygone days who also played a prominent part in Democratic politics has been ailing for several months and came here to consult his physician.

"Jimmie" took a few minutes to discuss the baseball outlook.

He predicted the White Sox will win the American League pennant and figures the National League race will be a thriller but was unable to come up with a winner.

Since leaving Cumberland, McGuire has resided with his son-in-law and daughter in Washington, D. C.

Martinez Stops Harper In 2nd

Pittsburgh Long

There are two dozen pitchers on the roster and, after considering a few, you can take it from there yourself. One veteran hurler, Max Surkont, came over from Milwaukee in that trade. He was 11-5 for the Braves last year and has bet Branch Rickey a hat that he will get his weight down to 212. He was up around 230.

SURKONT might be termed one starter with Bob Friend (8-11), Paul LaPalme (8-16) and the returning serviceman, Vernon Law, possible others. Just to name names among the pitchers we might mention Don Douglas, on the New Orleans roster, who has looked good in practice; Nelson King, who won 15 against three losses for Denver; Ron Necciai, the bonus kid with the strikeout record who is on the Waco roster; George O'Donnell, who won 20 for Hollywood but who has the mumps and hasn't reported yet, and Len Yochim, a 14-game winner for New Orleans.

The catchers number seven with Vic Janowicz and Nick Koback "musts" because they are bonus players. Janowicz, the ex-Ohio State football star, caught only a few games last year but he has been worked steadily in camp games because Haney says "you can't become a catcher sitting on the bench."

Among other receivers are Toby Atwill from the Cubs and Walker Cooper, from Milwaukee. Big Coop, who has taken off some weight, will be a big help to the young pitchers.

THERE ARE over a dozen infielders with six guys trying to grab the initial sack. On the first base list are Dale Coogan, returning serviceman who managed a Navy team while there and is expected to be No. 1; Al Grunewald, from New Orleans; Preston Ward, serviceman returnee and ex-Dodger and Cub; Dale Long, from Hollywood; Robert Skinner, from the service, and Paul Smith, who split last year with New Orleans and the Pirates.

At second four are trying for the spot although Haney says he will shift all infielders to get the best combine. On this list are Curtis Roberts, from Denver; Dick Smith, New Orleans; Dick Cole, who played in 97 games for the Pirates last year and Jack Lohrke, from the Phillies. Roberts, first Negro player on the Pittsburgh roster, has impressed with his fancy fielding.

Roberts also is being tried at short, along with Gair Allie, on the New Orleans roster. Then there is Eddie Pellagrini, the veteran, who can play anywhere in the infield.

ALLIE, who broke a leg in Cuba last spring, is reported to be an improved player and, with Roberts, has made a fancy double-play combination in camp games.

There are 10 outfielders. Besides Thomas the experienced hands are Hal Rice, who hit .311 for the Pirates last year; Gene Hermanski, Cal Abrams, Carlos Bernier and Sam Jethroe. The last-named comes up from Toledo after serving with the Braves.

Hot-shot among the outfield newcomers here is Jerry Lynch, a draft choice in the Yankee chain. Jerry comes up from Norfolk where he was the talk of the town as he led the Piedmont league in six offensive departments.

Another outfielder is Dick Hall, a 6-foot 6-inch giant who hit .290 for New Orleans and set a home run record in the Mexican league this last winter.

PIRATE PROGNOSTICATION

12 Attend Final Baseball Clinic

A general discussion of rules, led by Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh of Fort Hill High School, highlighted the final of a series of baseball clinics sponsored by the Tri-State Umpires Association on Sunday at the Loyal Order of Moose Home.

Twelve attended the session, including one out-of-town coach, Glenn R. Hawkins of the West Virginia School for the Deaf.

NBA Playoffs Open Tonight

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—The National Basketball Assn. playoffs begin tomorrow night in New York and Rochester with a new system of determining the divisional champions. But otherwise it all looks quite familiar to fans who have been following the pro league for 4½ months.

The playoff system is a trifle confusing, but that's nothing new to the fans who have seen the teams play a 72-game schedule that eliminated only three from the playoffs.

Because of unequal numbers of teams in the two divisions, only the top three in each qualified for the playoffs. They'll start off with a home-and-home round-robin series. The two top teams in each round-robin will qualify for a best-of-three semifinals series.

It's nothing new, either, to see the New York Knickerbockers and Minneapolis Lakers on top at the end of the regular season. They've fought it out in the playoff final for the past two years, with Minneapolis winning each time. And the Knicks, who haven't missed the playoffs in the eight years of the league's existence, have been finalists four straight years.

Tomorrow's opening playoff games are Boston at New York and Fort Wayne at Rochester.

Grand Knights Grab Lead In K-C League

A tie for first place was broken in the K. of C. Bowling League last night when the Grand Knights won two out of three games from the Chancellors on the Club Recreation alleys.

The Guards scored a 2-1 decision over the Recorders in the other match.

High man for the evening was Raymond "Ike" La who posted a 495 for the Grand Knights. Other leaders were: Billy "Butch" LaNeve, Recorders, 460; Bob Schultz, Guards 474, and Benny LaNeve, Chancellors, 460.

The second half race standings:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Grand Knights	20	13	.606
Chancellors	19	14	.576
Recorders	17	16	.515
Guards	10	23	.303

conflicted with those of Cumberland, the local management proposed shifting its 10-day meeting to Marlboro, Aug. 4-14. Marlboro said this was O.K. but Chairman Eldred Rinehart of the Maryland Racing Commission said the transfer would have to get the approval of the attorney general.

In the meantime, Bel Air said its dates (Sept. 29-Oct. 9) conflicted with the World Series and proposed a swap with Cumberland. That was the last heard about the racing dates.

TO FROSTBURG baseball fans: Jerry Priddy came up from Kansas City to the New York Yankees in 1941 along with Phil Rizzuto.

Priddy played in 56 games in 1941 and batted .313 at New York. In 1942 he figured in 59 games with the Yankees, batted .280 and appeared in three World Series games that fall, batting .100 in ten times at bat.

On January 29, 1943 he and Pitcher Milo Candini were traded to Washington for Pitcher Bill Zuber.

Priddy did not play at Kansas City in 1941 and 1942. He stayed with the Yankees.

BOBBY Niland has racked up 94 points in six of the sectional, regional and area games won by Piedmont High School since the Lions concluded their regular 21-game schedule.

Niland now has 409 points in 27 games.

DAVE STEELE headed the Allegany High scorers in the four district and state games by ringing up 79 points. Bob Kirtley was runner-up with 68 and Jim Hoffman had 64.

In the 25 games played by the Campers this season Hoffman was tops with 424 tallies. Steele was runner-up with 395 and Kirtley was third with 327.

Dave Marple sparked Bruce High in its five post-season games with 97 tallies to up his 1954 total to 509 for 26 ocntests. Mike Nofsinger had 83 in the last five tilts and wound up with a 26-game total of 408.

Detroit Bows To Milwaukee

O'Connell Gets Three Hits In 7-1 Triumph

BRADENTON, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Six-hit pitching by a trio of young righthanders gave the Milwaukee Braves a 7-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers today in an exhibition baseball game.

Bonus baby Joe Jay, the starter, was nicked for the Tigers' lone run when Billy Bruton misjudged Frank Bolling's long fly in the third inning and the ball fell for a triple. Bolling scored on Harvey Kuenn's infield bounder.

Jay, an 18-year-old lad who spent most of last summer on the Braves' bench, yielded three hits in his three-inning stint. Ben Johnson, who followed, gave up one hit in four innings, and Dave Jolly was touched for the two other Detroit safeties in the final two innings.

The Braves clubbed three Tiger hurlers for 11 hits, including a two-run homer by Jim Pendleton in the sixth inning. Danny O'Connell, playing third base in place of the injured Eddie Mathews, coined three successive singles before giving way to Pendleton in the late innings.

Tiger starter Billy Hoeft, who worked the first five innings, left with a 3-1 deficit and was tagged with the loss. The Braves went ahead in the third on pinchitter Bill Casey's double and singles by O'Connell and rookie Henry Aaron and added another run in the fifth on Bruton's bunt, O'Connell's third straight single and Andy Pafko's fly to right.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 15 (INS)—Wouldn't you know that Robert Taylor will inherit the star role in "Charlemagne," the emperor who lived in the 8th century, between the years 742 and 814 A. R., and was appointed emperor of all Europe, by the pope?

Bob's been in every important spectacle MGM has made, and I have no doubt Dore Schary had him in mind when he purchased the story of Charlemagne from the galley proofs of Harold Lamb's interesting biography, which will be on the stands shortly.

Charlemagne was not only a great military figure, but also a great cultural leader.

Rosemary Clooney telephoned to say hello, and to tell me that the two months spent in Europe with her bridegroom, Jose Ferrer, were wonderful.

"He was my guide. He's been to Europe so many times. We had two wonderful weekends at the Gilbert Millers' country place. We saw all the shows, but," said Rosie, "I'm awfully glad to be home."

Jose goes to Universal-International for "The Shrike," which starts almost immediately.

The usually reticent Gary Cooper astonished everybody on the set of "Vera Cruz" when he became talkative.

A tourist in Mexico, spotting Gary, rushed up and said, "Just what constitutes a successful movie actor?"

"Well," said Gary, "the secret of success for people in my line of work is a good sturdy pair of feet. An actor is on his feet most of the day, and if he has fallen arches, he is just plain out of luck. He's too tired to be a credit to his art."

The wide-eyed tourist put it all down in a book.

Lovely Jeanne Crain, more beautiful now than she's ever been, will be my radio guest tomorrow night. Jeanne is going to tell my listeners how she changed her personality to acquire more glamor.

Another guest is Jimmy McHugh making his first appearance since his recent illness. The well known composer will tell us about his new song, "Dream, Dream, Dream" and you'll hear Sunny Gale sing it.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Cowboy Star Rex Allen, out for the first time since he broke his leg, had dinner with his wife at Rickey's Valley Inn.

Jose Greco has a date to talk to Rouben Mamoulian about playing in "Carmen." They'll discuss it when Jose comes here March 20 for a concert.

Anne Bancroft, 20th leading lady, flies back here St. Patrick's Day from Mexico City. She'll marry Marty May, young Los Angeles attorney, as soon as Lent is over.

Ginny Sims is convalescing and will go home from the hospital in a few days.

Lucille and Gene Markey soon leave for their home outside Louisville to remain until after the Kentucky Derby, then they'll go on for a tour of Europe. Some of Lucille's thoroughbreds will be running in the Derby.

Tempus sure does fugit. Former child star, Baby Leroy, has just been released from the Navy after a two-year hitch.

People returning from Las Vegas tell me that Mata and Hari, at the Thunderbird there, are getting a lot of attention.

Jackie Loughery's first date since she obtained a divorce from Guy Mitchell was with Hal March. They were at the Saratoga.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

City Will Purchase Parking Meters

The Mayor and Council today authorized Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long to advertise for 215 new parking meters.

Commissioner Long said they are needed to replace present worn out meters.

While there is no money in the current police budget to buy them, the firms interested in supplying the meters to the city said they would await payment until the new fiscal year begins July 1, Long said.

One hundred-fifty pipe standards needed as replacements will be purchased locally, the commissioner said.

For a beautiful, fluid walk, never initiate your step from the ankle or knee. The thigh must lead!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

As we noted yesterday, a beautiful walk starts first with the alignment of curves that balance your weight just ahead of your ankle bone. For a quick check, back up against the wall. Stand with heels tight against it, weight on balls of feet, knees flexed and—here's the crux of the matter—be sure that the small of your back is flat against the wall. There must be not space through which you can pass your hand.

Got it? Now step always, holding that posture, and we'll practice the next most important factor in the mastery of the fluid walk that will make you look like a million wherever you go!

Literally and figuratively, everything in the fluid or glide walk hinges on your hip joint. That's where each step must start. No with the foot, not with the ankle and not with the knee. Leave the goose stepping to the men. Starting your step from the ankle or the knee can only result in a brusque, awkward motion devoid of grace.

Put your hand on your hip joint to sense the motion of the correct start of your walking step. Now raise your leg straight forward and as high as you can with all the movement initiating from the hip joint. Keep your knee relaxed. Exaggerating as much as you can, swing your leg hard and high forward and then backward. Note the pivotal motion of the joint? That's the motion that you want to keep in free-wheeling form!

Now, keeping your knee and ankle relaxed, step out. Say to yourself, "Lead with the thigh." Then do it—aiming your weight at the ball of your foot.

Here's an exercise that will limber your hip joint so it will always respond smoothly in the manner of a well-oiled ball bearing: Stand beside and to the rear of a sturdy chair. Place your left hand on its back and put all your weight on the ball of your left foot. Now raise your right leg straight out to the side as high as it will go. Then swing it clockwise in large rhythmic circles; then counter clockwise. Now reverse your position and swing the left leg.

Start practicing leading with your thigh on every step that you take today—and make it your lifetime habit. Soon you'll be glide-walking like the models!

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, (INS)—There's a touch of pure idiocy, I think, in the decision of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Department of Defense to keep reporters and cameras away from the H-bomb tests in the Pacific. The government "can't afford" such needed coverage.

"News" of the tests therefore will reach the taxpayers, who are paying the bill, via blunt 2-line AEC announcements that such and such a device was detonated and by wildly inaccurate letters sent home by crew members of the large naval force which is on hand. Doting parents will turn the letters over to local papers and radio stations where further distortion could result.

Seems to me the men who handle the atom for us have a lot to explain to the American people. If the AEC was telling the truth in 1952, when it announced Eniwetok tests had involved further research into thermo-nuclear (H-bomb) matters, and also was telling the truth when it acknowledged last August that Russia had achieved a full scale H-bomb detonation, it was making an appalling admission.

The AEC was saying, in effect, that we — the greatest industrial power in history — had been beaten to the punch by what we had been led to believe until very recent years was a power that couldn't build a 1-ton truck. We had been beaten to a punch infinitely more important and powerful than any before it. The peace of the world and the continued existence of the human species on earth depends to a terrible degree on our continued superiority in the field of atomic weapons.

Yet we were saying that the Russians were ahead of us, and saying it casually. Winston Churchill had not treated our atomic lead casually.

He repeatedly said that the world was being spared the agony and annihilation of World War III only because of the power of America's atomic stockpile and the ability of the Strategic Air Command to deliver those bombs to any target on earth.

Then along came Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R) New York, chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. Speaking at a Chicago luncheon meeting of the National Sand and Gravel Association and the National Ready Mixed Concrete Association, Cole revealed we touched off an H-device at Eniwetok in 1952 that destroyed the test island and tore a mile-wide crater 175 feet deep in the floor of the ocean.

The National Sand and Gravel Association and the National Ready Mixed Concrete Association are fine organizations, I'm sure, and I trust they got something better than broiled chicken and BB-shot peas at their luncheon. But, for pity sake, was that the proper tribunal before which to lay news of such earth-shaking moment?

Countless Americans must have brooded heavily between August, 1953, and February, 1954, between the time Washington somberly announced that the Russians had the horrifying weapon and the soiled dessert dishes were taken away at Chicago and Mr. Cole began talking about the funny thing that happened to him on the way to the hotel.

If any of these concerned people recalled the brief 1952 announcement of the AEC that Eniwetok tests had included inquiries into thermo-nuclear matters, they still must have experienced only cold comfort. Nobody, but nobody, ever said we have a real live H-bomb — maybe as good as our sworn enemy's H-bomb — until Mr. Cole confided through the cigar smoke with the jolly sand, gravel and concrete mixers.

Competent news service men, science writers, radio, TV and newsreel representatives should be at Eniwetok right now, prepared to tell America and the world exactly where we stand in an arms race that has no parallel in history. Perhaps 10,000 other persons were sent there, and the experimental bombs to be detonated cost hundreds of millions of dollars (when one considers the facilities needed to produce them). But the AEC complained that the cost of transporting a handful of newsmen would be too great. This calls for an answer. Period.

Russian Farm Recruits Sing 1954 Soviet Version Of 'Oh, Susannah'

By RICHARD R. KASISCHKE

MOSCOW, March 15 (AP) — Soviet city youths being shifted to the farm lands of Siberia and central Asia have a new song called "The Komsomol Farewell" — the 1954 Russian version of Stephen Foster's "O Susannah, Don't You Cry for Me."

A promise by Komsomol Pravda, organ of the Communist Youth League, that "people will write songs about you" was followed quickly by publication of the new tune by the paper, even before the first of the young farmers had reached their destinations.

"Farewell," dear golden Moscow . . . we are off to the far-off virgin lands . . . and perhaps a merry girl will get friendly with me there . . . perhaps this far-off place will become near and dear to me."

That's what—it says in the papers here—the city youths being recruited to give up factory and office jobs sing as they head out to bring under cultivation 32 million additional acres of virgin and fallow land, and to plant it mostly in grain to help feed the nation's growing population.

"Go east young man, go east," is the slogan preached by the government and the Communist Youth League.

They hope to recruit 100,000 city youths for the trek.

"Stories about your patriotic enthusiasm will be handed down from generation to generation," Komsomol Pravda (Young People's League Truth) has been telling the youth.

But some of those approached about leaving their jobs and the relative comforts of city life said they were more interested in living conditions in the Siberian and central Asian provinces.

Would they live in tents or dugouts, they asked. Would they bunk on collective farms or machine tractor stations, or push in with private families?

Could they take a wife along? What about food and medical care? How about the pay? Would they ever see a movie?

What about families with children?

For the last question, the answer was no—no place in virgin lands for children. A wife may accompany her Komsomol husband if she volunteers—and if she qualifies as a tractor driver, mechanic or chauffeur.

The Central Committee of the Communist party promised in a decree that efforts would be made to improve living conditions, and medical and cultural services. Bonus wages were promised.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 15 (INS)—Wouldn't you know that Robert Taylor will inherit the star role in "Charlemagne," the emperor who lived in the 8th century, between the years 742 and 814 A. R., and was appointed emperor of all Europe, by the pope?

Bob's been in every important spectacle MGM has made, and I have no doubt Dore Schary had him in mind when he purchased the story of Charlemagne from the galley proofs of Harold Lamb's interesting biography, which will be on the stands shortly.

Charlemagne was not only a great military figure, but also a great cultural leader.

Rosemary Clooney telephoned to say hello, and to tell me that the two months spent in Europe with her bridegroom, Jose Ferrer, were wonderful.

"He was my guide. He's been to Europe so many times. We had two wonderful weekends at the Gilbert Millers' country place. We saw all the shows, but," said Rosie, "I'm awfully glad to be home."

Jose goes to Universal-International for "The Shrike," which starts almost immediately.

The usually reticent Gary Cooper astonished everybody on the set of "Vera Cruz" when he became talkative.

A tourist in Mexico, spotting Gary, rushed up and said, "Just what constitutes a successful movie actor?"

"Well," said Gary, "the secret of success for people in my line of work is a good sturdy pair of feet. An actor is on his feet most of the day, and if he has fallen arches, he is just plain out of luck. He's too tired to be a credit to his art."

The wide-eyed tourist put it all down in a book.

Lovely Jeanne Crain, more beautiful now than she's ever been, will be my radio guest tomorrow night. Jeanne is going to tell my listeners how she changed her personality to acquire more glamor.

Another guest is Jimmy McHugh making his first appearance since his recent illness. The well known composer will tell us about his new song, "Dream, Dream, Dream" and you'll hear Sunny Gale sing it.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Cowboy Star Rex Allen, out for the first time since he broke his leg, had dinner with his wife at Rickey's Valley Inn.

Jose Greco has a date to talk to Rouben Mamoulian about playing in "Carmen." They'll discuss it when Jose comes here March 20 for a concert.

Anne Bancroft, 20th leading lady, flies back here St. Patrick's Day from Mexico City. She'll marry Marty May, young Los Angeles attorney, as soon as Lent is over.

Ginny Sims is convalescing and will go home from the hospital in a few days.

Lucille and Gene Markey soon leave for their home outside Louisville to remain until after the Kentucky Derby, then they'll go on for a tour of Europe. Some of Lucille's thoroughbreds will be running in the Derby.

Tempus sure does fugit. Former child star, Baby Leroy, has just been released from the Navy after a two-year hitch.

People returning from Las Vegas tell me that Mata and Hari, at the Thunderbird there, are getting a lot of attention.

Jackie Loughery's first date since she obtained a divorce from Guy Mitchell was with Hal March. They were at the Saratoga.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

City Will Purchase Parking Meters

The Mayor and Council today authorized Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long to advertise for 215 new parking meters.

Commissioner Long said they are needed to replace present worn out meters.

While there is no money in the current police budget to buy them, the firms interested in supplying the meters to the city said they would await payment until the new fiscal year begins July 1, Long said.

One hundred-fifty pipe standards needed as replacements will be purchased locally, the commissioner said.

NEXT! THE GREAT ADVENTURE . . . THE MIGHTY CONQUEST . . . OF CANADA'S SAVAGE MOUNTAIN EMPIRE!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

As we noted yesterday, a beautiful walk starts first with the alignment of curves that balance your weight just ahead of your ankle bone. For a quick check, back up against the wall. Stand with heels tight against it, weight on balls of feet, knees flexed and—here's the crux of the matter—be sure that the small of your back is flat against the wall. There must be not space through which you can pass your hand.

Got it? Now step always, holding that posture, and we'll practice the next most important factor in the mastery of the fluid walk that will make you look like a million wherever you go!

Literally and figuratively, everything in the fluid or glide walk hinges on your hip joint. That's where each step must start. No with the foot, not with the ankle and not with the knee. Leave the goose stepping to the men. Starting your step from the ankle or the knee can only result in a brusque, awkward motion devoid of grace.

Put your hand on your hip joint to sense the motion of the correct start of your walking step. Now raise your leg straight forward and as high as you can with all the movement initiating from the hip joint. Keep your knee relaxed. Exaggerating as much as you can, swing your leg hard and high forward and then backward. Note the pivotal motion of the joint? That's the motion that you want to keep in free-wheeling form!

Now, keeping your knee and ankle relaxed, step out. Say to yourself, "Lead with the thigh." Then do it—aiming your weight at the ball of your foot.

Here's an exercise that will limber your hip joint so it will always respond smoothly in the manner of a well-oiled ball bearing: Stand beside and to the rear of a sturdy chair. Place your left hand on its back and put all your weight on the ball of your left foot. Now raise your right leg straight out to the side as high as it will go. Then swing it clockwise in large rhythmic circles; then counter clockwise. Now reverse your position and swing the left leg.

Start practicing leading with your thigh on every step that you take today—and make it your lifetime habit. Soon you'll be glide-walking like the models!

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, (INS)—There's a touch of pure idiocy, I think, in the decision of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Department of Defense to keep reporters and cameras away from the H-bomb tests in the Pacific. The government "can't afford" such needed coverage.

"News" of the tests therefore will reach the taxpayers, who are paying the bill, via blunt 2-line AEC announcements that such and such a device was detonated and by wildly inaccurate letters sent home by crew members of the large naval force which is on hand. Doting parents will turn the letters over to local papers and radio stations where further distortion could result.

Seems to me the men who handle the atom for us have a lot to explain to the American people. If the AEC was telling the truth in 1952, when it announced Eniwetok tests had involved further research into thermo-nuclear (H-bomb) matters, and also was telling the truth when it acknowledged last August that Russia had achieved a full scale H-bomb detonation, it was making an appalling admission.

The AEC was saying, in effect, that we — the greatest industrial power in history — had been beaten to the punch by what we had been led to believe until very recent years was a power that couldn't build a 1-ton truck. We had been beaten to a punch infinitely more important and powerful than any before it. The peace of the world and the continued existence of the human species on earth depends to a terrible degree on our continued superiority in the field of atomic weapons.

Yet we were saying that the Russians were ahead of us, and saying it casually. Winston Churchill had not treated our atomic lead casually.

He repeatedly said that the world was being spared the agony and annihilation of World War III only because of the power of America's atomic stockpile and the ability of the Strategic Air Command to deliver those bombs to any target on earth.

Then along came Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R) New York, chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. Speaking at a Chicago luncheon meeting of the National Sand and Gravel Association and the National Ready Mixed Concrete Association, Cole revealed we touched off an H-device at Eniwetok in 1952 that destroyed the test island and tore a mile-wide crater 175 feet deep in the floor of the ocean.

The National Sand and Gravel Association and the National Ready Mixed Concrete Association are fine organizations, I'm sure, and I trust they got something better than broiled chicken and BB-shot peas at their luncheon. But, for pity sake, was that the proper tribunal before which to lay news of such earth-shaking moment?

Countless Americans must have brooded heavily between August, 1953, and February, 1954, between the time Washington somberly announced that the Russians had the horrifying weapon and the soiled dessert dishes were taken away at Chicago and Mr. Cole began talking about the funny thing that happened to him on the way to the hotel.

If any of these concerned people recalled the brief 1952 announcement of the AEC that Eniwetok tests had included inquiries into thermo-nuclear matters, they still must have experienced only cold comfort. Nobody, but nobody, ever said we have a real live H-bomb — maybe as good as our sworn enemy's H-bomb — until Mr. Cole confided through the cigar smoke with the jolly sand, gravel and concrete mixers.

Competent news service men, science writers, radio, TV and newsreel representatives should be at Eniwetok right now, prepared to tell America and the world exactly where we stand in an arms race that has no parallel in history. Perhaps 10,000 other persons were sent there, and the experimental bombs to be detonated cost hundreds of millions of dollars (when one considers the facilities needed to produce them). But the AEC complained that the cost of transporting a handful of newsmen would be too great. This calls for an answer. Period.

Russian Farm Recruits Sing 1954 Soviet Version Of 'Oh, Susannah'

By RICHARD R. KASISCHKE

MOSCOW, March 15 (AP) — Soviet city youths being shifted to the farm lands of Siberia and central Asia have a new song called "The Komsomol Farewell" — the 1954 Russian version of Stephen Foster's "O Susannah, Don't You Cry for Me."

A promise by Komsomol Pravda, organ of the Communist Youth League, that "people will write songs about you" was followed quickly by publication of the new tune by the paper, even before the first of the young farmers had reached their destinations.

"Farewell," dear golden Moscow . . . we are off to the far-off virgin lands . . . and perhaps a merry girl will get friendly with me there . . . perhaps this far-off place will become near and dear to me."

That's what—it says in the papers here—the city youths being recruited to give up factory and office jobs sing as they head out to bring under cultivation 32 million additional acres of virgin and fallow land, and to plant it mostly in grain to help feed the nation's growing population.

"Go east young man, go east," is the slogan preached by the government and the Communist Youth League.

Could they take a wife along? What about food and medical care? How about the pay? Would they ever see a movie?

What about families with children?

For the last question, the answer was no—no place in virgin lands for children. A wife may accompany her Komsomol husband if she volunteers—and if she qualifies as a tractor driver, mechanic or chauffeur.

The Central Committee of the Communist party promised in a decree that efforts would be made to improve living conditions, and medical and cultural services. Bonus wages were promised.

Former Romney Youth Wins Oratory Contest

William Harris, Morgantown Takes Section B Honors At Potomac State

KEYSER—William Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Harris, Morgantown, a senior in Morgantown High School, won the section B American Legion Oratorical Contest conducted Monday in the auditorium at Potomac State College. The announcement was made by J. Kenna Burke, social science instructor at Potomac State College, who was chairman of the contest. Burke presented the medal awards to the three contestants.

The winner of the contest and his parents former residents of Romney, where Harris was president of the Romney School for Deaf and Blind. He is now assistant to the registrar at West Virginia University. They have lived in Morgantown only several months.

The winner of the contest will now advance to the state finals to be conducted in Charleston on March 22.

The judges for the contest here were, in addition to Mr. Burke, Dean K. S. McKee, of the college; Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, Kenneth F. Haines, D. G. Nuzum, members of the college faculty, and Jacob Shear, Keyser.

The sectional competition began yesterday with the Section B event at Potomac State College at Keyser. The other scheduled sectional contests include Section D at Beckley today, Section C at Elkins Thursday, and Section A at Parkersburg Friday.

Winners of 12 district contests advanced into sectional events. The four sectional winners will compete in the state finals at Charleston, Monday in Charleston High School auditorium. The contest topic this year is, "The People's Constitution—Ours to Defend."

Each district winner receives a four-year scholarship provided by the State Board of Education and good at any college under the board's jurisdiction.

The state winner will receive a cash award of $200 and $100 will go to the other three finalists in addition to their medals as sectional winners.

Governor Urged By VFW To Sign Vets Bonus Bill

Fairgrieve Post Adopts Resolution

FROSTBURG—Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin is being urged to sign the Maryland Bonus Bill and give the voters of the state an opportunity to express their views on paying Maryland veterans a bonus, when they go to the polls in November.

At a meeting of John F. Fairgrieve Post No. 2462, Veterans of Foreign Wars, a resolution was unanimously adopted urging to State Department Commander Joseph Lightner of Baltimore, to take the necessary action to encourage the governor to sign the measure.

In the resolution it is pointed out that the Bonus Bill passed both houses in the General Assembly. It is also outlined that the bill itself does not authorize the payment of a bonus, but merely puts the plan and proposal before the Maryland citizenry for their decision.

Questions of constitutionality of the Bonus Bill have been raised the VFW resolution continues, but the governor is urged to sign the measure so the question can go to referendum.

William Preston, district commander for the VFW, said other posts in the state are preparing similar resolutions and other veteran organizations are also urging the governor to sign the measure.

Progress Reported In Indoor Fair

LONACONING—Booths are being acquired by business places of the Tri-State area for the Indoor Fair at Valley High School to be held in the school gym April 8 and 9.

A printed program is also being prepared for the Fair, and pages are available to all merchants of the community and area. Those who have booth floor space are entitled to free advertisements in the program.

An initial report on the progress of the Indoor Fair booths and program will be made at the Valley High Boosters Club meeting on Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

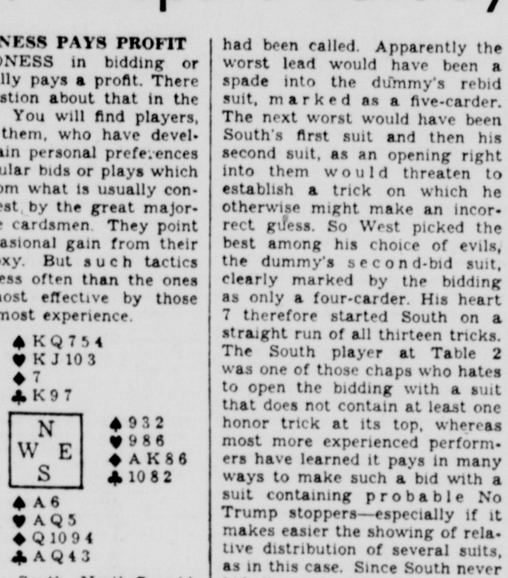
SOUNDNESS PAYS PROFIT

SOUNDNESS in bidding or play usually pays a profit. There is no question about that in the long run. You will find players, many of them, who have developed certain personal preferences for particular bids or plays which depart from what is usually considered best by the great majority of fine cardsmen. They point to an occasional gain from their unorthodoxy. But such tactics pan out less often than the ones proved most effective by those with the most experience.



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1. 1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT	Pass	5 ♠	Pass
6 NT
2. 1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
3 NT	Pass	5 ♥	Pass
5 NT	Pass	6 ♠	Pass
6 NT

That was the bidding at the two tables of a team game, among men who play their cards with approximately even skill. But just note the bidding at the two tables and imagine yourself in the West seat. What would you lead against the 6-No Trumps if you sat at the first table, and what if at the second?

At Table 1, West was against a situation in which all four suits had been called. Apparently the worst lead would have been a spade into the dummy's rebid suit, marked as a five-carder. The next worst would have been South's first suit and then his second suit, as an opening right into them would threaten to establish a trick on which he otherwise might make an incorrect guess. So West picked the best among his choice of evils, the dummy's second-bid suit, clearly marked by the bidding as only a four-carder. His heart 7 therefore started South on a straight run of all thirteen tricks. The South player at Table 2 was one of those chaps who hates to open the bidding with a suit that does not contain at least one honor trick at its top, whereas most more experienced performers have learned it pays in many ways to make such a bid with a suit containing probable No Trump stoppers—especially if it makes easier the showing of relative distribution of several suits, as in this case. Since South never bid diamonds, West led the 2 of that suit, and the tops of East beat the contract.

Westernport Lions Plan Broom Sale

WESTERNPORT — Westernport and Luke Lions Club will hold a broom sale the last of next month.

Bernard Cross, president, of the club, appointed Ormal Hoover, David Long, Robert Keller and Garland Cheshire, to make arrangements for the sale.

Alonzo Riggleman and Carl Salesky are new members received into the club.

Friendsville Man In Highway Crash

Two men, including a Pennsylvania State Police trooper off duty, were killed Friday when their auto collided with the tractor-trailer driven by Carroll Lee Sisler, 21, of Friendsville.

The accident occurred in an experimental 60-mile-an-hour speed zone on U. S. Route 22 about 10 miles east of Harrisburg, Pa. Sisler escaped injury.

Authorities listed the fatalities as Pfc. John Edward Golden, 43, Williamstown, Pa., the trooper, and Thomas Roundtree, 41, of Branchdale, Pa., a passenger in Golden's private car.

Golden's vehicle hit the tractor-trailer at an intersection.

Westernport Lions Plan Broom Sale

WESTERNPORT — Westernport and Luke Lions Club will hold a broom sale the last of next month.

Bernard Cross, president, of the club, appointed Ormal Hoover, David Long, Robert Keller and Garland Cheshire, to make arrangements for the sale.

Alonzo Riggleman and Carl Salesky are new members received into the club.

Friendsville Man In Highway Crash

Two men, including a Pennsylvania State Police trooper off duty, were killed Friday when their auto collided with the tractor-trailer driven by Carroll Lee Sisler, 21, of Friendsville.

The accident occurred in an experimental 60-mile-an-hour speed zone on U. S. Route 22 about 10 miles east of Harrisburg, Pa. Sisler escaped injury.

Authorities listed the fatalities as Pfc. John Edward Golden, 43, Williamstown, Pa., the trooper, and Thomas Roundtree, 41, of Branchdale, Pa., a passenger in Golden's private car.

Golden's vehicle hit the tractor-trailer at an intersection.

Visit N. Carolina

WESTERNPORT — Mrs. Raymond W. Reeves, Main Street, and Mrs. John E. Grindle, Vine Street, returned home from a week's visit with relatives of Mrs. Reeves, in North Carolina. Mrs. Reeves's sister, Mary Dickens, Louisburg, N. C. who visited her here, returned home with Mrs. Reeves.

Card of Thanks

We take this means of publicly expressing sincere thanks to those of our friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful during the illness and following the death of beloved husband and father, Charles Harris. We are grateful for the floral tributes, to those who sent motor cars for the funeral and to all others who in any manner assisted us.
Mrs. Margaret Harris and Family,
Frostburg, Md.

We take this manner in which to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us following the death of our beloved father, Anthony Bostjancic. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars for the funeral.

In Memoriam

In memory of our father, Henry C. Wagoner, who passed away 2 years ago, March 16, 1952.
Beautiful memories are all that are left,
Of the one we loved and shall never forget.
Missed by His Children.

Card of Thanks

We take this means of publicly expressing sincere thanks to those of our friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful during the illness and following the death of beloved husband and father, Charles Harris. We are grateful for the floral tributes, to those who sent motor cars for the funeral and to all others who in any manner assisted us.

Mrs. Margaret Harris and Family,
Frostburg, Md.

We take this manner in which to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us following the death of our beloved father, Anthony Bostjancic. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars for the funeral.

In Memoriam

In memory of our father, Henry C. Wagoner, who passed away 2 years ago, March 16, 1952.

Beautiful memories are all that are left,

Missed by His Children.

Market Declines But Late Recovery Trims Losses

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP) — A substantial recovery late in the afternoon helped to stabilize the Stock Market today, but it closed lower in a subdued manner.

This is the second straight fall for the market since it reached a new 24-year high last Thursday. The sell-off has not been pronounced. Low volume today indicated resistance to the slide.

Throughout the day there was a lot of Wall Street interest in the effect the President's tax speech might have on the stock market, and some caution was evident in the absence of any details on the president's talk.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 40 cents at $115.-70. It was off 30 cents on Friday. The industrial and railroad components were down 50 cents each, and the utilities were off 10 cents.

There were 1,207 individual issues traded—second broadest market of the year—of which 331 advanced and 609 declined. Twenty-six new highs for 1953-54 were recorded and six new lows.

Key stocks at the most were down 1 to 2 points at times, but changes of as much as a point either way were not usual. There were, however, a few wide movers.

Pepsi-Cola was the day's most active issue off ⅜ at 1666⅛ with 22,700 shares traded. It was second Friday. It was followed by Glenn Martin up ⅛ at 21¾. It was first on Friday.

Market Declines But Late Recovery Trims Losses

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP) — A substantial recovery late in the afternoon helped to stabilize the Stock Market today, but it closed lower in a subdued manner.

This is the second straight fall for the market since it reached a new 24-year high last Thursday. The sell-off has not been pronounced. Low volume today indicated resistance to the slide.

Throughout the day there was a lot of Wall Street interest in the effect the President's tax speech might have on the stock market, and some caution was evident in the absence of any details on the president's talk.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 40 cents at $115.-70. It was off 30 cents on Friday. The industrial and railroad components were down 50 cents each, and the utilities were off 10 cents.

There were 1,207 individual issues traded—second broadest market of the year—of which 331 advanced and 609 declined. Twenty-six new highs for 1953-54 were recorded and six new lows.

Key stocks at the most were down 1 to 2 points at times, but changes of as much as a point either way were not usual. There were, however, a few wide movers.

Pepsi-Cola was the day's most active issue off ⅜ at 166⅛ with 22,700 shares traded. It was second Friday. It was followed by Glenn Martin up ⅛ at 21¾. It was first on Friday.

Escaped Convict Shot By Police At Oakland

Paul J. Morgan, Grafton, Captured After Wild Chase; Wounded In Leg

An escaped West Virginia convict was shot and wounded by State Police during a wild chase Saturday afternoon in the Oakland area of Garrett County, and is being held under 24-hour guard in Garrett Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

Paul J. Morgan, of Grafton, who was serving two to ten years at West Virginia State Penitentiary, Moundsville, on a forgery conviction, escaped from a work gang at Hopemont Sanitarium, Hopemont, W. Va., March 10.

He had been sought since then and was traced by West Virginia State Police to the Oakland area.

Go To Oakland

On Saturday afternoon, Cpl. W. L. Pike and Pvt. H. E. Parks of the W. Va. Police, went to Oakland and obtained the assistance of Sheriff Paul Fisher. They also notified Maryland State Troopers in the area.

The two W. Va. officers and Sheriff Fisher located Morgan on North Third Street, Oakland, where the escapee was forced to abandon his car. He ran from the officers and several shots were fired by the police.

Morgan worked his way westward to Second Street and from there continued west over Crooks Crest, crossing the Oakland Golf Course and passing through the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thayer.

On the top of Crooks Crest, he abandoned the loafer-type shoes he was wearing, because he had difficulty running in them. He proceeded onward in his stockinged feet.

After losing the trail on the Golf Course, Maryland State Troopers, Cpl. Samuel Conrad and TFC Robert Henline joined in the chase.

Stops At House

Morgan stopped at the Kitzmiller house, knocked on the door and told Mrs. Kitzmiller who answered that he had lost his shoes in an auto accident. He offered to buy an old pair, and after rummaging around, Mrs. Kitzmiller found an old pair of shoes which she gave Morgan. She also gave him a pair of dry socks and a drink of water, she later told police.

As Morgan entered the Kitzmiller house, he was seen by Maryland State Trooper Henline, who was cruising in the vicinity.

Henline radioed the other officers who were also combing the area, trying to pick up the trail. Cpl. Conrad, Cpl. Pike and Trooper Parks and Sheriff Fisher went to the Kitzmiller house and surrounded it.

As Morgan came out of the front door, he saw the officers and started running, "in bounding leaps without looking back" the officers said.

Police Open Fire

The police opened fire and fired some 20 or more shots. Cpl. Pike and Trooper Henline ran after Morgan and as the fleeing convict neared the Baltimore and Ohio bridge across the Yough River, Cpl. Pike shot him in the lower left leg. The leg was badly broken by the bullet and Morgan dropped.

Pike and Henline rendered first aid and applied splints. Then they carried Morgan several hundred yards to the county road to an ambulance and removed him, under guard to the hospital.

Officials said Morgan had served about five years of his sentence and was eligible for parole in April or May.

He gave no reason to the officers for his escape and his wild dash to retain his freedom. When he recovers, authorities said, he will be returned to Moundsville.

Water Reserves Are Boosted By Recent Rains

City Gives $300 To Red Cross Drive

Cumberland's water reserves are gaining each week.

Yesterday, the Mayor and Council was told that Lake Gordon was eight feet, three inches below the crest Sunday, and that Lake Koon had risen to within 15 feet, four inches of the crest.

This represented a loss of six inches in Gordon but a boost of two feet, eight inches in Lake Koon, the main reservoir. Lake Koon has risen more than 20 feet in recent weeks as the result of the late winter rains.

Water consumption last week averaged 12,262,000 gallons daily—a reduction from recent consumption but still slightly more than the 11,871,000 used a year ago.

Collections Decrease

Parking meter receipts for the week of March 7 totaled $520.79, a drop of $39.64 from the previous week.

The city auditor was ordered to issue a check of $300 for the Allegany County Chapter of the American Red Cross. The money is to be taken from the Movie Charity Fund.

Council authorized the payment of $123.20 to Mrs. Thelma R. Emery, widow of Charles W. Emery, for vacation time not used at the time of his death.

The Junior Association of Commerce was granted permission to erect banners on Baltimore and South Mechanic Streets to advertise its Cumberland Home Builder's Show, to be held March 25-27 in the Footer Building.

Band Concerts Planned

Referred to Finance Commissioner William V. Keegan was the request of the Cumberland Optimist Club that the city take a $30 advertisement in the program for "Annie Get Your Gun."

Also referred to Commissioner Keegan was a letter from the Cumberland Concert Band. W. E. Capaldi, president, pointed out the group will make its initial appearance Thursday at 9 p. m. in the Maryland Theatre. He added the band hopes to give concerts in the park this summer.

Commissioner Keegan termed the concert offer a "good gesture" and referred the letter to the Recreation Department.

Auto License Sale Hits 6,718

Ernest B. Treat, county tax collector, said his office had issued 510 auto license plates yesterday and 378 tags Saturday to bring the total for the year to 6,718.

Treat noted the trend is running similar to previous years and that the total plates issued to date is approximately one-third of the 16,830 auto tags his office has for sale.

The tax collector said he expects to sell fewer tags this year than in the past, adding the next two weeks before the March 31 deadline will be the busiest for his staff.

The county tax office is equipped to handle about 800 sales per day, he said, remembering the final day of the month two years ago when his office sold 2,400 tags in one day.

"That was a day I don't want to experience again," Treat stated, "because we couldn't handle the large tags we have this year as we did the smaller clips we sold then."

Crash Causes Second Death

A Rochester, Pa. motorist, injured critically in an auto accident on the Pennsylvania Turnpike early Sunday morning, which claimed the life of a 13-year-old boy, died last night at Bedford Memorial Hospital.

He is Dallas J. Dillon, operator of the car which crashed on the turnpike, killing the child Ronnell Parshall, and sending the boy's parents, a brother and sister to the hospital.

Dillon was reported to have suffered a compound fracture of the skull and was admitted to the hospital in critical condition after being thrown from the car. He succumbed at 8:05 p. m. yesterday, Pennsylvania State Police said.

Kenneth Parshall, father of the boy, sustained a right hip injury while his wife suffered head lacerations. A son, Ernest, 8, was bruised about the body and a daughter, Dolores, 14, had body bruises.

Police said Dillon, headed east, failed to negotiate a curve, ran across the medial strip and rolled over three times, coming to a stop on the westbound lane. The road was wet and slippery at the time.

Bomb Group Plans To Hold Reunion

The 409th Bomb Goup will hold its third reunion at Troutdale-In-The-Pines, Evergreen, Colorado, July 2-3. Members of the group are requested to contact Bernard B. Bernstein, 6514 North Albany Avenue, Chicago, 45, Ill., for full particulars of the reunion.

Nun Donates Eighth Pint Of Blood

Sister M. Alverna, O. S. U., a teaching nun at SS. Peter and Paul's School, is one of the regular contributors when the Bloodmobile visits Cumberland each month. She is shown with Mrs. Catherine A. Armbruster, Bedford Road, as she answered various questions before giving her eighth pint of blood on the Bloodmobile's last stop here. The Red Cross, which directs the program, is now in the midst of its annual fund-raising appeal. The Allegany County campaign still has not yet reached the halfway point in its quest for $35,000.

B&O Announces Round Trip Fare Reductions Here

One-Third Savings Effective April 15

Rate reductions of approximately a third in round-trip coach fares between Cumberland and Pittsburgh to the West and Philadelphia to the East will be inaugurated April 15, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad announced yesterday.

The new fares, which will also apply on trips to and from principal intermediate points, provide such travel bargains as a round-trip between Cumberland and Pittsburgh for $6.75, a saving of $3.37 under the present fare, and a $12.60 round trip between Cumberland and Philadelphia, a $5.75 reduction under the existing rates (tax not included).

The new fares, which are being placed in effect on an experimental basis until September 30, are designed to attract additional passengers to the rail lines.

It was pointed out that the new reduced rates, coupled with the convenience, safety, dependability and comfort of train service should appeal to many people now using other means of transport.

The new low-cost tickets, good in coaches on all trains, permit stop-overs en route in either direction. The return portion of the round trip may be made any time up to 30 days from the date the ticket is purchased. Children under 12 years of age may travel at half the new fares. The reduced fares are not valid for north-south travel between Philadelphia and Washington alone. Full information on the new reduced round-trip coach fares can be had at any B&O ticket office.

Here's how the new bargain round-trip fares between Cumberland and principal other points on the B&O system with regular fares (exclusive of tax):

To	New Fare	Present Fare	Saving
Philadelphia	$12.60	$18.35	$5.75
Wilmington	11.50	16.95	5.45
Baltimore	8.35	12.46	4.11
Washington	6.65	9.96	3.31
Martinsburg	3.40	5.04	1.64
Connellsville	4.20	6.26	2.06
McKeesport	6.20	9.30	3.10
Pittsburgh	6.75	10.12	3.37

Driver Is Jailed In Default Of Fine

Lawrence Minick, 938 Railroad Street, Duquesne, Pa., was committed to the Allegany County Jail for 30 days yesterday in default of $100.75 fine after he pleaded guilty to four motor vehicle charges.

He was arrested on Route 40 at Clarysville Sunday by Trooper Joseph V. Stakem, who preferred charges in Trial Magistrates Court before Magistrate Donald Mason.

Furloughed Amcelle Spinner Dies From Gunshot Wound

An Amcelle spinner, who has been unemployed for about a month, died yesterday afternoon as a result of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the forehead.

Authorities identified him as Russell George Windemuth, 38, of 70 Cresap Street. Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said that the victim, who had been despondent, left a note to his wife prior to the fatal shooting.

His body was found in the basement of the Windemuth residence by Mrs. Windemuth, who has been employed by the Cumberland Macaroni Company.

City police said that Mrs. Windemuth had left for work at 12:25 p. m. and returned home about 3:30 p. m. and thought her husband was out.

Later when she went to the cellar to check the furnace, authorities said, Mrs. Windemuth found her husband's body. He was reported to have been shot through the forehead and had used a .22 calibre rifle.

Windemuth was said to have been under doctor's care and was despondent. The victim had been employed at the Amcelle plant for 21 years.

City police received a call at headquarters at 3:55 p. m. Lt. James E. Van and Leo E. P. Law, of the Police Detective Bureau, and Officer John Snyder, investigated the case with Dr. Deming. The shooting occurred about 2 p. m. according to authorities.

A native of Cumberland, Windemuth was born September 7, 1915 and was a son of Mrs. Loretta Windemuth and the late George Windemuth. The victim was a member of Local 1874, TWUA.

Surviving besides his mother, are his wife, Mrs. Sylvia Everly Windemuth, a 17-year-old son, Ronald George Windemuth, student at Fort Hill High School; a sister, Mrs. Albert Klavuhn, Clarysville and a brother, Clarence Robert Windemuth, Chambersburg, Pa.

The body is at Hafer's Funeral Home and will be taken to the residence this evening.

City Selects Testing Firm For Bridge

Report Presented On North End Tank

The Mayor and Council yesterday authorized a Pittsburgh testing firm to check materials to be used in the Valley Street Bridge, and heard a report from another testing firm on the construction of the North End water tank.

Following the recommendation of City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, the city authorized the Robert W. Hunt Testing Laboratory, Pittsburgh, to test materials to be used for the span. The cost will be about $1,000.

Nuzum pointed out that the steel must be inspected at the mill and later at the fabricating shop to make sure that it meets all specifications.

Hear Tank Report

Council also heard a report of the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory on the North End water tank, following a visual inspection on March 8.

The report pointed out that the column splice bolts at the leg where the access ladder is attached are not pulled up enough, and that bolts are missing from the ladder splice.

It said the welding appears to be satisfactory but very rough in appearance, and suggested that plugs be cut from several spots to check on the quality of welds.

The roof and inside of the tank were not checked, the report said, since the access ladder had not been attached when the inspection was made. It added the shell was noticeably out of round.

Nuzum later said he asked for the inspection as a guide toward making final approval of the tank, when all of the work is completed.

Resolution Filed

He said the check made was "only a visual inspection" and that it was not a bad report.

Ordered filed was a resolution from the Route 40 Association, which asked that the State Roads Commission build a Class 1 highway from Hancock to the Pennsylvania line, and abandon its overhead expressway plan for Cumberland and allow Route 40 to follow its historic route through the Narrows.

Finance Commissioner William V. Keegan moved for approval, but Mayor Roy W. Eves said the motion called only for filing.

Knobley Mt. Post To Hear Adjutant

R. A. Thom of Charleston, assistand department adjutant for the American Legion in West Virginia, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of Knobley Mountain Post No. 136 at 8 o'clock tonight at the Post Home in Ridgeley.

All area veterans who are eligible to belong to the American Legion are invited to attend tonight's meeting. A buffet luncheon will be served after the meeting.

Council Hears Report On Sports Car Races

Plans for the Cumberland Sports Car Races, to be held May 16 at the Cumberland Municipal Airport, were outlined yesterday to the Mayor and Council.

The event will be sponsored by the Cumberland Lions Club under the technical supervision of the Steel Cities Sports Car Club of America.

William R. Carscaden, chairman, said Allegheny Airlines has promised full cooperation to the club. He also presented a letter from the Civil Aeronautics Board in answer to the club's request for permission to hold the race at the airport.

Local 1874 To Meet

Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), will hold a membership meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall, according to Earl Snyder, president.

Washington Co. Court To Get Democrat Clerk

Judge Mish To Swear In Merlin Snyder

HAGERSTOWN, Md., March 15 (AP) — Washington County finally gets a clerk of court tomorrow—after a death, a three-judge squabble and a resignation.

Judge Joseph D. Mish said G. Merlin Snyder, in the clerk's office for 30 years and who has been serving as acting clerk, will be sworn in tomorrow.

Snyder became acting clerk when John R. R. Black resigned after serving four days. Black had been the first GOP clerk in the county in years, being appointed by Judges George Henderson and Morgan C. Harris of Cumberland, both Republicans.

Mish, a Hagerstown Democrat, had recommended Snyder or another deputy, who also had 30 years experience, to fill the vacancy caused by J. Guy Weagley's death.

The appointment of Black, a member of the county liquor board, touched off a dispute among the judges. But Black was sworn in Feb. 4—Judge Mish not attending the ceremonies.

Four days later, Black said a physical examination disclosed a heart condition, and he stepped down from the clerkship.

Judge Mish said he was swearing in Snyder with Judge Henderson's approval.

Henry Hart Post Election Tonight

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold floor nominations and election of officers tonight at the post home, 205 Union Street, at 7:30 o'clock.

Nominations were made for various officers at the last meeting of the post March 2, but will be reopened tonight prior to the election, George Speis, commander, stated.

Nominated for office are Vernon Winner and Vernon Crable, commander; Cornelius Rice, senior vice commander; Glen Watson, junior vice commander; Paul Laber, quartermaster; James Darling and George Coffman, chaplain; and three-year trustee, R. Stanton Byer and George Speis.

A business meeting will follow the nominations and election, Speis said, and refreshments will be served following the meeting.

A large turnout of patrons witnessed the two showings of the "Minstrelks of 1954," staged at the Maryland Theater yesterday afternoon and evening.

Another matinee is scheduled at 2:30 p. m. today with the final performance slated to go on at 8:15 p. m. John H. Mosner, chairman of this year's affair said some reserved seats are still available.

The tickets are at the theater boxoffice where telephone reservations will be accepted. The telephone number is 26.

Ridgeley Plans Meeting Tonight On Flood Plan

Joint Conference Set Wednesday

A mass meeting will be held in Ridgeley High School tonight at 7:30 o'clock to discuss the future of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection Project.

Robert L. Wadsworth, Washington, chief of the Reports and Planning branch of the Corps of Engineers, Washington District, will attend.

Cumberland will be represented by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and C. R. Nuzum, city engineer.

Wadsworth is expected to outline the plans of the Corps of Engineers for both the immediate and the long-range future of the work.

Joint Meeting Need

Yesterday morning, the Ridgeley Town Council, with J. H. Simmons, adviser, and J. W. Aldridge, a member of the Ridgeley Flood Control committee, met with the Mayor and Council of Cumberland.

During the discussion, it was pointed out that there has been no essential change in the flood control program as it was outlined in 1945, and that the minor changes do not affect the height of flood walls and levees which will protect both Cumberland and Ridgeley from floods.

Simmons read a letter he received from the Corps of Engineers, assuring the community that the corps is keeping the overall protection plan in mind during the construction, that plans call for no change in overall plans or scheduling and that when completed, the project will give Ridgeley the same protection as is planned for Cumberland.

Conference Planned

Wadsworth will also attend a joint meeting of Cumberland and Ridgeley councils at City Hall Wednesday at 10 a. m.

Additional information on the plans of the Corps of Engineers for phases to get under way this year may be revealed at the meetings.

At present, the E. J. Albrecht is completing one phase of Wills Creek channel work and is speeding the Industrial Dam toward completion. The West Side flood wall contract is to be let next month, and there is a possibility of starting a river levee this year.

Morning Fire Destroys Farm House

Claude DuVall's Home Is Gutted

High winds and the lack of a water supply hampered Flintstone volunteer firemen, who unsuccessfuly attempted to save the home of an area resident, which was destroyed by fire yesterday morning.

Flames spread quickly enveloping the frame farm house of Cloude DuVall, located one mile east of Rush on Williams Road.

DuVall, the father of six children, is an employe of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. The blaze started about 8:40 a. m., firemen reported and five members of the company battled the blaze with 10 other volunteers in the area.

Nearly all of the furnishings of the farm house were saved although the building was destroyed in the blaze which was fought until 11 a. m.

High winds and the lack of an ample supply of water hampered the efforts of the firemen in bringing the blaze under control. On the scene was J. E. Mullenax, president of the Flintstone company and acting fire chief.

Cause of the blaze was believed to have been a faulty flue in the frame structure.

Local Man Paroled After Disturbance

Donald Cavey, 24, of 123 Roberts Street, received a suspended sentence of 90 days in the County Jail yesterday when he pleaded guilty in Trial Magistrates Court to a charge of disorderly conduct.

The charge was filed following a disturbance March 9 in the South End Candy Kitchen, Virginia Avenue.

Magistrate Donald Mason paroled Cavey for three years on condition he stay away from the place in which the disturbance occurred, refrain from drinking, seek employment and be of good behavior.

Justice Douglas Answers Kenny's Letter On Canal

Cites His Theories On Planned Parkway

Francis A. Kenny, 802 Trost Avenue, who recently wrote to Justice William O. Douglas, explaining the justification of the building of the C&O Canal Parkway, received an answer yesterday from the Supreme Court justice.

In a brief response to Kenny's letter, Justice Douglas answered, "I have your letter of March 9th concerning the proposed parkway along the C&O Canal. I read your letter with interest and appreciate receiving your views. Yours faithfully, W. O. Douglas."

Enclosed with Douglas' response was a statement of his views on the canal as given to the Washington Post which precipitated the challenge of the Post's editors resulting in the planned hike along the canalway by Douglas and a group of hikers for Washington from Cumberland. The hikers will leave Cumberland Saturday.

Kenny in his letter had pointed out the advantages of the parkway, especially as a national defense project providing egress from Washington or Baltimore to the relatively safe sanctuary of the mountains in case of atomic attack.

Kenny, manager of the Cumberland Department of Employment Security, also pointed out the economic benefits the local stricken area would receive from the tourist trade that the parkway would channel here.

Douglas, in his criticism of the parkway, told newsmen the area should be developed to promote recreational values, it is a bridle path unequalled in beauty, it could provide a cycle way for long trips, it was a wilderness for people who like to hike with isolated camp sites along the way, it could be restored as a famed canoe waterway, it's primitive character could be retained and the area is easily accessible by present roadways.

The Weather

Ol' Man Winter really had local and area residents puzzled yesterday with the combination of high wind, snow flurries and sunshine. Highways in the Grantsville area last night were reported slick and chains were recommended by Maryland State Police. West Virginia Police said Route 50 east and west of Romney were clear although snow was reported in the mountain sections of Elkins. Pennsylvania State Police said the vicinity of Somerset and Laurel were icy. The high temperature in Cumberland yesterday was 33 with a low of 26 degrees and at 8 p. m. the mercury stood at 29 degrees. Forecast for today is fair with the mercury slated to be in the 30.

Emmanuel To Show Film On St. Paul

A film on the life of St. Paul will be shown at the 7:30 p. m. service Thursday at Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Rev. H. Maunsell Richardson, the rector, announced that the film will be shown in place of a sermon. The Litany will be read during the Lenten service.

A discussion group will meet in the Parish House following the service. "The Worship of The Church" will be the subject.

Many Motorists Of Area Attend Safety Movie Here

At least 60 persons attended the showing of a 12-minute safety movie, "Motor Mania," last night in the City Police Court Room in local headquarters.

Due to the large number in attendance the film had to be shown twice. On Monday evening March 22, the film will again be shown in the auditorium of City Hall, according to John J. Long, Commissioner of Police and Firemen.

The movie, Long added, is being held in cooperation with Paul Burke, chairman of Governor McKeldin's State Highway Safety Committee, who is inaugurating a local safety drive with the aim of reducing automobile accidents on local highways and streets.

Everyone is invited to attend the movie, Long added. Also cooperating in the film showing are Lt. William E. O'Hara, commander of LaVale Barracks of the Maryland State Police; Commissioner Long; Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn and Trial Magistrates Donald W. Mason and J. Milton Dick.

Long pointed out that in January of this year, there was a total of 31 traffic deaths in the State of Maryland. These traffic accidents, aside from the human misery involved, represent an economic loss to the State of $2,945,000.00. Each person atending the movie is given a driving handbook, a summary of rules for safe driving.

Heavy Invalid Saved When House Burns

Small Man Rescues Employer, Wife In Sang Run Blaze

A slightly-built Garrett County farm hand was credited by Oakland firemen with saving the lives of his 260-pound invalid employer and the employer's wife when flames consumed the frame dwelling of the couple in below freezing weather yesterday morning.

Roy Dillworth, about 32, dragged the helpless farmer, Rell Friend, about 70, from the burning building to safety after leading Mrs. Friend who is 69 out of the house. This followed discovery of the blaze in an upstairs room of the two-story, eight-room dwelling at Sang Run, about 18 miles from Oakland.

Oakland Fire Chief Emroy Bolden said the alarm was received about 9:50 a. m. with 12 volunteer firemen responding to the call and firemen arrived at the scene 18 miles away some 25 minutes later after traveling through blustery winds, blowing snow and over deep-rutted country roads to the scene.

House Enveloped In Flames

Bolden said the house was enveloped in flames when firemen arrived and nothing could be done to save the building. However, fast, competent work by the firemen kept the fire from spreading to nearby buildings in the raw, cold and windy weather. Saved by the firemen were a meat smoke house and large barn which housed the Friends' cattle.

Authorities said Dillworth, answering a call for help from Mrs. Friend who had discovered the fire, ran from the barn where he was feeding the cattle and entered the burning building.

Mrs. Friend, it was learned later, had heard a noise upstairs as she was in the kitchen preparing the morning meal. When she went up the stairway to investigate she was met with a wall of flame, firemen stated.

Returning to the front porch, Mrs. Friend called Dillworth, who responded immediately. Upon his arrival at the house Dillworth discovered Mrs. Friend had re-entered the home, apparently in an effort to save her husband and some of their belongings.

Returns For Employer

She was partially overcome by smoke from the flames which already were beginning to burn downstairs walls. Dillworth led Mrs. Friend out of the house to safety and returned to get his employer who was bedfast with an arthritic ailment in a downstairs rear bedroom.

After dragging Friend from the house the 140-pound Dillworth put the aged couple in a nearby smoke house to protect them from the bitter cold and raw blustery winds. Friend was clad only in a nightshirt, firemen said.

Dillworth then ran a half-mile to a store owned by Mrs. Mary Hinebaugh, who notified firemen and called neighbors in the area to assist the beleaguered family. The hired man then returned to the farmhouse with blankets to be wrapped around Friend to keep the elderly man warm.

Son Burned In Rescue Attempt

Meanwhile the smoke house roof had caught fire from the wind-blown flames and Dillworth had to move the couple to the barn and from there to a station wagon brought to the scene by a neighbor.

Firemen said a son of the Friend couple, Martin Friend, about 50, who is employed at the Pennsylvania Electric Company's power plant at Deep Creek Lake dam, hurried home when the alarm spread and thinking his parents were trapped in the house entered the building to save them. He was promptly rescued by firemen, but not before being burned about the face, neck and hands.

The Friends lived in their modest home with their son and a daughter, Miss Mary Martha Friend, who was not at home at the time of the fire. The couple were taken to the home of another daughter Mrs. Doris Rodeheaver who lives nearby after both were treated for shock and slight exposure.

Dillworth, who only recently moved into the Sang Run area, lives about 1½ miles from the 90-acre Friend farm and is the father of 10 children.

Harold D. Brooks Files For House Of Delegates Post

Harold D. Brooks, 263 National Highway, LaVale, yesterday officially filed his certificate as candidate for Republican nomination to the House of Delegates with the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors.

Brooks, who had earlier announced his intention to file thus became the 19th candidate to file for county office subject to the June 28 Republican primary.

Two other Allegany County residents have filed for House of Delegates nomination, Mrs. Margaret E. Spioch, 507 Patterson Avenue and Robert Lee Jeffry, Detmold. Delegates Charles M. See and Lester B. Reed have announced their intention to seek re-election to the House of Delegates in the Republican primary but have not yet filed.

Deadline for filing for the primary is April 19.

Escaped Convict Shot By Police At Oakland

Paul J. Morgan, Grafton, Captured After Wild Chase; Wounded In Leg

An escaped West Virginia convict was shot and wounded by State Police during a wild chase Saturday afternoon in the Oakland area of Garrett County, and is being held under 24-hour guard in Garrett Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

Paul J. Morgan, of Grafton, who was serving two to ten years at West Virginia State Penitentiary, Moundsville, on a forgery conviction, escaped from a work gang at Hopemont Sanitarium, Hopemont, W. Va., March 10.

He had been sought since then and was traced by West Virginia State Police to the Oakland area.

Go To Oakland

On Saturday afternoon, Cpl. W. L. Pike and Pvt. H. E. Parks of the W. Va. Police, went to Oakland and obtained the assistance of Sheriff Paul Fisher. They also notified Maryland State Troopers in the area.

The two W. Va. officers and Sheriff Fisher located Morgan on North Third Street, Oakland, where the escapee was forced to abandon his car. He ran from the officers and several shots were fired by the police.

Morgan worked his way westward to Second Street and from there continued west over Crooks Crest, crossing the Oakland Golf Course and passing through the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thayer.

On the top of Crooks Crest, he abandoned the loafer-type shoes he was wearing, because he had difficulty running in them. He proceeded onward in his stockinged feet.

After losing the trail on the Golf Course, Maryland State Troopers, Cpl. Samuel Conrad and TFC Robert Henline joined in the chase.

Stops At House

Morgan stopped at the Kitzmiller house, knocked on the door and told Mrs. Kitzmiller who answered that he had lost his shoes in an auto accident. He offered to buy an old pair, and after rummaging around, Mrs. Kitzmiller found an old pair of shoes which she gave Morgan. She also gave him a pair of dry socks and a drink of water, she later told police.

As Morgan entered the Kitzmiller house, he was seen by Maryland State Trooper Henline, who was cruising in the vicinity.

Henline radioed the other officers who were also combing the area, trying to pick up the trail. Cpl. Conrad, Cpl. Pike and Trooper Parks and Sheriff Fisher went to the Kitzmiller house and surrounded it.

As Morgan came out of the front door, he saw the officers and started running, "in bounding leaps without looking back" the officers said.

Police Open Fire

The police opened fire and fired some 20 or more shots. Cpl. Pike and Trooper Henline ran after Morgan and as the fleeing convict neared the Baltimore and Ohio bridge across the Yough River, Cpl. Pike shot him in the lower left leg. The leg was badly broken by the bullet and Morgan dropped.

Pike and Henline rendered first aid and applied splints. Then they carried Morgan several hundred yards to the county road to an ambulance and removed him, under guard to the hospital.

Officials said Morgan had served about five years of his sentence and was eligible for parole in April or May.

He gave no reason to the officers for his escape and his wild dash to retain his freedom. When he recovers, authorities said, he will be returned to Moundsville.

Water Reserves Are Boosted By Recent Rains

City Gives $300 To Red Cross Drive

Cumberland's water reserves are gaining each week.

Yesterday, the Mayor and Council was told that Lake Gordon was eight feet, three inches below the crest Sunday, and that Lake Koon had risen to within 15 feet, four inches of the crest.

This represented a loss of six inches in Gordon but a boost of two feet, eight inches in Lake Koon, the main reservoir. Lake Koon has risen more than 20 feet in recent weeks as the result of the late winter rains.

Water consumption last week averaged 12,262,000 gallons daily—a reduction from recent consumption but still slightly more than the 11,871,000 used a year ago.

Collections Decrease

Parking meter receipts for the week of March 7 totaled $520.79, a drop of $39.64 from the previous week.

The city auditor was ordered to issue a check of $300 for the Allegany County Chapter of the American Red Cross. The money is to be taken from he Movie Charity Fund.

Council authorized the payment of $123.20 to Mrs. Thelma R. Emery, widow of Charles W. Emery, for vacation time not used at the time of his death.

The Junior Association of Commerce was granted permission to erect banners on Baltimore and South Mechanic Streets to advertise its Cumberland Home Builder's Show, to be held March 25-27 in the Footer Building.

Band Concerts Planned

Referred to Finance Commissioner William V. Keegan was the request of the Cumberland Optimist Club that the city take a $30 advertisement in the program for "Annie Get Your Gun."

Also referred to Commissioner Keegan was a letter from the Cumberland Concert Band. W. E. Capaldi, president, pointed out the group will make its initial appearance Thursday at 9 p. m. in the Maryland Theatre. He added the band hopes to give concerts in the park this summer.

Commissioner Keegan termed the concert offer a "good gesture" and referred the letter to the Recreation Department.

Auto License Sale Hits 6,718

Ernest B. Treat, county tax collector, said his office had issued 510 auto license plates yesterday and 378 tags Saturday to bring the total for the year to 6,718.

Treat noted the trend is running similar to previous years and that the total plates issued to date is approximately one-third of the 16,830 auto tags his office has for sale.

The tax collector said he expects to sell fewer tags this year than in the past, adding the next two weeks before the March 31 deadline will be the busiest for his staff.

The county tax office is equipped to handle about 800 sales per day, he said, remembering the final day of the month two years ago when his office sold 2,400 tags in one day.

"That was a day I don't want to experience again," Treat stated, "because we couldn't handle the large tags we have this year as we did the smaller clips we sold then."

Crash Causes Second Death

A Rochester, Pa. motorist, injured critically in an auto accident on the Pennsylvania Turnpike early Sunday morning, which claimed the life of a 13-year-old boy, died last night at Bedford Memorial Hospital.

He is Dallas J. Dillon, operator of the car which crashed on the turnpike, killing the child Ronnell Parshall, and sending the boy's parents, a brother and sister to the hospital.

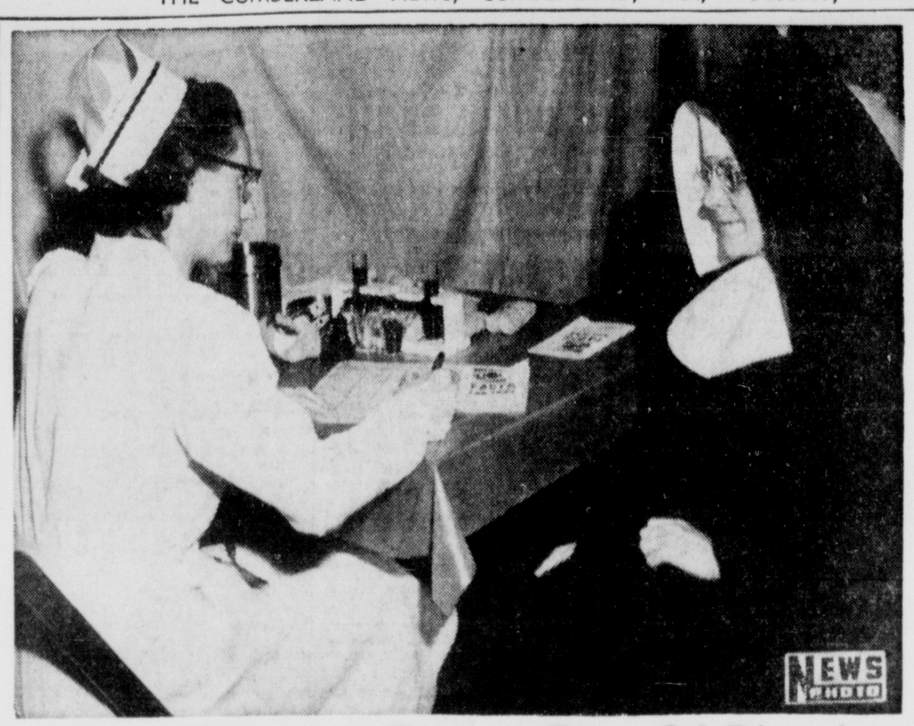
Dillon was reported to have suffered a compound fracture of the skull and was admitted to the hospital in critical condition after being thrown from the car. He succumbed at 8:05 p. m. yesterday, Pennsylvania State Police said.

Kenneth Parshall, father of the boy, sustained a right hip injury while his wife suffered head lacerations. A son, Ernest, 8, was bruised about the body and a daughter, Dolores, 14, had body bruises.

Police said Dillon, headed east, failed to negotiate a curve, ran across the medial strip and rolled over three times, coming to a stop on the westbound lane. The road was wet and slippery at the time.

Bomb Group Plans To Hold Reunion

The 409th Bomb Goup will hold its third reunion at Troutdale-In-The-Pines, Evergreen, Colorado, July 2-3. Members of the group are requested to contact Bernard B. Bernstein, 6514 North Albany Avenue, Chicago, 45, Ill., for full particulars of the reunion.



Nun Donates Eighth Pint Of Blood

Sister M. Alverna, O. S. U., a teaching nun at SS. Peter and Paul's School, is one of the regular contributors when the Bloodmobile visits Cumberland each month. She is shown with Mrs. Catherine A. Armbruster, Bedford Road, as she answered various questions before giving her eighth pint of blood on the Bloodmobile's last stop here. The Red Cross, which directs the program, is now in the midst of its annual fund-raising appeal. The Allegany County campaign still has not yet reached the halfway point in its quest for $35,000.

B&O Announces Round Trip Fare Reductions Here

One-Third Savings Effective April 15

Rate reductions of approximately a third in round-trip coach fares between Cumberland and Pittsburgh to the West and Philadelphia to the East will be inaugurated April 15, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad announced yesterday.

The new fares, which will also apply on trips to and from principal intermediate points, provide such travel bargains as a round-trip between Cumberland and Pittsburgh for $6.75, a saving of $3.37 under the present fare, and a $12.60 round trip between Cumberland and Philadelphia, a $5.75 reduction under the existing rates (tax not included).

The new fares, which are being placed in effect on an experimental basis until September 30, are designed to attract additional passengers to the rail lines.

It was pointed out that the new reduced rates, coupled with the convenience, safety, dependability and comfort of train service should appeal to many people now using other means of transport.

The new low-cost tickets, good in coaches on all trains, permit stop-overs en route in either direction. The return portion of the round trip may be made any time up to 30 days from the date the ticket is purchased. Children under 12 years of age may travel at half the new fares. The reduced fares are not valid for north-south travel between Philadelphia and Washington alone. Full information on the new reduced round-trip coach fares can be had at any B&O ticket office.

Here's how the new bargain round-trip fares between Cumberland and principal other points on the B&O system with regular fares (exclusive of tax):

To	New Fare	Present Fare	Saving
Philadelphia	$12.60	$18.35	$5.75
Wilmington	11.50	16.95	5.45
Baltimore	8.35	12.46	4.11
Washington	6.65	9.96	3.31
Martinsburg	3.40	5.04	1.64
Connellsville	4.20	6.26	2.06
McKeesport	6.20	9.30	3.10
Pittsburgh	6.75	10.12	3.37

Driver Is Jailed In Default Of Fine

Lawrence Minick, 938 Railroad Street, Duquesne, Pa., was committed to the Allegany County Jail for 30 days yesterday in default of $100.75 fine after he pleaded guilty to four motor vehicle charges.

He was arrested on Route 40 at Clarysville Sunday by Trooper Joseph V. Stakem, who preferred charges in Trial Magistrates Court before Magistrate Donald Mason.

Furloughed Amcelle Spinner Dies From Gunshot Wound

An Amcelle spinner, who has been unemployed for about a month, died yesterday afternoon as a result of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the forehead.

Authorities identified him as Russell George Windemuth, 38, of 70 Cresap Street. Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said that the victim, who had been despondent, left a note to his wife prior to the fatal shooting.

His body was found in the basement of the Windemuth residence by Mrs. Windemuth, who has been employed by the Cumberland Macaroni Company.

City police said that Mrs. Windemuth had left for work at 12:25 p. m. and returned home about 3:30 p. m. and thought her husband was out.

Later when she went to the cellar to check the furnace, authorities said, Mrs. Windemuth found her husband's body. He was reported to have been shot through the forehead and had used a .22 calibre rifle.

Windemuth was said to have been under doctor's care and was despondent. The victim had been employed at the Amcelle plant for 21 years.

City police received a call at headquarters at 3:55 p. m. Lt. James E. Van and Leo E. P. Law, of the Police Detective Bureau, and Officer John Snyder, investigated the case with Dr. Deming. The shooting occurred about 2 p. m. according to authorities.

A native of Cumberland, Windemuth was born September 7, 1915 and was a son of Mrs. Loretta Windemuth and the late George Windemuth. The victim was a member of Local 1874, TWUA.

Surviving besides his mother, are his wife, Mrs. Sylvia Everly Windemuth, a 17-year-old son, Ronald George Windemuth, student at Fort Hill High School; a sister, Mrs. Albert Klavuhn, Clarysville and a brother, Clarence Robert Windemuth, Chambersburg, Pa.

The body is at Hafer's Funeral Home and will be taken to the residence this evening.

City Selects Testing Firm For Bridge

Report Presented On North End Tank

The Mayor and Council yesterday authorized a Pittsburgh testing firm to check materials to be used in the Valley Street Bridge, and heard a report from another testing firm on the construction of the North End water tank.

Following the recommendation of City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, the city authorized the Robert W. Hunt Testing Laboratory, Pittsburgh, to test materials to be used for the span. The cost will be about $1,000.

Nuzum pointed out that the steel must be inspected at the mill and later at the fabricating shop to make sure that it meets all specifications.

Hear Tank Report

Council also heard a report of the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory on the North End water tank, following a visual inspection on March 8.

The report pointed out that the column splice bolts at the leg where the access ladder is attached are not pulled up enough, and that bolts are missing from the ladder splice.

It said the welding appears to be satisfactory but very rough in appearance, and suggested that plugs be cut from several spots to check on the quality of welds.

The roof and inside of the tank were not checked, the report said, since the access ladder had not been attached when the inspection was made. It added the shell was noticeably out of round.

Nuzum later said he asked for the inspection as a guide toward making final approval of the tank, when all of the work is completed.

Resolution Filed

He said the check made was "only a visual inspection" and that it was not a bad report.

Ordered filed was a resolution from the Route 40 Association, which asked that the State Roads Commission build a Class 1 highway from Hancock to the Pennsylvania line, and abandon its overhead expressway plan for Cumberland and allow Route 40 to follow its historic route through the Narrows.

Finance Commissioner William V. Keegan moved for approval, but Mayor Roy W. Eves said the motion called only for filing.

Washington Co. Court To Get Democrat Clerk

Judge Mish To Swear In Merlin Snyder

HAGERSTOWN, Md., March 15 (AP) — Washington County finally gets a clerk of court tomorrow—after a death, a three-judge squabble and a resignation.

Judge Joseph D. Mish said G. Merlin Snyder, in the clerk's office for 30 years and who has been serving as acting clerk, will be sworn in tomorrow.

Snyder became acting clerk when John R. R. Black resigned after serving four days. Black had been the first GOP clerk in the county in years, being appointed by Judges George Henderson and Morgan C. Harris of Cumberland, both Republicans.

Mish, a Hagerstown Democrat, had recommended Snyder or another deputy, who also had 30 years experience, to fill the vacancy caused by J. Guy Weagley's death.

The appointment of Black, a member of the county liquor board, touched off a dispute among the judges. But Black was sworn in Feb. 4—Judge Mish not attending the ceremonies.

Four days later, Black said a physical examination disclosed a heart condition, and he stepped down from the clerkship.

Judge Mish said he was swearing in Snyder with Judge Henderson's approval.

Ridgeley Plans Meeting Tonight On Flood Plan

Joint Conference Set Wednesday

A mass meeting will be held in Ridgeley High School tonight at 7:30 o'clock to discuss the future of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection Project.

Robert L. Wadsworth, Washington, chief of the Reports and Planning branch of the Corps of Engineers, Washington District, will attend.

Cumberland will be represented by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and C. R. Nuzum, city engineer.

Wadsworth is expected to outline the plans of the Corps of Engineers for both the immediate and the long-range future of the work.

Joint Meeting Need

Yesterday morning, the Ridgeley Town Council, with J. H. Simmons, adviser, and J. W. Aldridge, a member of the Ridgeley Flood Control committee, met with the Mayor and Council of Cumberland.

During the discussion, it was pointed out that there has been no essential change in the flood control program as it was outlined in 1945, and that the minor changes do not affect the height of flood walls and levees which will protect both Cumberland and Ridgeley from floods.

Simmons read a letter he received from the Corps of Engineers, assuring the community that the corps is keeping the overall protection plan in mind during the construction, that plans call for no change in overall plans or scheduling and that when completed, the project will give Ridgeley the same protection as is planned for Cumberland.

Conference Planned

Wadsworth will also attend a joint meeting of Cumberland and Ridgeley councils at City Hall Wednesday at 10 a. m.

Additional information on the plans of the Corps of Engineers for phases to get under way this year may be revealed at the meetings.

At present, the E. J. Albrecht is completing one phase of Wills Creek channel work and is speeding the Industrial Dam toward completion. The West Side flood wall contract is to be let next month, and there is a possibility of starting a river levee this year.

Morning Fire Destroys Farm House

Claude DuVall's Home Is Gutted

High winds and the lack of a water supply hampered Flintstone volunteer firemen, who unsuccessfuly attempted to save the home of an area resident, which was destroyed by fire yesterday morning.

Flames spread quickly enveloping the frame farm house of Cloude DuVall, located one mile east of Rush on Williams Road.

DuVall, the father of six children, is an employe of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. The blaze started about 8:40 a. m., firemen reported and five members of the company battled the blaze with 10 other volunteers in the area.

Nearly all of the furnishings of the farm house were saved although the building was destroyed in the blaze which was fought until 11 a. m.

High winds and the lack of an ample supply of water hampered the efforts of the firemen in bringing the blaze under control. On the scene was J. E. Mullenax, president of the Flintstone company and acting fire chief.

Cause of the blaze was believed to have been a faulty flue in the frame structure.

Local Man Paroled After Disturbance

Donald Cavey, 24, of 123 Roberts Street, received a suspended sentence of 90 days in the County Jail yesterday when he pleaded guilty in Trial Magistrates Court to a charge of disorderly conduct.

The charge was filed following a disturbance March 9 in the South End Candy Kitchen, Virginia Avenue.

Magistrate Donald Mason paroled Cavey for three years on condition he stay away from the place in which the disturbance occurred, refrain from drinking, seek employment and be of good behavior.

Justice Douglas Answers Kenny's Letter On Canal

Cites His Theories On Planned Parkway

Francis A. Kenny, 802 Trost Avenue, who recently wrote to Justice William O. Douglas, explaining the justification of the building of the C&O Canal Parkway, received an answer yesterday from the Supreme Court justice.

In a brief response to Kenny's letter, Justice Douglas answered, "I have your letter of March 9th concerning the proposed parkway along the C&O Canal. I read your letter with interest and appreciate receiving your views. Yours faithfully, W. O. Douglas."

Enclosed with Douglas' response was a statement of his views on the canal as given to the Washington Post which precipitated the challenge of the Post's editors resulting in the planned hike along the canalway by Douglas and a group of hikers for Washington from Cumberland. The hikers will leave Cumberland Saturday.

Kenny in his letter had pointed out the advantages of the parkway, especially as a national defense project providing egress from Washington or Baltimore to the relatively safe sanctuary of the mountains in case of atomic attack.

Kenny, manager of the Cumberland Department of Employment Security, also pointed out the economic benefits the local stricken area would receive from the tourist trade that the parkway would channel here.

Douglas, in his criticism of the parkway, told newsmen the area should be developed to promote recreational values, it is a bridle path unequalled in beauty, it could provide a cycle way for long trips, it was a wilderness for people who like to hike with isolated camp sites along the way, it could be restored as a famed canoe waterway, it's primitive character could be retained and the area is easily accessible by present roadways.

The Weather

Ol' Man Winter really had local and area residents puzzled yesterday with the combination of high wind, snow flurries and sunshine. Highways in the Grantsville area last night were reported slick and chains were recommended by Maryland State Police. West Virginia Police said Route 50 east and west of Romney were clear although snow was reported in the mountain sections of Elkins. Pennsylvania State Police said the vicinity of Somerset and Laurel were icy. The high temperature in Cumberland yesterday was 33 with a low of 26 degrees and at 8 p. m. the mercury stood at 29 degrees. Forecast for today is fair with the mercury slated to be in the 30.

Emmanuel To Show Film On St. Paul

A film on the life of St. Paul will be shown at the 7:30 p. m. service Thursday at Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Rev. H. Maunsell Richardson, the rector, announced that the film will be shown in place of a sermon. The Litany will be read during the Lenten service.

A discussion group will meet in the Parish House following the service. "The Worship of The Church" will be the subject.

Many Motorists Of Area Attend Safety Movie Here

At least 60 persons attended the showing of a 12-minute safety movie, "Motor Mania," last night in the City Police Court Room in local headquarters.

Due to the large number in attendance the film had to be shown twice. On Monday evening March 22, the film will again be shown in the auditorium of City Hall, according to John J. Long, Commissioner of Police and Firemen.

The movie, Long added, is being held in cooperation with Paul Burke, chairman of Governor McKeldin's State Highway Safety Committee, who is inaugurating a local safety drive with the aim of reducing automobile accidents on local highways and streets.

Everyone is invited to attend the movie, Long added. Also cooperating in the film showing are Lt. William E. O'Hara, commander of LaVale Barracks of the Maryland State Police; Commissioner Long; Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn and Trial Magistrates Donald W. Mason and J. Milton Dick.

Long pointed out that in January of this year, there was a total of 31 traffic deaths in the State of Maryland. These traffic accidents, aside from the human misery involved, represent an economic loss to the State of $2,945,000.00. Each person atending the movie is given a driving handbook, a summary of rules for safe driving.

Heavy Invalid Saved When House Burns

Small Man Rescues Employer, Wife In Sang Run Blaze

A slightly-built Garrett County farm hand was credited by Oakland firemen with saving the lives of his 260-pound invalid employer and the employer's wife when flames consumed the frame dwelling of the couple in below freezing weather yesterday morning.

Roy Dillworth, about 32, dragged the helpless farmer, Rell Friend, about 70, from the burning building to safety after leading Mrs. Friend who is 69 out of the house. This followed discovery of the blaze in an upstairs room of the two-story, eight-room dwelling at Sang Run, about 18 miles from Oakland.

Oakland Fire Chief Emroy Bolden said the alarm was received about 9:50 a. m. with 12 volunteer firemen responding to the call and firemen arrived at the scene 18 miles away some 25 minutes later after traveling through blustery winds, blowing snow and over deep-rutted country roads to the scene.

House Enveloped In Flames

Bolden said the house was enveloped in flames when firemen arrived and nothing could be done to save the building. However, fast, competent work by the firemen kept the fire from spreading to nearby buildings in the raw, cold and windy weather. Saved by the firemen were a meat smoke house and large barn which housed the Friends' cattle.

Authorities said Dillworth, answering a call for help from Mrs. Friend who had discovered the fire, ran from the barn where he was feeding the cattle and entered the burning building.

Mrs. Friend, it was learned later, had heard a noise upstairs as she was in the kitchen preparing the morning meal. When she went up the stairway to investigate she was met with a wall of flame, firemen stated.

Returning to the front porch, Mrs. Friend called Dillworth, who responded immediately. Upon his arrival at the house Dillworth discovered Mrs. Friend had re-entered the home, apparently in an effort to save her husband and some of their belongings.

Returns For Employer

She was partially overcome by smoke from the flames which already were beginning to burn downstairs walls. Dillworth led Mrs. Friend out of the house to safety and returned to get his employer who was bedfast with an arthritic ailment in a downstairs rear bedroom.

After dragging Friend from the house the 140-pound Dillworth put the aged couple in a nearby smoke house to protect them from the bitter cold and raw blustery winds. Friend was clad only in a nightshirt, firemen said.

Dillworth then ran a half-mile to a store owned by Mrs. Mary Hinebaugh, who notified firemen and called neighbors in the area to assist the beleaguered family. The hired man then returned to the farmhouse with blankets to be wrapped around Friend to keep the elderly man warm.

Son Burned In Rescue Attempt

Meanwhile the smoke house roof had caught fire from the wind-blown flames and Dillworth had to move the couple to the barn and from there to a station wagon brought to the scene by a neighbor.

Firemen said a son of the Friend couple, Martin Friend, about 50, who is employed at the Pennsylvania Electric Company's power plant at Deep Creek Lake dam, hurried home when the alarm spread and thinking his parents were trapped in the house entered the building to save them. He was promptly rescued by firemen, but not before being burned about the face, neck and hands.

The Friends lived in their modest home with their son and a daughter, Miss Mary Martha Friend, who was not at home at the time of the fire. The couple were taken to the home of another daughter Mrs. Doris Rodeheaver who lives nearby after both were treated for shock and slight exposure.

Dillworth, who only recently moved into the Sang Run area, lives about 1½ miles from the 90-acre Friend farm and is the father of 10 children.

Harold D. Brooks Files For House Of Delegates Post

Harold D. Brooks, 263 National Highway, LaVale, yesterday officially filed his certificate as candidate for Republican nomination to the House of Delegates with the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors.

Brooks, who had earlier announced his intention to file thus became the 19th candidate to file for county office subject to the June 28 Republican primary.

Two other Allegany County residents have filed for House of Delegates nomination, Mrs. Margaret E. Spioch, 507 Patterson Avenue and Robert Lee Jeffry, Detmold. Delegates Charles M. See and Lester B. Reed have announced their intention to seek re-election to the House of Delegates in the Republican primary but have not yet filed.

Deadline for filing for the primary is April 19.
